intercolonial meeting on the issue of the Stamp Act Nine colonies assembled as an intercolonial congress to deal with the agenda of the Stamp Act of 1765 the Currency Act of 1764 which forbade the colonies to issue any new paper currency and the loss of the right to trial by jury in the Vice Admiralty courts When the Stamp Act Congress convened in New York City New York on October 7 1765 the first event associated with this meeting was that a President of this body Timothy Ruggles was elected to preside over the affairs that were to be conducted by this congress Ruggles thus became the precursor chief executive of a set of Presidents who were subsequently to lead both the First and Second Continental Congresses a decade later A formally elected President of the United States Peyton Randolph came into being when the first functioning central government started with the First Continental Congress that convened in September 5 1774 at Philadelphia Pennsylvania The purpose of the First Continental Congress was to debate the issues that were confronting the colonies under British policies The intent of the sessions was to propose a plan of action in response to the British activities The Second Continental Congress convened in Philadelphia Pennsylvania on May 10 1775 for the purpose of discussing the sovereignty of America In its first action the delegates unanimously elected Peyton Randolph again to be the chief executive of the body The Second Continental Congress was formed for the purpose of obtaining redress from Great Britain of American grievances and to both recover and establish American rights and liberties that would be recognized by England More Presidents were elected in the Second Continental Congress with John Hancock following as the next President The formal sessions ended in October 1788 with Cyrus Griffin being the last elected President of the Continental Congress An interim caretaker government continued under the Secretary of Congress Charles Thomson until March 2 1789 Since George Washington was not inaugurated as the first Constitutional President until April 30 1789 there is a fifteen year period in which the President of the Continental Congress or the Chairman in the role of President pro tempore acted as the chief executive officer and as head of state of the government of the United States Too little credit has been given to the creation of the executive functions and the role of each of the chief executives during this Revolutionary War and post revolutionary period Mostly forgotten in the annals of the history of t Senate Documents United States Senate,1865 The Register of Pennsylvania Samuel Hazard,1828
