Making Law Bind Tony Honoré, 1987      Ductor Dubitantium Jeremy Taylor, 1671      The rule of conscience Jeremy Taylor, Reginald Heber, 1822      The Continuity of Legal Systems in Theory and Practice Benjamin Spagnolo, 2015-10-22

The Continuity of Legal Systems in Theory and Practice examines a persistent and fascinating question about the continuity of legal systems when is a legal system existing at one time the same legal system that exists at another time The book's distinctive approach to this question is to combine abstract critical analysis of two of the most developed theories of legal systems those of Hans Kelsen and Joseph Raz with an evaluation of their capacity in practice to explain the facts attitudes and normative standards for which they purport to account That evaluation is undertaken by reference to Australian constitutional law and history whose diverse and complex phenomena make it particularly apt for evaluating the theories explanatory power In testing whether the depiction of Australian law presented by each theory achieves an adequate fit with historical facts the book also contributes to the understanding of Australian law and legal systems between 1788 and 2001 By collating the relevant Australian materials systematically for the first time it presents the case for reconceptualising the role of Imperial laws and institutions during the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries and clarifies the interrelationship between Colonial State Commonwealth and Imperial legal systems both before and after Federation

Intention and Identity John Finnis, 2011-04-07 The essays in Intention and Identity explore themes in Finnis's work touched on only lightly if at all in Natural Law and Natural Rights developing profound accounts of personal identity and existence group identity and common good and intention and choice as action and self shaping In his many faceted study of what it is to be a human person and a human community Finnis not only engages with contemporary philosophers and bioethicists such as Peter Singer Michael Lockwood and John Harris with thinkers from other traditions such as Karol Wojtyla John Paul II and with judges in the highest courts He also offers illuminating and deeply considered readings of Shakespeare and Aquinas and debates with Roger Scruton Joseph Raz Hans Kelsen John Rawls Glanville Williams Richard Posner Ronald Dworkin and others The role of intention in the criminal law and the law of civil wrongs is searchingly explored through case law as are judicial attempts to understand conditional and preparatory intentions Moral or bioethical issues discussed include in vitro fertilization cloning abortion euthanasia and brain death patriotism multi culturalism and immigration The papers show the power of a sometimes neglected aspect of the new classical theory of natural law The volume includes previously unpublished papers on whether brain life is relevant to the beginning of a person's life on its relevance to the end of one's life and a substantial introduction in which John Finnis reflects on the changes in his thinking on personal reality and on how intention is to be analysed and understood and its moral significance appreciated
