Making Of A Black Scholar:

The Making of a Black Scholar Horace A. Porter, 2003 This captivating and illuminating book is a memoir of a young black man moving from rural Georgia to life as a student and teacher in the Ivy League as well as a history of the changes in American education that developed in response to the civil rights movement the war in Vietnam and affirmative action Born in 1950 Horace Porter starts out in rural Georgia in a house that has neither electricity nor running water In 1968 he leaves his home in Columbus Georgia thanks to an academic scholarship to Amherst College and lands in an upper class mainly white world Focusing on such experiences in his American education Porter s story is both unique and representative of his time The Making of a Black Scholar is structured around schools Porter attends Georgia s segregated black schools until he enters the privileged world of Amherst College He graduates spending one semester at Morehouse College and moves on to graduate study at Yale He starts his teaching career at Detroit s Wayne State University and spends the 1980s at Dartmouth College and the 1990s at Stanford University Porter writes about working to establish the first black studies program at Amherst the challenges of graduate study at Yale the infamous Dartmouth Review and his meetings with such writers and scholars as Ralph Ellison Tillie Olsen James Baldwin and Henry Louis Gates Jr He ends by reflecting on an unforeseen move to the University of Iowa which he ties into a return to the values of his childhood on a Georgia farm In his success and the fulfillment of his academic aspirations Porter represents an era a generation of possibility and achievement

Find a Way Or Make One Alma J. Carten, 2021 Clark Atlanta University Whitney M Young Jr School of Social Work was founded in 1920 in Atlanta Georgia as the Atlanta School of Social Work to prepare social workers for practice in underserved black neighborhoods Spearheaded by black scholars and progressive whites during an era of racial segregation 2020 marks its centennial as the first accredited social work program at a historically black college and university In this book social work professor Alma J Carten describes the School s transitions from its beginnings amid the pervasive racism sanctioned by Supreme Court rulings in the Dred Scott and Plessy v Ferguson cases through the decades of 20th century progressive civil rights reforms and into the new conservatism of the 21st century Referencing archival documents Carten illustrates the School s commitment to the democratic principles of the profession despite the blatant racism of the segregated South and the less visible structural inequalities following desegregation from which mainstream social work education was not immune The book describes the influence of iconic thought leaders on the School s culture and academic programs beginning with Jesse O Thomas s speech on the need for a black school of social work given from the segregated section of the 1920 National Conference on Social Work and including W E B DuBois Atlanta

University Studies that pioneered the model of social progress powered by science E Franklin Frazier and Forrester B Washington who championed black social work and the integration of race critical content in the curriculum of all schools and Whitney M Young Jr who chastised social workers for their waning interest in advocacy for marginalized populations and encouraged them to become politically active Carten examines the evolution of the School within the context of changes in US social welfare policy CSWE accrediting standards and NASW Code of Ethics Highly readable the book brings to light the under reported contributions of HBCU social work programs to social work education and it thoughtfully engages with the School s efforts to legitimize the Afrocentric perspective and the humanistic values embraced by HBCU social work programs

White Scholars/African American Texts Lisa A. Long, 2005 Funny painful and disturbing by turns this absolutely necessary volume powerfully engages readers in passionate debates about the place of the non African American teacher of African American literature Maureen Reddy coeditor of Race in the College Classroom Pedagogy and Politics What makes someone an authority What makes one person s knowledge more credible than another s In the ongoing debates over racial authenticity some attest that we can know each other s experiences simply because we are all human while others assume a more skeptical stance insisting that racial differences create unbridgeable gaps in knowledge Bringing new perspectives to these perennial questions the essays in this collection explore the many difficulties created by the fact that white scholars greatly outnumber black scholars in the study and teaching of African American literature Contributors including some of the most prominent theorists in the field as well as younger scholars examine who is speaking what is being spoken and what is not and why framing African American literature in terms of an exclusive black white racial divide is problematic and limiting In highlighting the whiteness of some African Americanists the collection does not imply that the teaching or understanding of black literature by white scholars is definitively impossible Indeed such work is not only possible but imperative Instead the essays aim to open a much needed public conversation about the real and pressing challenges that white scholars face in this type of work as well as the implications of how these challenges are met Making it on Broken Promises Lee Jones, 2023-07-03 This book provides an occasion to examine the complex conjuncture between the White supremacist realities of the American Academy and the often threatening presence of brilliant Black men in the Academy This challenging book should also serve as an inspiration for a new generation of Black men deeply devoted to the life of the mind in or outside the Academy From the foreword by Cornel West Sixteen of America s leading scholars offer an uncompromising critique of the academy from their perspective as African American men They challenge dominant majority assumptions about the culture of higher education most particularly its claims of openness to diversity and divergent traditions They take issue with the processes that determine what is legitimized as scholarship as well as with who wields the power to authenticate it They describe the debilitating pressures to subordinate Black identity to a supposedly universal but hegemonic Eurocentric culture They question the academy s valuing of individuality and its privileging of dichotomy over their cultural styles of community humanism and synthesis They also range over such issues as culturally mediated styles of cognition the misuse of standardized testing the disproportionate burden of service placed on African American faculty and a reward system that discounts it Spatial Futures LaToya E. Eaves, Heidi J. Nast, Alex G. Papadopoulos, 2024-05-11 Spatial Futures invites readers to imagine power and freedom through the lens of the Black Outdoors a transdisciplinary spatial concept that operates beyond the planetary stratigraphic confines of the Anthropocene The chapters collectively point to the ontological epistemological contradictions involved in forging liberatory spatial futures Bringing new spatial imaginaries to bear in and outside geography the book refuses the strictures of the cenic entertaining difference as world making
