The Evolution of the South African System of Innovation since 1916 Mario Scerri, 2009-05-27 In this book Mario Scerri provides the reader with a novel and sweeping rendition of South Africa s economic history from the early part of the twentieth century to the present He applies a broad innovation systems approach to this history spanning the period from 1916 which saw the drafting of South Africa s first Science and Technology plan to the first fourteen years of the post apartheid period The introduction of the book lays out the scope of the work and its focus on the identification of continuities and ruptures in the economic history of South Africa The first part of the book deals with the theoretical foundations of the approach The first chapter in this section looks at the emergence of evolutionary economics and innovation systems theory as the basis for the main countervailing argument against the neoclassical neoliberal orthodoxy In the course of this chapter the foundation is laid for the development of an alternative general theory of economics The second chapter covers the main debates on the economic history of South Africa and looks at the several varieties of the liberal and Marxist renditions of this history The theoretical section lays the foundation for the history that is covered in the four chapters which follow These cover three broad periods since 1916 The first runs up to 1948 with the election victory of the National Party The second covers the apartheid period and the last follows with an account of the post apartheid political economy An endnote provides the basis for the analysis of what may possibly be the emergence of a fourth main period in the evolution of the South African system of innovation The Evolution of the South African System of Innovation since 1916 opens up a novel engagement with the complex phenomenon of apartheid its genealogy and its aftermath It will appeal to economists and economic historians who are interested in the economy of South Africa It will be of particular interest to evolutionary economists who use the systems of innovation approach as an alternative to mainstream neoclassical economics in the analysis of dynamic economic systems For this particular audience this book will provide a welcome addition to the growing body of literature in this area especially given the novelty of its historical approach

Biographical Turn Hans Renders, Binne de Haan, Jonne Harmsma, 2016-09-13 The Biographical Turn showcases the latest research through which the field of biography is being explored. Fifteen leading scholars in the field present the biographical perspective as a scholarly research methodology investigating the consequences of this bottom up approach and illuminating its value for different disciplines. While biography has been on the rise in academia since the 1980s, this volume highlights the theoretical implications of the biographical turn that is changing the humanities. Chapters cover subjects such as gender, religion, race, new media, and microhistory, presenting biography as a research methodology suited not only for historians but also for explorations in areas including literature studies, sociology, economics, and politics. By emphasizing agency, the use of primary sources, and the critical analysis of context and historiography, this book demonstrates how biography can function as a scholarly methodology for a wide range of topics and fields of research. International in scope, The Biographical Turn emphasizes that the individual can have a lasting impact on the past and that lives that are now forgotten can be as important for the historical narrative as the biographies of kings and presidents. It is a valuable resource for all students of biography, history, and historical theory.

Understanding the British Empire Ronald Hyam, 2010-05-20 Understanding the British Empire draws on a lifetime's research and reflection on the history of the British Empire by one of the senior figures in the field. Essays cover six key themes: the geopolitical and economic dynamics of empire, religion and ethics, imperial bureaucracy, the contribution of political leaders, the significance of sexuality, and the shaping of imperial historiography. A major new introductory chapter draws together the wider framework of Dr Hyam's studies, and several new chapters focus on lesser known figures. Other chapters are revised versions of earlier papers reflecting some of the debates and controversies raised by the author's work, including the issue of sexual exploitation, the European intrusion into Africa, including the African response to missionaries, trusteeship, and Winston Churchill's imperial attitudes. Combining traditional archival research with newer forms of cultural exploration, this is an unusually wide ranging approach to key aspects of empire.

The Locus of Care Peregrine Horden, Richard Smith, 2013-01-11 The care of the needy and the sick is delivered by various groups including immediate family, the wider community, religious organisations, and the State-funded institutions. The Locus of Care provides an historical perspective on welfare, detailing who carers were in the past, where care was provided, and how far the boundary between family and state or informal and organised institutions has changed over time. Eleven international contributors provide a wide ranging examination of themes such as child care, mental health, and provision for the elderly, and question the idea that there has been a recent evolutionary shift from informal provision to institutional care. Chapters on Europe and England use case studies and link evidence from ancient and medieval periods to contemporary problems, and the recent past, whilst studies on China and South Africa look to the future of welfare throughout the world. By placing welfare in its historical, social, cultural, and demographic contexts, Locus of Care reassesses community and institutional care and the future expectations of welfare provision.

Predicaments of Knowledge Suren Pillay, 2024-09-01 Predicaments of Knowledge explores the difficult questions South African universities face after apartheid Is there a difference between Africanising a university and decolonising a university What about differences between deracialising and decolonising the curricula taught at universities across disciplines Through a range of reflections on race language colonial postcolonial and decolonial knowledge projects from Africa and Latin America this book explores the pitfalls and possibilities that face a post apartheid generation inventing the future of knowledge The distinctions between Africanisation decolonisation and deracialisation are often conflated in the political demands put to universities Suren Pillay emphasises all three as important but distinct imperatives If an intervention is undertaken with the aim of decolonising the university while actually addressing deracialisation it can undermine the effort to decolonise Similarly if an initiative to Africanise the university does not address decolonisation both processes can be undermined Drawing on more than two and a half decades of the author's participation in these debates these essays aim to intervene in and elucidate questions and predicaments rather than offering blue prints they are dialogical in spirit even when polemical in tone In conversation with existing continental African and Latin American experiences they offer incisive reflections on current South African debates
