Language and Politics Noam Chomsky, 2004 An indispensable guide through the work of the world's most influential living intellectual The Oxford Handbook of the History of Terrorism Carola Dietze, Claudia Verhoeven, 2022 The Oxford Handbook of the History of Terrorism presents a re-evaluation of the major narratives in the history of terrorism exploring the emergence and the use of terrorism in world history from antiquity up to the twenty-first century The volume presents terrorism as a historically specific form of political violence that was generated by modern Western culture and then transported around the globe where it interacted with and was transformed in accordance with local conditions It offers cogent arguments and well-documented case studies that support a reading of terrorism as a modern phenomenon as well as sustained analyses of the challenges involved in the application of the theories and practices of modernity and terrorism to non-Western parts of the world both for historical actors and academic commentators Reflections on Architecture, Society and Politics Graham Cairns, 2016-10-04 Reflections on Architecture Society and Politics brings together a series of thirteen interview articles by Graham Cairns in collaboration with some of the most prominent polemic thinkers and critical practitioners from the fields of architecture and the social sciences including Noam Chomsky Peggy Deamer Robert A M Stern Daniel Libeskind and Kenneth Frampton Each chapter explores the relationship between architecture and socio-political issues through discussion of architectural theories and projects citing specific issues and themes that have led to and will shape the various aspects of the current and future built environment Ranging from Chomsky's examination of the US Mexico border as the architecture of oppression to Robert A M Stern's defence of projects for the Disney corporation and George W Bush this book places politics at the center of issues within contemporary architecture Intellectual Citizenship and the Problem of Incarnation Peter Eglin, 2012-11-08 Who has the right to know asks Jean Francois Lyotard Who has the right to eat asks Peter Madaka Wanyama This book asks what does it mean to be a responsible academic in a northern university given the incarnate connections between the university's operations and death and suffering elsewhere Through studies of the neoliberal university in Ontario the imperial university in relation to East Timor the chauvinist university in relation to El Salvador and the gendered university in relation to the Montreal Massacre the author challenges himself and the reader to practice intellectual citizenship everywhere from the classroom to the university commons to the street Peter Eglin argues that the moral imperative to do so derives from the concept of incarnation Here the idea of incarnation is removed from its Christian context and replaced with a political economic interpretation of the embodiment of exploited labor This embodiment is presented through the material goods that link the many's compromised right to eat with the privileged few's right to know      Words of Crisis as Words of Power Marta Neüff, 2018-05-15 The volume explores crisis rhetoric in contemporary U S American presidential speechmaking Rhetorical leadership constitutes an inherent feature of the modern presidency Particularly during times of critical events the president is expected to react and address the nation However the power of the office also allows him or her to direct attention to particular topics and thus rhetorically create or exploit the notion of crisis This monograph examines the verbal responses of George W Bush and Barack Obama to pressing issues during their terms in office Assuming an interdisciplinary approach it illuminates the characteristics of modern crisis rhetoric The aim of the book is to show that elements of Puritan rhetoric and specifically the tradition of the jeremiad although taken out of their original context and modified to suit a modern multiethnic society can still be detected in contemporary political communication It will be of interest to students and scholars of presidential rhetoric political communication sociolinguistics and cultural studies      My Father Was a Freedom Fighter Ramzy Baroud, 2009-12-09 This book is a personal account of the daily lives of the people of the frontline of the Palestine Israel conflict giving us an insight into the deadly seemingly never ending rounds of violence Ramzy Baroud tells his father's fascinating story Driven out of his village to a refugee camp he took up arms and fought the occupation at the same time raising a family and trying to do the best for his children Baroud's vivid and honest account reveals the complex human beings revolutionaries great moms and dads lovers and comedians that make Gaza so much more than just a disputed territory      Middle East Illusions Noam Chomsky, 2003 Discusses the history of the ongoing conflict between Israel and Palestine the involvement of the United States in the peace process and the changing face of terrorism in the twenty first century      New Beginning in US-Muslim Relations Eugenio Lilli, 2016-06-01 This book carries out a comparative study of the US response to popular uprisings in the Middle East as an evaluation of President Barack Obama's foreign policy commitments In 2009 Obama publicly pledged a new beginning in US Muslim relations causing eager expectation of a clear shift in US foreign policy after the election of the 44th president of the United States However the achievement of such a shift was made particularly difficult by the existence of multiple and sometimes conflicting US interests in the region which influenced the Obama administration's response to the popular uprisings in five Muslim majority countries Egypt Bahrain Yemen Libya and Syria After providing a detailed analysis of the traditional features of both US foreign policy rhetoric and practice this book turns its focus to the Obama administration's response to the 2011 Arab Awakening to determine whether Obama's foreign policy has indeed brought about a new beginning in US Muslim relations      Humanitarian Intervention and the Hermeneutics of Suspicion and Naïveté Dimitrios E. Akrivoulis, 2025-08-01 This book uses Paul Ricoeur's hermeneutic phenomenology of suspicion and naïveté to shift the focus of the ideology of humanitarian intervention from the distorting Marxism realism and legitimizing social constructivism to the integrating function of this ideology In this context the book examines the ideological functions of the social imaginary pursuant to NATO's 1999 intervention in Kosovo a turning point in the development of humanitarian intervention It will be of great interest to those researching in the fields of International Relations Political Theory and humanitarian intervention

Green Is the New Red Will Potter, 2011-04-12 At a time when everyone is going green most people are unaware that the FBI is using anti terrorism resources to target environmentalists and animal rights activists The courts are being used to push conventional boundaries of what constitutes terrorism and to hit nonviolent activists with disproportionate sentences Some have faced terrorism charges for simply chalking slogans on the sidewalk Like the Red Scare this Green Scare is about fear and intimidation using a word eco terrorist to push a political agenda instill fear and silence dissent The animal rights and environmental movements directly threaten corporate profits every time activists encourage people to go vegan to stop driving to consume fewer resources and live simply Their boycotts are damaging and corporations and the politicians who represent them know it In many ways the Green Scare like the Red Scare can be seen as a culture war a war of values Will Potter outlines the political legal extra legal and public relations strategies that are being used to threaten even acts of nonviolent civil disobedience with the label of terrorism Here is a guided tour into the world of radical activism that introduces the real people behind the headlines and tells the story of how everyday people are being prevented from speaking up for what they believe in Potter a contributor to The Next Eco Warriors warns that the U S government is using post 9 11 anti terrorism resources to target environmentalists and animal right activists in some cases for doing nothing but speaking up Potter warns of the crumbling of the legal wall separating terrorist from dissident or undesirable and concludes his account with a call to action and a decry of the injustice that results in the terrorist label being put on those who threaten American corporate interests Alarming Publishers Weekly In this hard hitting debut journalist Potter likens the Justice Department targeting of environmentalists today to McCarthyism in the 1950s A shocking expos of judicial overreach Kirkus Reviews Starred review Will Potter is an award winning reporter who has written for publications including the Chicago Tribune the Dallas Morning News and Legal Affairs and has testified before the U S Congress about his reporting He is the creator of www GreenIsTheNewRed com where he blogs about the Green Scare
