Cartesian Empiricisms Mihnea Dobre, Tammy Nyden, 2013-11-29 Cartesian Empiricisms considers the role Cartesians played in the acceptance of experiment in natural philosophy during the seventeenth century It aims to correct a partial image of Cartesian philosophers as paradigmatic system builders who failed to meet challenges posed by the new science s innovative methods Studies in this volume argue that far from being strangers to experiment many Cartesians used and integrated it into their natural philosophies Chapter 1 reviews the historiographies of early modern philosophy science and Cartesianism and their recent critiques The first part of the volume explores various Cartesian contexts of experiment the impact of French condemnations of Cartesian philosophy in the second half of the seventeenth century the relation between Cartesian natural philosophy and the Parisian academies of the 1660s the complex interplay between Cartesianism and Newtonianism in the Dutch Republic the Cartesian influence on medical teaching at the University of Duisburg and the challenges chemistry posed to the Cartesian theory of matter The second part of the volume examines the work of particular Cartesians such as Henricus Regius Robert Desgabets Jacques Rohault Burchard de Volder Antoine Le Grand and Balthasar Bekker Together these studies counter scientific revolution narratives that take rationalism and empiricism to be two mutually exclusive epistemological and methodological paradigms The volume is thus a helpful instrument for anyone interested both in the histories of early modern philosophy and science as well as for scholars interested in new evaluations of the historiographical tools that framed our traditional narratives

Causation and Cognition in Early Modern Philosophy Dominik Perler, Sebastian Bender, 2019-07-23 This book re-examines the roles of causation and cognition in early modern philosophy The standard historical narrative suggests that early modern thinkers abandoned Aristotelian models of formal causation in favor of doctrines that appealed to relations of efficient causation between material objects and cognizers This narrative has been criticized in recent scholarship from at least two directions Scholars have emphasized that we should not think of the Aristotelian tradition in such monolithic terms and that many early modern thinkers did not unequivocally reduce all causation to efficient causation In line with this general approach this book features original essays written by leading experts in early modern philosophy It is organized around five guiding questions What are the entities involved in causal processes leading to cognition What type s or kinds of causality are at stake Are early modern thinkers confined to efficient causation or do other types of causation play a role What is God's role in causal processes leading to cognition How do cognitive causal processes relate to other non cognitive causal processes Is the causal process in the case of human cognition in any way special How does it relate to processes involved in the case of non human cognition The essays explore how fifteen early modern thinkers answered these questions Francisco Suarez René Descartes Louis de la Forge Géraud de Cordemoy Nicolas Malebranche Thomas Hobbes Baruch de Spinoza Gottfried Wilhelm Leibniz Ralph Cudworth Margaret Cavendish John Locke John Sergeant George Berkeley David Hume and Thomas Reid The volume is unique in that it explores both well known and understudied historical figures and in that it emphasizes the intimate relationship between causation and cognition to open up new perspectives on early modern philosophy of mind and metaphysics

The Kingdom of Darkness Dmitri Levitin, 2022-03-31 This transformative account of early modern intellectual life culminates with new interpretations of two of its leading minds Pierre Bayle and Isaac Newton

Pierre-Daniel Huet (1630-1721) and the Sceptics of his Time José R. Maia Neto, 2022-06-28 This book offers a detailed and scholarly historical and philosophical examination of French scepticism from Descartes to the beginning of the Enlightenment by examining the views of Pierre Daniel Huet 1630 1721 It shows the crucial role played by Huet in the modification of the early modern sceptical tradition from a practical perspective closer to ancient scepticism mostly presented by Montaigne and Charron to an epistemological and metaphysical perspective strongly influenced by Descartes's doubt The book examines and gives original interpretations of the various sceptical and semi sceptical views held in the period and their connections to Huet's own scepticism Besides known philosophers such as Descartes Gassendi Pascal and Bayle the book also accesses sceptical views held by secondary figures such as La Mothe Le Vayer and Simon Foucher and others who have not thus far been connected to the sceptical tradition such as Jean Baptiste du Hamel and Madeleine de Scudéry The book is useful for scholars in the field of early modern ideas philosophical religious and scientific
