Reflections On A Workplace Visit

This email was written from one pastor to his mentor, reflecting on the power of visiting congregants at work.

Workplace Visit

I've often thought about visiting congregants at work. I think I was Steve Garber who encouraged pastors to spend time in their congregants' places of work. He suggested that maybe 30 minutes prior to a lunch appointment with someone, we should meet at his/her place of work, get a tour, ask lots of questions, and get a sense of what they do all day every day. After all, Garber said, each our congregants spend upwards of 2 hours a week at our place of work (worship, midweek, prayer meeting etc.) watching us do what we do.

Reflections From The Workplace:

Reflections for the Workplace Bruce N. Hyland, Merle J. Yost, 1997 All of us want our work life to be successful and rewarding Yet there are common challenges that everyone faces and most of us are unsure how to handle What do you do when you notice your coworker not doing his fair share you assume you know what your boss wants needs and expects and you re wrong you have to do a task at work and you don t know how you didn t get along with your old boss and you need a reference for a new job what do you do Reflections for the Workplace shows you how to deal gracefully with workplace problems and make the most of your opportunities

Reflections from the Workplace Rex P. Gatto, 1995-12-01 This book is for everyone interested in the dynamics of the workplace Its message and insights are particularly appropriate for personal development human resources development workshops work related counseling and business development and change workshops This book will get people talking about how the workplace affects them The reflections provide organizational and individual insights

Practicing Critical Reflection in Social Care Organisations Jan Fook, 2021-09-09 This book explores concrete examples of different strategies and activities aimed at creating and embedding critically reflective learning and working environments within organisations whose prime function is social care Critical reflection has long been recommended as a general professional skill and is a core component of the practice capabilities in social work in countries across the Western world However despite unequivocal support for it in social work education sustaining critical reflection within organisations as both an individual and collective practices supported by organisational cultures is problematic With contributions from social work practitioners and educators who have sought to embed critical reflection into broader activities and cultures within their organizations the book addresses common features of critical reflection and challenges and benefits in specific case studies This book will inspire and develop new thinking and vision about being critically reflective in organisations and facilitate efforts to improve the learning and working experience in addition to that of service quality and delivery It will be required reading for all undergraduate and postgraduate social work modules focusing on management leadership organizational change and professional education
