renewal Yet we often overlook their real purpose Why do flowers exist and why do they have certain colors shapes and smells What function does a flower have in the life and survival of the plants themselves In nature flowers play an essential role in improving a plant s chances of survival Some flowers are pollinated by wind or water but most are designed to attract and reward pollinators such as bees butterflies birds and bats to carry their pollen from flower to flower After being pollinated flowers produce fruits and again take advantage of wind water and animals to disperse their seeds ensuring a new generation of their species Pollination and seed dispersal are fine tuned systems and their importance in sustaining a healthy environment cannot be overstated And as ongoing climate and other environmental changes apply new pressures flowers must continue to adapt in order to survive In this beautifully illustrated book with over 200 stunning photographs Michael Fogden and Patricia Fogden draw from existing research and their extensive field experiences all over the world to present a detailed but accessible introduction to the natural history of flowers They discuss a representative sample of flowering and fruiting strategies illustrating interactions between plants and their pollinators and dispersers and conclude with descriptions of their favorite tropical flowers

Bliss & Sons,1869 Plant-Animal Communication H. Martin Schaefer,Graeme D. Ruxton,2011-04-07 Communication is an essential factor underpinning the interactions between species and the structure of their communities Plant animal interactions are particularly diverse due to the complex nature of their mutualistic and antagonistic relationships However the evolution of communication and the underlying mechanisms responsible remain poorly understood Plant Animal Communication is a timely summary of the latest research and ideas on the ecological and evolutionary foundations of communication between plants and animals including discussions of fundamental concepts such as deception reliability and camouflage It introduces how the sensory world of animals shapes the various modes of communication employed laying out the basics of vision scent acoustic and gustatory communication Subsequent chapters discuss how plants communicate in these sensory modes to attract animals to facilitate seed dispersal pollination and carnivory and how they communicate to defend themselves against herbivores Potential avenues for productive theoretical and empirical research are clearly identified and suggestions for novel empirical approaches to the study of communication in general are outlined
