Regeln gegen den Krieg? Jost Dülffer, 1981 The 1899 Hague Peace Conference Arthur Eyffinger, Pieter H. Kooijmans, 2025-02-10 An Improbable War? Holger Afflerbach, David Stevenson, 2012 The focus of this volume is not on the consequences but rather on the connection between the Great War and the long 19th century the short and long term causes of World War I The Law of Nations and Britain's Quest for Naval Security Scott Andrew Keefer, 2016-11-13 As the centenary of the Treaty of Versailles approaches this book presents the pre 1914 precursors to the interwar naval arms treaties arising from the peace of 1919 providing a fresh perspective on arms control efforts through an interdisciplinary approach Interweaving historical investigation with legal analysis Scott Keefer traces the British role in the development of naval arms control outlining the pragmatic Foreign Office approaches towards international law By emphasizing what was possible within the existing legal system rather than attempting to create radically powerful international institutions statesmen crafted treaties to exploit the unique pace of naval construction Utilizing previously overlooked archival resources this book investigates how the great powers exploited treaties as elements of national security strategies The result is a fuller analysis of the Hague Peace Conferences Anglo German discussions and lesser known regional agreements from the American Great Lakes to South America and a richer exploration of pre 1914 diplomacy providing insights into how a past generation perceived questions of war and defence Great Britain, International Law, and the Evolution of Maritime Strategic Thought, 1856-1914 Gabriela A. Frei, 2020-04-16 Gabriela A Frei addresses the interaction between international maritime law and maritime strategy in a historical context arguing that both international law and maritime strategy are based on long term state interests Great Britain as the predominant sea power in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries shaped the relationship between international law and maritime strategy like no other power This study explores how Great Britain used international maritime law as an instrument of foreign policy to protect its strategic and economic interests and how maritime strategic thought evolved in parallel to the development of international legal norms Frei offers an analysis of British state practice as well as an examination of the efforts of the international community to codify international maritime law in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Great Britain as the predominant sea power as well as the world's largest carrier of goods had to balance its interests as both a belligerent and a neutral power With the growing importance of international law in international politics the volume examines the role of international lawyers strategists and government officials who shaped state practice Great Britain's neutrality for most of the period between 1856 and 1914 influenced its state practice and its perceptions of a future maritime conflict Yet the codification of international maritime law at the Hague and London conferences at the beginning of the twentieth century demanded a reassessment of Great Britain's legal position One Hundred Years of Chemical Warfare: Research, Deployment, Consequences Bretislav Friedrich, Dieter Hoffmann, Jürgen Renn, Florian

Schmaltz, Martin Wolf, 2017-11-26 This book is open access under a CC BY NC 2.5 license On April 22 1915 the German military released 150 tons of chlorine gas at Ypres Belgium Carried by a long awaited wind the chlorine cloud passed within a few minutes through the British and French trenches leaving behind at least 1 000 dead and 4 000 injured This chemical attack which amounted to the first use of a weapon of mass destruction marks a turning point in world history The preparation as well as the execution of the gas attack was orchestrated by Fritz Haber the director of the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute for Physical Chemistry and Electrochemistry in Berlin Dahlem During World War I Haber transformed his research institute into a center for the development of chemical weapons and of the means of protection against them Bretislav Friedrich and Martin Wolf Fritz Haber Institute of the Max Planck Society the successor institution of Haber's institute together with Dieter Hoffmann Jürgen Renn and Florian Schmaltz Max Planck Institute for the History of Science organized an international symposium to commemorate the centenary of the infamous chemical attack The symposium examined crucial facets of chemical warfare from the first research on and deployment of chemical weapons in WWI to the development and use of chemical warfare during the century hence The focus was on scientific ethical legal and political issues of chemical weapons research and deployment including the issue of dual use as well as the ongoing effort to control the possession of chemical weapons and to ultimately achieve their elimination The volume consists of papers presented at the symposium and supplemented by additional articles that together cover key aspects of chemical warfare from 22 April 1915 until the summer of 2015 The Hague Conferences and International Politics, 1898-1915 Maartje

Abbenhuis, 2018-10-18 Beginning with the extraordinary rescript by Tsar Nicholas II in August 1898 calling the world's governments to a disarmament conference this book charts the history of the two Hague peace conferences of 1899 and 1907 and the third conference of 1915 that was never held using diplomatic correspondence newspaper reports contemporary publications and the papers of internationalist organizations and peace activists Focusing on the international media frenzy that developed around them Maartje Abbenhuis provides a new angle on the conferences Highlighting the conventions that they brought about she demonstrates how The Hague set the tone for international politics in the years leading up to the First World War permeating media reports and shaping the views and activities of key organizations such as the interparliamentary union the international council of women and the Institut de droit international Institute of International Law Based on extensive archival research in the Netherlands Great Britain Switzerland and the United States alongside contemporary publications in a range of languages this book considers the history of the Hague conferences in a new way and presents a powerful case for the importance of The Hague conferences in shaping twentieth century international politics The Oxford Handbook of the History of International Law Bardo Fassbender, Anne Peters, Simone

Peter, Daniel Högger, 2012-11 This handbook provides an authoritative and original overview of the origins of public international law It analyses the modern history of international law from a global perspective and examines the lives of those who were most responsible for shaping it Research Handbook on the International Court of Justice Achilles Skordas, Lisa Mardikian, 2025-03-12 This Research Handbook presents an in depth examination of the International Court of Justice ICJ and its jurisprudence Contributing authors dissect the global governance functions of the ICJ and its impact on national legal orders worldwide The Justification of War and International Order Lothar Brock, Hendrik Simon, 2021 In the past few decades the understanding of the relationship between nations has undergone a radical transformation The role of the traditional nation state is diminishing along with many of the traditional vocabularies which were once used to describe what has been called ever since Jeremy Bentham coined the phrase in 1780 international law The older boundaries between states are growing ever more fluid new conceptions and new languages have emerged which are slowly coming to replace the image of a world of sovereign independent nation states which has dominated the study of international relations since the early nineteenth century This redefinition of the international arena demands a new understanding of classical and contemporary questions in international and legal theory It is the editors conviction that the best way to achieve this is by bridging the traditional divide between international legal theory intellectual history and legal and political history The aim of the series therefore is to provide a forum for historical studies from classical antiquity to the twenty first century that are theoretically informed and for philosophical work that is historically conscious in the hope that a new vision of the rapidly evolving international world its past and its possible future may emerge Book jacket
