My Unbreakable Spirit:

Chilco Daniela Catrileo, 2025-07-15 A near future tale about love life and friendship in a world that's falling apart Chilco is the name of Pascale's home island It is also the Mapudungun word for fuchsia a word that evokes tropical lushness witness the deep greenness of the forest Pascale's partner Marina grew up in the vertical slums of Capital City a place scarred by centuries of colonialism and now the ravages of feckless developers Every day the couple fear a sinkhole will open up and take with it another poor neighbourhood another raft of desperate refugees from the hinterlands the indigenous the poor who are toiling for an all-consuming machine that is devouring the earth from beneath their feet When they finally flee the collapsing city to live in Chilco are they escaping from the crushing weight of centuries of colonial repression that have eroded indigenous memories language and culture or are they merely stepping into a twisted lush new version of it From her first days in this place where she's supposed to feel safe and at home Marina can't avoid the feeling that everything is decaying around her there is a smell of putrefaction in the air that no one except her can detect there are seismic rifts that the political cruelties of the times have opened up in her own relationship with Pascale and she is haunted by insistent memories of her past In Chilco Daniela Catrileo's baroque tropical jeremiad the wounds of capitalism and empire inflict themselves on the person and on the land but linger most devastatingly in language and memory Indigenous Mapudungun and Quechua words history and cosmology form the chorus to this tropical fever dream of life love death and friendship

Dissensuous Modernism Allyson C. DeMaagd, 2022-02-22 Placing women writers at the center of the sensory and technological experimentation that characterized the modernist movement Dissensuous Modernism shows how women of the era challenged gendered narratives that limited their power and agency and waged dissent through their radical sensuous writing Allyson DeMaagd critiques an overemphasis among modernist writers and generations of researchers on the masculine senses of sight and sound shifting the conversation toward the feminine senses of smell taste and touch These senses long considered lower were explored by writers such as H D Mina Loy Virginia Woolf and Elizabeth Bowen as DeMaagd demonstrates through detailed close readings of their lesser studied novels DeMaagd's analysis shows how these women incorporated technology in their work to reunify the senses or to draw attention to the destructive disunity of the senses highlighting the subversive potential of sensory integration Dissensuous Modernism illuminates how modernist women writers breached the sensory borders society erects between men and women heteronormativity and queerness ability and disability technology and nature and human and nonhuman It elevates diverse embodied experiences and illuminates the pivotal role of women in modernist sensory thought

Jana's Journey Jana Marie Whitton, 2024-08-15 Jana's Journey From Seventy's Shadows to Radiant Light by Jana Whitton is a deeply personal and emotional memoir that chronicles the author's tumultuous childhood and journey toward healing and self-discovery Born in the 1970s Jana's early life was marked by severe trauma including sexual abuse by her father and other men who should have been her protectors

These experiences left deep emotional scars and a sense of worthlessness that haunted her throughout her life. The book details how Jana's mother, despite her best intentions, could not shield her from the horrors that unfolded within their family. The memoir describes the complexities of growing up in an unstable and abusive household where Jana was often left to fend for herself and take on responsibilities far beyond her years. As Jana grew older, she found comfort and healing through various relationships, including a loving partnership with a woman who helped her reclaim her sense of self-worth and later a supportive marriage with a man who provided the love and security she had long craved. Through these relationships and her determination, Jana was able to overcome the darkness of her past and build a life filled with love, hope, and resilience. The memoir is not only a recounting of the adversities Jana faced but also a testament to her strength and the transformative power of love and forgiveness. It serves as an inspiration to others who have experienced similar traumas, offering a message of hope that it is possible to overcome even the most profound hardships and emerge into the light. Against All Odds

Pastor Stephen M. Colbert Sr., 2018-03-01 The book is a powerful portrayal of Pastor Stephen Colbert's incredible journey with God over a span of fifty-five years. The book highlights Pastor Colbert's victorious fights with twelve life-threatening medical conditions, starting with a near-fatal car accident at the age of eight and culminating with a series of traumatic medical events at the age of sixty-three. When you read my story, I hope that you will become engaged with it and embrace the unbeatable, faithful, and awesome God of the universe who is also the God who rescues and delivers ordinary people against all odds. Journey of the Heart Marjorie Farrell, 2014-09-28 Caitlin Burke returns to her family in New Mexico from an Eastern school. Her horse, Night Sky, injured in an accident, has been cared for by wrangler Gabe Hart. Cait and Gabe are attracted to each other, but a threat is posed by the greedy cattle rancher Nelson Mackie to take over the Burke ranch. Sequel to Desert Hearts: American Historical Romance by Marjorie Farrell, originally published by Topaz. Compete Inside

Thomas Wurtz, Mike Sweeney, 2015-04-09 The opportunities that exist for Christian athletes are amazing. The potential to leave a lasting impact is overwhelming. The challenge is to stay focused on what ultimately matters: a vibrant relationship with God. Faith and sports are an invaluable tandem that sometimes fall off balance. Compete Inside offers athletes reflections, relevant Scripture passages, and piercing questions to help them develop their faith and integrate it into their athletic life. Nothing can be more valuable than investing in your faith. These reflections inspire the athlete to put first what should be first: our faith and trust in Christ. Awesome Philip Rivers 11-year NFL Veteran Quarterback, 5-time Pro Bowler. As athletes, we allow ourselves to be vulnerable. We put our performance out there for all the world to evaluate. We have high highs and low lows. Because of this, sports are more than physical competition or mental challenges. It becomes a spiritual journey. We all know the importance of focus in athletics. This book will help keep you focused on the most important thing and assist you in leaving a meaningful legacy that lasts far beyond your playing days. Matt Birk 15-year NFL Veteran, Super Bowl Champion and 2011 Walter Payton NFL Man of the Year.
