The story's told
Of long ago

What wilt the world say about our love so unlike the nature?
Let the world anticipate and speak wrong of us,

In the world of Saints
I would have been an Angel.

Napier,2022-11-30 This book discusses the intrusion often inadvertent of personal voice into the poetry of landscape in Britain 1700 1807 It argues that strong conventions such as those that inhere in topographical verse of the period invite original poets to overstep those bounds while also shielding them from the repercussions of self expression Working under cover of convention in this manner and because for many of these poets place is tied in significant ways to personal history poets of place may launch unexpected explorations into memory personhood and the workings of consciousness This book thus supplements past largely political readings of landscape poetry turning to questions of self articulation and self expression in order to argue that the autobiographical impulse is a distinctive and innovative feature of much great eighteenth century poetry of place Among the poets under examination are Pope Thomson Duck Gray Goldsmith Crabbe Cowper Smith and Wordsworth

Poetry in a Global Age Jahan Ramazani, 2020-10-29 Ideas culture and capital flow across national borders with unprecedented speed but we tend not to think of poems as taking part in globalization Jahan Ramazani shows that poetry has much to contribute to understanding literature in an extra national frame Indeed the globality of poetry he argues stands to energize the transnational turn in the humanities Poetry in a Global Age builds on Ramazani's award winning A Transnational Poetics a book that had a catalytic effect on literary studies Ramazani broadens his lens to discuss modern and contemporary poems not only in relation to world literature war and questions of orientalism but also in light of current debates over ecocriticism translation studies tourism and cultural geography He offers brilliant readings of postcolonial poets like Agha Shahid Ali Lorna Goodison and Daljit Nagra as well as canonical modernists such as W B Yeats Wallace Stevens T S Eliot and Marianne Moore Ramazani shows that even when poetry seems locally rooted its long memory of forms and words its connections across centuries continents and languages make it a powerful imaginative resource for a global age This book makes a strong case for poetry in the future development of world literature and global studies The Gospel Message in
