Making A Nest:

Making automatic enrolment work Great Britain: Department for Work and Pensions, 2010-10-27 Current policy is that new duties will be staged in between 2012 and 2016 requiring all employers to designate a pension scheme into which all of their employees aged between 22 and state pension age should be automatically enrolled so long as they are earning above an annual earnings threshold the Pensions Act 2008 sets this at 5 035 equivalent to 5 732 in today s terms Upon automatic enrolment a minimum of eight per cent of earnings within a band would be contributed to the pension with at least three per cent coming from the employer This policy is designed to maximise private pension saving by individuals without imposing compulsion The right to opt out will remain This review looks at the scope of automatic enrolment and whether a new national pension scheme National Employment Savings Trust or NEST needs to be put in place for it to work One of the most significant recommendations that it makes is that people should only be automatically enrolled once they reach the income tax threshold which will increase to 7 475 in 2011 but that contributions should be on earnings in excess of the National Insurance earnings threshold 5 715 in today s prices There should be no changes to age thresholds and automatic enrolment duties should apply to all employers regardless of size as now Employers should be given three months before auto enrolment to ease the burden on companies If staff choose to enrol before the three month period then companies will have to make contributions

Roth, 2011-01-01 The Tsimshian people of coastal British Columbia use a system of hereditary name titles in which names are treated as objects of inheritable wealth Human agency and social status reside in names rather than in the individuals who hold these names and the politics of succession associated with names and name taking rituals have been and continue to be at the center of Tsimshian life Becoming Tsimshian examines the way in which names link members of a lineage to a past and to the places where that past unfolded At traditional potlatch feasts for example collective social and symbolic behavior gives the person to the name Oral histories recounted at a potlatch describe the origins of the name of the house lineage and of the lineage's rights to territories resources and heraldic privileges This ownership is renewed and recognized by successive generations and the historical relationship to the land is remembered and recounted in the lineage's chronicles or adawx In investigating the different dimensions of the Tsimshian naming system Christopher F. Roth draws extensively on recent literature archival reference and elders in Tsimshian communities Becoming Tsimshian which covers important themes in linguistic and cultural anthropology and ethnic studies will be of great value to scholars in Native American studies and Northwest Coast anthropology as well as in linguistics Amateur work, illustrated, 1883 On the Coast Claudia Martin, 2020-01-01 From seashells to sea lions gannets to penguins learn about the huge range of creatures supported by the coastal seas in this new title from the exciting In Focus Oceans series Did you know that the Atlantic puffin can dive to 200 feet underwater Or that groups of up to 100 000 spiny lobsters march across the sea floor together to find their summer
