Monkey In The Mirror Essays On The Science Of What Makes Us Human:

The Monkey in the Mirror Ian Tattersall, 2016-08-16 An absorbing look at how our species evolved from the curator of human evolution at the American Museum of Natural History Kirkus Reviews What makes us so different from those other animals How did we get this way How do we know And what exactly are we These questions are what make human evolution a subject of general fascination Ian Tattersall one of those rare scientists who is also a graceful writer addresses them in this delightful book Tattersall leads the reader around the world and into the far reaches of the past showing what the science of human evolution is up against from the sparsity of evidence to the pressures of religious fundamentalism Looking with dispassion and humor at our origins Tattersall offers a wholly new definition of what it is to be human Unparalleled insight Donald C Johanson author of Lucy The Beginnings of Humankind How History Made the Mind David Martel Johnson, 2003 How History Made the Mind David Martel Johnson argues that what we now think of as reason or objective thinking is not a natural product of the existence of an enlarged brain or culmination of innate biological tendencies Rather it is a way of learning to use the brain that runs counter to the natural characteristics involved in being an animal a mammal and a primate Johnson defends his theory of mind as a cultural artifact against objections and uses it to question a number of currently fashionable positions in philosophy of mind known theories of Julian Jaynes which Johnson argues go too far in the direction of emphasizing the dissimilarities between ancient and modern ways of thinking Spiritual Information Charles L. Harper, 2005-06 Spiritual Information is a collection of one hundred essays that explore a portion of the vast interdisciplinary approaches to the study of science and religion Individually and together the essays show how the study of ourselves our planet and the universe helps us understand our place as spiritual beings within God's universe The book is a tribute to Sir John Templeton and his pioneering commitment toward new research that results in one hundredfold more spiritual information than humankind has ever possessed before It begins with essays that reflect on Sir John's principal domains of interest and expertise free enterprise based finance and accelerating spiritual progress Themes of the sections are Science Religion Dialogue Cosmology Physics and Astronomy Mathematics Musicology and Speculation Biological Evolution the Human Being Social Evolution the Human Mind and Heart Religion and Health The Nature of the Divine Theology and Philosophy Faith Traditions Sir John's leadership has enabled us to edge ever closer to the frontier where knowledge meets wisdom at the threshold of ultimate reality notes the editor in the preface to this volume As Spiritual Information presents an overview of how far we have come in the science and religion dialogue it also opens windows to the vast possibilities for additional research and further advances in spiritual information Creation and Humanity Veli-Matti Karkkainen, 2015-03-26 The third installment in a wide and deep constructive theology for our time This third volume of Veli-Matti Karkkainen's ambitious five volume theology project develops a Christian theology of creation and humanity theological anthropology in dialogue with the Christian tradition with contemporary theology in all its global and contextual diversity and with other major living faiths Judaism Islam Buddhism and Hinduism In constructing his theology of creation and humanity Karkkainen uniquely engages the natural sciences including physical cosmological and neuroscientific theories He devotes particular attention to the topics of divine action in a world subjected to scientific study environmental pollution human flourishing and the theological implications of evolutionary theory with regard to both cosmos and humanity Projecting a Camera Edward Branigan,2013-08-21 In Projecting a Camera film theorist Edward Branigan offers a groundbreaking approach to understanding film theory Why for example does a camera move What does a camera know And when does it know it What is the camera's relation to the subject during long static shots What happens when the screen is blank Through a wide ranging engagement with Wittgenstein and theorists of film he offers one of the most fully developed understandings of the ways in which the camera operates in film With its thorough grounding in the philosophy of spectatorship and narrative Projecting a Camera takes the study of film to a new level With the care and precision that he brought to Narrative Comprehension and Film Edward Branigan maps the ways in which we must understand the role of the camera the meaning of the frame the role of the spectator and other key components of film viewing By analyzing how we think discuss and marvel about the films we see Projecting a Camera offers insights rich in implications for our understanding of film and film studies

The World from Beginnings to 4000 BCE Ian Tattersall,2008-02 In this lively and readable introduction renowned anthropologist Ian Tattersall thoroughly examines both fossil and archaeological records to trace human evolution from the earliest beginnings of our zoological family Hominidae through the appearance of Homo sapiens to the Agricultural Revolution The Anthropology of Extinction Genese Marie Sodikoff,2012 We live in an era marked by an accelerating rate of species death but since the early days of the discipline anthropology has contemplated the death of languages cultural groups and ways of life The essays in this collection examine processes of and our understanding of extinction across various domains The contributors argue that extinction events can be catalysts for new cultural social environmental and technological developments that extinction processes can paradoxically be productive as well as destructive The essays consider a number of widely publicized cases island species in the Galapagos and Madagascar the death of Native American languages ethnic minorities under pressure to assimilate in China cloning as a form of species regeneration and the tiny hominid Homo floresiensis fossils hobbits recently identified in Indonesia The Anthropology of Extinction offers compelling explorations of issues of widespread concern

Cultural Evolution and its Discontents Robert Watson,2018-12-07 People worry that computers robots interstellar aliens or Satan himself brilliant stealthy ruthless creatures may seize control of our world and destroy what's uniquely valuable about the human race Cultural Evolution and its Discontents shows that our cultural systems especially those whose last names are -ism are already doing that and doing it so adeptly that we seldom even notice Like other parasites they've blindly evolved to exploit us for their own survival Creative arts and humanistic scholarship are our best tools for diagnosis and cure The assemblages of ideas that have survived like the assemblages of biological cells that have survived are the ones good at protecting and reproducing themselves They aren't necessarily the ones that guide us toward our most admirable selves or our healthiest future Relying so heavily on culture to protect our uniquely open minds from cognitive overload makes us vulnerable to hijacking by the systems that co-evolve with us Recognizing the selfish Darwinian functions of these systems makes sense of many aspects of history politics economics and popular culture What drove the Protestant Reformation Why have the Beatles The Hunger Games and paranoid science fiction thrived and how was hip hop co-opted What alliances helped neoliberalism out-compete Communism and what alliances might enable environmentalism to overcome consumerism Why are multiculturalism and university-trained elites provoking working class nationalist backlash In a digital age how can we use numbers without having them use us instead Anyone who has wondered how our species can be so brilliant and so stupid at the same time may find an answer here human mentalities are so complex that we crave the simplifications provided by our cultures but the cultures that thrive are the ones that blind us to any interests that don't correspond to their own

The First Word Christine Kenneally, 2007 A history of the quest for human language origins is comprised of two intertwined narratives that respectively trace the development of language and the process through which scientists have explored the subject in an account that also documents the contributions of such figures as Noam Chomsky and Steven Pinker

The Lighting of the Fire Fr. Benigno P. Beltran, 2019-10-15 The book contains deeply insightful objectively argued clear and succinct and synthesized ideas in education philosophy theory and practice

Psychotherapy, American Culture, and Social Policy E. Throop, 2009-01-05 A lively indictment of American culture's pervasive use of the psychotherapeutic metaphor to explain behaviours a habit that has crossed the Atlantic in recent years arguing that psychotherapy and excessive individualism has only ensured the continuance of social problems

Music, evolution, and the harmony of souls Alan R. Harvey, 2017-02-09 Music is central to human cultural and intellectual experience It is vitally important for the welfare of human society and this book argues should become more widely accepted in our community as a mainstream educational and therapeutic tool This book explores the importance of music throughout human evolution and its continued relevance to modern day human society Throughout the emphasis is on the origin of music and how and where it is processed in our brains exploring in detail the genetic and cultural evolution of modern loquacious humans how we may have evolved with unique neural and cognitive architecture and why two complementary but distinct communication systems language and music remain a human universal In addition the book explores in some depth the different theories that have been put forward to explain why musical communication was and remains advantageous to our species with a particular emphasis on the role of music and dance in enhancing altruistic and prosocial behaviours The author suggests that music and the social harmonization it brings was of vital importance in early humans as we became more and more individualized by the emergence of modern language and the modern mind and the realization that we are mortal Music Evolution and the Harmony of Souls demonstrates the evolutionary sociobiological importance of music as a driver of cooperative and interactive behaviour throughout human existence and what this evolutionary imperative means to twenty first century humanity and beyond from social and medical neurological perspectives

The Earth Is Our Home Nelson Rivera, 2016-11-14 This book demonstrates that Mary Midgley's philosophy of evolution points the way towards considering the earth as our only true home since we are products of this planet and its evolving and complex life along with every other organism From the knowledge of ourselves as knowing animals with a biological as well as a cultural history Midgley proposes the elaboration of an evolutionary epistemology that situates us firmly on the earth together with other creatures while at the same time helping us to build knowledge of the world from the complexity of the human experience I like to call this approach by a known theological analogy a view from below that is from the underside of the world from the realms of nature and history Such an approach does not begin by assuming conceptions of design or order in nature a view that we term from above although it does not rule out the possibility of teleological or metaphysical constructions of reality in the long run This down to earth approach I consider essential for any philosophy or theology that wants to take evolutionary theory seriously while committed to a proper and non dismissive assessment of religious views

Faith and Struggle on Smokey Mountain Benigno P. Beltran, 2012 Smokey Mountain the vast garbage dump in Manila has served for many years as an emblem of third world squalor In many ways it is a metaphor for a planet slowly choking on garbage and waste But for Fr Beltran who served for three decades as a chaplain to the scavengers who survive off this reeking heap it is also a metaphor of hope an emblem of the will to survive the ability to create joy and find meaning even in the midst of abject poverty Faith and Struggle on Smokey Mountain describes the spiritual resilience of the scavengers of Smokey Mountain and how they taught Beltran to read the Gospel with new eyes The lessons he learned bear a message for all who struggle for a better world

Sussman, 2017-07-05 Scientific developments have increasingly been transforming our understanding of the place of human beings in nature The contributors to this book focus on the current status of research on sociality and the evolution of cooperative and altruistic behaviour in non human and human primates They examine questions related to the evolution cultural viability and hormonal underpinnings of human sociality in specific detail and describe patterns of sociality that shed light on human social behaviour
