the countryside or factories with the expectation that through immersion in the life of workers and peasants they would be remade as culture workers whose writing could serve the communist project Their cultural labor would not merely reflect or represent the process of building socialism it would actively participate in it by excavating the contradictions and challenges of the ongoing reorganization of social relations Benjamin Kindler examines how writing transformed the Chinese Revolution even as the revolution remade what it meant to write He argues that the revolution sought in unparalleled ways to overcome the basic division between those who write and those who work This book combines close readings of a wide range of texts from the works of established figures to the writings of amateur workers drawn from the factory floor with analysis of Chinese socialist political economy Far from being drab instances of state propaganda these texts and cultural experiments were lively and inventive attempts to determine what a different more equal society might look like Offering new ways to understand cultural production as a material embodied process this book reconsiders the role of art and literature in radical politics

Voices of Experience Janet Giannotti, 2015-03-16 This book is a collection of strategies and tips collected through a survey of 80 practicing ESL professionals as well as a series of conversations with the author's colleagues. The book reveals teachers' motivations for choosing certain techniques. A unique feature of the book is the thinking that underlies teachers' choices in terms of how they manage their classroom. Voices of Experience was designed and written with teachers in training and seasoned professionals in mind; the book would be used differently by each. The book has five units: The Classroom Environment, Lesson Planning, Pair and Group Work, Classroom Interactions, and Classroom Trouble Spots. Each unit has two or three chapters that discuss the survey responses and relevant quotes from participants. Each unit concludes with a Connections section that features Challenging Beliefs What Teachers Think, which presents a statement for readers to respond to and compare their responses to others who completed the survey; Classroom Connections What Teachers Do, which lists reflection or discussion questions; Strategies and Motivations What Teachers Say, which presents more quotes from respondents, particularly those that look at what's behind teachers' choices. These too could be used for reflection or discussion.
