Reframing Of Realism:

The Reframing of Realism Hazel Gold, 1993 In the writing of Benito Pérez Galdós Spain's most prolific and innovative nineteenth century novelist Hazel Gold finds the act of framing insistently at work By exploring Galdós's methods of structuring and evaluating literary and historical experience Gold illuminates the novelist's art and uncovers the far reaching narratological social and epistemological implications of his framing strategies A close look at Galdós's novels reveals the artist at pains to contain and interpret what he perceived to be the distinctive and often disheartening experience of bourgeois liberalism of his day Looking beyond text to context Gold examines the ways in which Galdós's work itself has been framed by readers and critics in accordance with changing allegiances to contemporary literary theory and the canon The highly ambiguous status of the frame in Galdós's fiction confirms the author's own signal position as a writer poised at the limits between realism and modernity

Sounding Authentic Joshua S. Walden, 2014 Sounding Authentic considers the intersecting influences of nationalism modernism and technological innovation on representations of ethnic and national identities in twentieth century art music Author Joshua S. Walden discusses these forces through the prism of what he terms the rural miniature short violin and piano pieces based on folk song and dance styles This genre mostly inspired by the folk music of Hungary the Jewish diaspora and Spain was featured frequently on recordings and performance programs in the early twentieth century Furthermore Sounding Authentic shows how the music of urban Romany ensembles developed into nineteenth century repertoire of virtuosic works in the style hongrois before ultimately influencing composers of rural miniatures Walden persuasively demonstrates how rural miniatures represented folk and rural cultures in a manner that was perceived as authentic even while they involved significant modification of the original sources He also links them to the impulse toward realism in developing technologies of photography film and sound recording Sounding Authentic examines the complex ways the rural miniature was used by makers of nationalist agendas who sought folkloric authenticity as a basis for the construction of ethnic and national identities The book also considers the genre's reception in European diaspora communities in America where it evoked and transformed memories of life before immigration and traces how many rural miniatures were assimilated to the styles of American popular song and swing Scholars interested in musicology ethnography the history of violin performance twentieth century European art music the culture of the Jewish Diaspora and more will find Sounding Authentic an essential addition to their library

Postcolonial Historical Materialism Filippo Menozzi, 2025-03-27 Through a reappraisal of the work of four major figures in critical theory Ernst Bloch Georg Lukács Theodor Adorno and Walter Benjamin Filippo

Menozzi rethinks the tradition of critical theory in relation to pressing concerns in postcolonial studies. Revealing these authors' continued relevance to urgent issues in the 21st century from struggles against racism to social movements and the transmutations of global capitalism, Menozzi reimagines them as central to an alternative genealogy of critical theory that moves beyond their European provenance and the limitations of Western Marxism. In doing so, this book challenges more broadly the view of critical theory as steeped in Eurocentrism, culturally conservative and politically defeatist. Contesting this in four chapters, Postcolonial Historical Materialism inserts Adorno, Lukács, Bloch, and Benjamin into key contemporary sites of militancy and debate. Engaging with a wide range of European and non-European sources, Menozzi proposes a new concept of postcolonial historical materialism, indicating how the heritage of critical theory can reopen global possibilities of utopia and revolution in a non-utopian age of global emergencies, social unrest, and the unfinished history of decolonisation.

Reframing Difference Carrie Tarr, 2005-09-17 This is the first major study of two overlapping strands of contemporary French cinema: cinéma beur films by young directors of Maghrebi immigrant origin and cinéma de banlieue films set in France's disadvantaged outer city estates. Carrie Tarr's insightful account draws on a wide range of films from directors such as Mehdi Charef, Mathieu Kassowitz, and Djamel Bensalah. Foregrounding such issues as the quest for identity, the negotiation of space, and the recourse to memory and history, she argues that these films challenge and reframe the symbolic spaces of French culture, addressing issues of ethnicity and difference which are central to today's debates about what it means to be French.

Reframing Organizations Lee G. Bolman, Terrence E. Deal, 2017-07-24 Set aside trends to focus on the fundamentals of great leadership. Reframing Organizations provides time-tested guidance for more effective organizational leadership. Rooted in decades of social science research across multiple disciplines, Bolman and Deal's four frame model has continued to evolve since its conception over 25 years ago; this new sixth edition has been updated to include coverage of cross-sector collaboration, generational differences, virtual environments, globalization, sustainability, and communication across cultures. The Instructor's guide has been expanded to provide additional tools for the classroom, including chapter summary, tip sheets, mini-assessments. Bolman: today's flash in the pan is tomorrow's obsolete strategy, but a leadership framework built on a solid foundation will serve your organization well, no matter what the future holds. Reframing Organizations provides clear guidance and up-to-date insight for anyone facing the challenges of contemporary leadership.

A New Model of Religious Conversion Ines W.

Jindra,2014-02-06 Based on the analysis of 52 conversion narratives to various religious groups A New Model of Religious Conversion utilizes case studies for comparison of converts backgrounds network influence and conversion narratives The author convincingly illustrates a fit between the converts background and the religion they convert to such as between disorganized family backgrounds and highly structured religions Conversely those from highly structured backgrounds often convert to more open groups The book also makes it clear that not all conversions are influenced by networks or align themselves with a social constructivist view of a conversion as an account Taking converts trajectories seriously the author makes a strong case for the application of biographical sociology to the study of conversion and American sociology overall

Wittgenstein's Ethical Thought Y. Iczkovits,2012-07-06 Exploring the ethical dimension of Wittgenstein s thought

Iczkovits challenges the view that Wittgenstein had a vision of language and subsequently a vision of ethics showing how the two are integrated in his philosophical method and allowing us to reframe traditional problems in moral philosophy considered as external to questions of meaning
