The Pirates of Panama; Or, the Buccaneers of America John Esquemeling, 2009-04 Alexandre Olivier Exquemelin also spelled Esquemeling Exquemeling or Oexmelin and who also wrote as John Esquemeling c 1645 1707 was a French writer Born about 1645 it is likely that he was a native of Harfleur France who on his return from buccaneering

settled in Holland possibly because he was a Huguenot In 1666 he was engaged by the French West India Company and went to Tortuga where he stayed for three years There he enlisted with the buccaneers in particular with the band of Henry Morgan whose confidante he was probably as a barber surgeon and remained with them until 1674 Shortly afterwards he returned to Europe but he was later once again in the Caribbean as his name appears on the muster roll as a surgeon in the attack on Cartagena in 1697 Exquemelin is most known as the author of one of the most important sourcebooks of seventeenth century piracy first published in Dutch as De Americaensche Zee Roovers in Amsterdam Jan ten Hoorn in 1678 The bibliographic legacy of Exquemelin s History of the Bouccaneers of America is complex It has rightly been said that perhaps no book of the seventeenth century in any language was ever the parent of so many imitations and the source of so much fiction

Excerpt It was a dismal sodden morning with heavy clouds banked in the western sky Rain had sloshed down since midnight so that the gutter in front of me was a turbid little river A chill wind swept across the city and penetrated to the marrow From the summit of the hill three blocks above me my car was sliding down but I clung to the curb to postpone until the last moment a plunge into the flowing street Since I was five and twenty in tip top health and Irish by descent I whistled while the windswept drops splashed the shine from my shoes Rain or sun twas a good little old world though faith I could have wished it a less humdrum one For every morning I waited at that same time and place for the same car to take me to my desk in the offices of Kester Wilcox and every day I did the same sort of routine grubbing in preparation 8 of cases for more experienced lawyers to handle Sometimes it flashed across me that I was a misfit Nature had cast me for the part of a soldier of fortune and instead I was giving my services to help a big corporation escape the payment of damages for accidents caused by its cars I had turned my back on the romance of life Well it was the penalty one must pay to win success
