Pitmans Anthology:

Coal in Victorian Britain, Part I, Volume 1 John Benson, Quentin Outram, 2024-08-01 Coal is a topic that has been remains and will continue to be of significant interest to those concerned with the causes course and consequences of industrialization and de industrialization This six volume reset collection provides scholars with a wide variety of sources relating to the Victorian coal industry

Miners' Lung Arthur McIvor, Ronald Johnston, 2016-04-22 Arthur McIvor and Ronald Johnston explore the experience of coal miners lung diseases and the attempts at voluntary and legal control of dusty conditions in British mining from the late nineteenth century to the present In this way the book addresses the important issues of occupational health and safety within the mining industry issues that have been severely neglected in studies of health and safety in general The authors examine the prevalent diseases notably pneumoconiosis emphysema and bronchitis and evaluate the roles of key players such as the doctors management and employers the state and the trade unions Throughout the book the integration of oral testimony helps to elucidate the attitudes of workers and victims of disease their machismo work culture and socialisation to very high levels of risk on the job as well as how and why ideas and health mentalities changed over time This research taken together with extensive archive material provides a unique perspective on the nature of work industrial relations the meaning of masculinity in the workplace and the wider social impact of industrial disease disability and death The effects of contracting dust disease are shown to result invariably in seriously prescribed lifestyles and encroaching isolation The book will appeal to those working on the history of medicine industrial relations social history and business history as well as labour history

English Industrial Fiction of the Mid-Nineteenth Century Stephen Knight, 2024-05-07 English Industrial Fiction of the Mid Nineteenth Century discusses the valuable fiction written in mid nineteenth century Britain which represents the situations of the new breed of industrial workers both the mostly male factory workers who operated in the oppressive mills of the midlands and north and in other stories the oppressed seamstresses who worked mostly in London in very poor and low paid conditions Beginning with a general introduction to workers fiction at the start of the period this volume charts the rise of an identifiable genre of industrial fiction and the development of a substantial mode of seamstress fiction through the 1840s including an analysis of novels by Benjamin Disraeli Charles Kingsley Elizabeth Gaskell and Charles Dickens and more briefly Charlotte Bronte Geraldine Jewsbury and George Eliot This volume is essential reading for students and scholars of industrial fiction and nineteenth century Britain or those with an interest in the relationship between literature society and politics
