Glaser,2022-03-07 For decades filmmakers worldwide have been remaking Hollywood movies in colorful ways They've chronicled a singing and dancing Hannibal Lecter in India star crossed lovers aboard the doomed Nigerian ship Titanic a Japanese expedition to the planet of the apes and an uncivil war in Turkey between Captain America and a mobbed up Spider Man Most of these films were low budget and many were unauthorized but all of them were fantastic and lately have begun to resurface thanks to cherry picked YouTube clips But why and how were they made in the first place This book tells the little known stories of the wily filmmakers who made an Italian 007 flick by casting Sean Connery's tradesman brother produced a Turkish space opera by stealing a print of Star Wars for its effects footage and transported a full fledged Terminator to the present day not from a post apocalyptic future but from the vibrant mythology of Indonesia Their stories reveal more than mere imitations they demonstrate the fascinating ways ideas evolve as they cross borders Anno

R. Weart,2012-04-02 After a tsunami destroyed the cooling system at Japan's Fukushima Nuclear Power Plant triggering a meltdown protesters around the world challenged the use of nuclear power Germany announced it would close its plants by 2022 Although the ills of fossil fuels are better understood than ever the threat of climate change has never aroused the same visceral dread or swift action Spencer Weart dissects this paradox demonstrating that a powerful web of images surrounding nuclear energy holds us captive allowing fear rather than facts to drive our thinking and public policy Building on his classic Nuclear Fear Weart follows nuclear imagery from its origins in the symbolism of medieval alchemy to its appearance in film and fiction Long before nuclear fission was discovered fantasies of the destroyed planet the transforming ray and the white city of the future took root in the popular imagination At the turn of the twentieth century when limited facts about radioactivity became known they produced a blurred picture upon which scientists and the public projected their hopes and fears These fears were magnified during the Cold War when mushroom clouds no longer needed to be imagined they appeared on the evening news Weart examines nuclear anxiety in sources as diverse as Alain Resnais's film Hiroshima Mon Amour Cormac McCarthy's novel The Road and the television show The Simpsons Recognizing how much we remain in thrall to these setpieces of the imagination Weart hopes will help us resist manipulation from both sides of the nuclear debate

Atomic Bomb Cinema Jerome F. Shapiro, 2013-05-13 Unfathomably merciless and powerful the atomic bomb has left its indelible mark on film In Atomic Bomb Cinema Jerome F Shapiro unearths the unspoken legacy of the bombing of Nagasaki and Hiroshima and its complex aftermath in American and Japanese cinema According to Shapiro a Bomb film is never simply an exercise in ideology or paranoia He examines hundreds of films like Godzilla Dr Strangelove and The Terminator as a body of work held together by ancient narrative and symbolic traditions that extol survival under devastating conditions Drawing extensively on both English language and Japanese language sources Shapiro argues that such films not only grapple with our nuclear anxieties but also offer signs of hope that humanity is capable of repairing a damaged and divided world www.atomicbombcinema.com
