Eric Schlosser

Making Fast Food From The Frying Pan Into The Fryer:

Making Fast Food Ester Reiter, 1996 Some say the adventurous days of grueling and dangerous scientific exploration are long gone but Reiter sociology Brock U undertook a 10 month trek without pay into the uncharted wilds of a Burger King kitchen to bring us first hand accounts of the strange and marvellous customs of the natives The illustrations are hilarious Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Making Fast Food Ester Reiter, 1991-09-03 The flourishing fast food industry represents one particular blueprint of how to live Reiter analyses the profound consequences of this blueprint for many spheres of life women s work youth employment the labour movement the family and the community Since the 1970s young people and women have increasingly entered the job market in low waged service sector jobs Family life she explains has changed dramatically in the last forty years as many activities that were traditionally part of the home have been replaced by services available in the marketplace The production of meals and those who produce them have moved from the family kitchen to the highly regulated corporate workplace where workers are like the interchangeable parts of a machine

Fast Food Nation Eric Schlosser, 2001 An exploration of the fast food industry in the United States from its roots to its long term consequences Making Fast Food Ester Reiter, 1996 The Oxford Handbook of Food History Jeffrey M. Pilcher, 2012-10-16 Food matters not only as a subject of study in its own right but also as a medium for conveying critical messages about capitalism the environment and social inequality to diverse audiences Recent scholarship on the subject draws from both a pathbreaking body of secondary literature and an inexhaustible wealth of primary sources from ancient Chinese philosophical tracts to McDonald s menus contributing new perspectives to the historical study of food culture and society and challenging the limits of history itself The Oxford Handbook of Food History places existing works in historiographical context crossing disciplinary chronological and geographic boundaries while also suggesting new routes for future research The twenty seven essays in this book are organized into five sections historiography disciplinary approaches production circulation and consumption of food The first two sections examine the foundations of food history not only in relation to key developments in the discipline of history itself such as the French Annales school and the cultural turn but also in anthropology sociology geography pedagogy and the emerging Critical Nutrition Studies The following three sections sketch various trajectories of food as it travels from farm to table factory to eatery nature to society Each section balances material cultural and intellectual concerns whether juxtaposing questions of agriculture and the environment with the notion of cookbooks as historical documents early human migrations with modern culinary tourism or religious customs with social activism In its vast interdisciplinary scope this handbook brings students and scholars an authoritative guide to a field with fresh insights into one of the most fundamental human concerns Understanding Global Environmental Politics M. Paterson, 2000-04-07 Understanding Global Environmental Politics develops a new critical approach to global environmental politics It argues that the major power structures of world politics are deeply problematic in ecological terms and that they cannot be easily used to resolve major environmental challenges such as global warming. Instead of simply advocating the construction of new international institutions to respond to such challenges, therefore, the book argues that the construction of alternative social and political structures is necessary.

The Canadian Labour Movement Craig Heron, Charles Smith, 2020-06-01 In The Canadian Labour Movement, historian Craig Heron and political scientist Charles Smith tell the story of Canada's workers from the mid-nineteenth century through to today, painting a vivid picture of key developments such as the birth of craft unionism, the breakthroughs of the fifties and sixties, and the setbacks of the early twenty-first century. The fourth edition of this book has been completely updated with a substantial new chapter that covers the period from the great recession of 2008 through to 2020. In this chapter, Smith describes the fallout of the financial crisis, how Stephen Harper's government restricted labour rights, the rise of the gig economy and precarious work, and the continued de-industrialization in the private sector. These pressures contributed to fracturing the movement, as when Unifor, the largest private sector union, split from the Canadian Labour Congress, the established house of labour. Through it all, rank and file union members have fought for better conditions for all workers, including through campaigns like the fight for a $15 minimum wage. The Canadian Labour Movement is the definitive book for anyone interested in understanding the origins, achievements, and challenges of the labour and social justice movements in Canada.

Agricultural Standards Jim Bingen, Lawrence Busch, 2006-03-08 Food and agricultural standards have recently risen to the top of both national and international agendas. Popular concerns about the power of the World Trade Organization focus on the intertwined relationships between environmental protection, labor, and human rights, and the standards used to produce and supply our food and fiber globally. In the developing world, agricultural grades and standards are an important part of the reconfiguration of roles and responsibilities between various public and private actors in market reform. This original and informative collection of studies of agricultural standards in the modern economy addresses these and helps to define the scope of the emerging study of the politics of standards setting. Following an overview essay dealing with the multiple ways of thinking about approaching and defining food and agricultural standards, eleven case studies offer a rich body of evidence that assesses the processes, dynamics, and potential consequences of global agricultural standards. For all interested in the strategic use of food and agricultural standards, from those in national and international governmental agencies, researchers, and others in the academic and private sector to those in the private business sector, this volume offers a broader perspective on and will serve as an important resource.

The Cinema of the Precariat Tom Zaniello, 2020-02-20 The Cinema of the Precariat is the first book to lay out the incredible range of the precariat, the social class suffering from precarity, as well as a detailed report on the cinematic record of their work and lives. It discusses a thorough and definitive selection of more than 250 films and related visual media that take the measure of the precariat worldwide. For example, thousands of Haitians, including children, harvest sugar cane in the Dominican Republic. The Price of Sugar, while illegal, Afghan refugees work in Iran. Delbaran More familiar are the millions of Latino immigrants legal or not of all ages that work in the United States Food Chains Each chapter focuses on a sub class of the precariat or a contested zone of labor or the evolving political manifestation of the struggles of the unorganized and the dispossessed Among the hundreds of bewildering film choices available nowadays this book offers the reader reliable guidance to the films bringing to life the economic political and social dilemmas faced by millions of the world s global workforce and their families

Ecology, Capitalism and the New Agricultural Economy

Gilles Allaire,Benoit Daviron,2018-11-14 With increasing pressure on resources the looming spectre of climate change and growing anxiety among eaters ecology and food are at the heart of the political debates surrounding agriculture and diet This unique contribution unravels agri environmental issues at different spatial levels from local to global documenting the major shifts in agriculture from a long term perspective The book begins by exploring the changes in the industrialisation and socialisation of agriculture over time through the lens of institutional economics including The French Regulation School and Conventions Theory Building on Polanyi s Great Transformation the chapters in this volume analyse long term and contemporary changes in agriculture and food systems that have occurred throughout the last few centuries Key chapters focus on the historical changes in provisioning and the social relations of production consumption and regulation of food in different socio political contexts The future of agriculture is addressed through an analysis of controversial contemporary political claims and their engagement with strategies that aim to improve the sustainability of agriculture and food consumption To shed light on ongoing changes and the future of food this book asks important environmental and social questions and analyses how industrial agriculture has played out in various contexts It is recommended supplementary reading for postgraduates and researchers in agricultural studies food studies food policy the agri food political economy and political and economic geography

Eating Chinese Lily Cho,2010-01-01 In Eating Chinese Lily Cho examines Chinese restaurants as spaces that define for those both inside and outside the community what it means to be Chinese and what it means to be Chinese Canadian

Getting by in Hard Times David Livingstone,Meg Luxton,June Shirley Corman,2001-01-01 Describes the experiences of daily life for predominantly white working class women and men during the period of economic restructuring begun in the 1980s

Language and Hegemony in Gramsci Peter Ives,2004-07-20 Language and Hegemony in Gramsci introduces Gramsci s social and political thought through his writings on language It shows how his focus on language illuminates his central ideas such as hegemony organic and traditional intellectuals passive revolution civil society and subalternity Peter Ives explores Gramsci s concern with language from his university studies in linguistics to his last prison notebook Hegemony has been seen as Gramsci s most important contribution but without knowledge of its linguistic roots it is often misunderstood This book places Gramsci s ideas within the linguistically influenced social theory of the twentieth century It summarizes some of the major ideas of Ferdinand de Saussure Ludwig Wittgenstein language philosophy and post structuralism in relation to Gramsci s position By paying great attention to the linguistic underpinnings of Gramsci's Marxism Language and Hegemony in Gramsci shows how his theorization of power language and politics address issues raised by post modernism and the work of Michel Foucault Jacques Derrida Chantal Mouffe and Ernesto Laclau

Wheel of Fortune Jamie Swift, 1995-05-01 Jamie Swift combines sharp eyed journalism that brings out the nuances of daily life with a penetrating analysis of jobless recovery He describes the emerging world of work through the eyes and experiences of people in Kingston and Windsor two Ontario cities with roots in the pre industrial past places poised for the post industrial information age

The Eclipse of Morality Lawrence Busch, Using the works of Bacon Hobbes and Adam Smith as well as historical examples drawn from the last two centuries Busch shows how the ideas initially proposed by these thinkers became reified as scientism statism and marketism systems of belief that a single mode of ordering could solve the riddle of society and thereby supplant moral responsibility Busch contrasts this approach with concrete examples of successful attempts to extend democracy into these areas to create multiple orderings so that moral responsibility is neither crushingly heavy on individuals nor unbearably light on society

Standards Lawrence Busch, 2013-08-16 An investigation into standards the invisible infrastructures of our technical moral social and physical worlds Standards are the means by which we construct realities There are established standards for professional accreditation the environment consumer products animal welfare the acceptable stress for highway bridges healthcare education for almost everything We are surrounded by a vast array of standards many of which we take for granted but each of which has been and continues to be the subject of intense negotiation In this book Lawrence Busch investigates standards as recipes for reality Standards he argues shape not only the physical world around us but also our social lives and even our selves Busch shows how standards are intimately connected to power that they often serve to empower some and disempower others He outlines the history of formal standards and describes how modern science came to be associated with the moral technical project of standardization of both people and things Busch suggests guidelines for developing fair equitable and effective standards Taking a uniquely integrated and comprehensive view of the subject Busch shows how standards for people and things are inextricably linked how standards are always layered even if often addressed serially and how standards are simultaneously technical social moral legal and ontological devices

Contemporary Marketing and Consumer Behavior John F. Sherry, 1995-05-02 This exploration of marketing and consumer behaviour comprises original articles both theoretical and empirical and serves as a sourcebook for those interested in consumption and managerial consequences Issues discussed include elements of the marketing mix advertising and promotion relationship management managerial intervention and stakeholder response organization behaviour economic development class and gender linked consumer behaviour and the production of consumption They are examined using anthropological perspectives and methods ranging from materialistic to semiotic

This Day in Florida History Andrew K. Frank, J. Hendry Miller, Tarah Luke, 2020-03-17 On January 22 1912 Henry Flagler rode on the first passenger train from South Florida to Key West On April 2 1513 Juan Ponce de Le n claimed Florida for Spain On December 6 1947 Everglades National Park held its opening ceremony Featuring one entry per day of the year this book is a fun and enlightening collection of moments from Florida history Good and bad famous and little known historical and contemporary these events reveal the depth and complexity of the state s past They cover everything from revolts by Apalachee Indians to crashes at the Daytona 500 the establishment of Fort Mos and the recurrence of hurricanes They involve cultural leaders like Stetson Kennedy and Zora Neale Hurston iconic institutions like Disney and NASA and important eras like Prohibition and the civil rights movement Each entry includes a short description and is paired with a suggested reading for learning more about the event or topic of the day This Day in Florida History is the perfect starting point for discovering the diversity of stories and themes that make up the Sunshine State Eating Identities Wenying Xu,2007-11-13 The French epicure and gastronome Brillat Savarin declared Tell me what you eat and I will tell you who you are Wenying Xu infuses this notion with cultural political energy by extending it to an ethnic group known for its cuisines Asian Americans She begins with the general argument that eating is a means of becoming not simply in the sense of nourishment but more importantly of what we choose to eat what we can afford to eat what we secretly crave but are ashamed to eat in front of others and how we eat Food as the most significant medium of traffic between the inside and outside of our bodies organizes signifies and legitimates our sense of self and distinguishes us from others who practice different foodways Narrowing her scope Xu reveals how cooking eating and food fashion Asian American identities in terms of race ethnicity gender class diaspora and sexuality She provides lucid and informed interpretations of seven Asian American writers John Okada Joy Kogawa Frank Chin Li Young Lee David Wong Louie Mei Ng and Monique Truong and places these identity issues in the fascinating spaces of food hunger consumption appetite desire and orality Asian American literature abounds in culinary metaphors and references but few scholars have made sense of them in a meaningful way Most literary critics perceive alimentary references as narrative strategies or part of the background Xu takes food as the central site of cultural and political struggles waged in the seemingly private domain of desire in the lives of Asian Americans Eating Identities is the first book to link food to a wide range of Asian American concerns such as race and sexuality Unlike most sociological studies which center on empirical analyses of the relationship between food and society it focuses on how food practices influence psychological and ontological formations and thus contributes significantly to the growing field of food studies For students of literature this tantalizing work offers an illuminating lesson on how to read the multivalent meanings of food and eating in literary texts Working for McDonald's in Europe Tony Royle,2004-08-02 The McDonald s Corporation is not only the largest system wide sales service in the world it is a phenomenon in its own right and is now recognized as the most famous brand in the world By providing a detailed analysis of the extent to which the McDonald s Corporation adapts or imposes its labour relations policies in Europe this volume represents a real life case study revealing the interaction between a global multi national enterprise and the regulatory systems of a number of different European countries Key features include an overview of the McDonald s Corporation s development and structure an analysis of its corporate culture and the issues of franchising an examination of key union strategies including systems of co determination consultation and collective bargaining a chapter dealing specifically with European legislation in particular the McDonald s European Works Council The author systematically analyzes the conflict between the McDonald s Corporation and the industrial relations systems of the European countries within which it operates and exposes this conflict as an unequal struggle between economic liberalism and collectivism
