Poetry to Ponder Diane Hicks White,2009-08-10 My poetry can best be described as a personal journey lived through depression From childhood through adulthood I have existed with depression I have always enjoyed reading and so with reading the idea of writing poetry came to mind Being able to express my emotions has played a big part on my road to recovery Seeing people like myself has helped me give more understanding of how depression affects the mind Through my poetry I have been able to talk of these emotions through faith in others who have helped me and through my faith in God who has never left me I try to end my poetry not in negativity but with a purposeful emotion that will give the reader hope a hope that he or she will someday reach that pinnacle in their lives that will help them to see beyond that hopelessness of depression Diane Hicks White 2007 Civilization and the Transformation of Power Jim Garrison,2000-09-01

Civilization And The Transformation Of Power is an absorbing provocative scintillating account of the interiors of western history Jim Garrison is one of the great visionaries of our time and his account not only traces the rise of western culture it points beyond it to a more integral gracious compassionate world drawing on the best of East and West feminine and masculine to paint a picture of a more caring tomorrow Ken Wilbur author of A Brief History Of Everything Reflections on Learning, Life and Work Maureen Ryan,2012-10-26 This book records the stories of doctoral study experiences of the twenty two writers These research degree experiences are embedded in the lives and careers of the writers and the twenty two distinctive projects draw from those individual lives and careers The authors write about meeting the continuing demands of older and younger family members and of their struggles with ill health and work place demands while working through their studies There is also the joy of coming to see themselves and being seen as research scholars and supporting and celebrating with others as they move through candidature proposals and ethics applications to graduation Apart from the stories that bring the writers to their particular projects and that colour their individual journeys storying methodology is most often selected for the research all of which is undertaken within the arts humanities and education Phenomenology narrative ethnography are central to most of the studies and the detailed accounts of each research topic methods and outcomes locate each of the research projects in rich bodies of knowledge Valued writers and readers in these fields Mary Beattie and Elaine Martin have read each reflection and provided in turn a foreword and an afterword which bookend the volume and further enrich these reflections on learning life and work
