A Bold Stroke for a Wife Susanna Centlivre, 1995-04-11 Though critics and literary historians have always had to admit that Susanna Centlivre's comedies were extremely popular they have tended to devote themselves to a search for evidence in them of supposed deficiencies of the female pen and to pay as much attention to the playwright's marriages and amorous liaisons than to the plays themselves Only in recent years has Centlivre come to be recognized quite straightforwardly as one of the most brilliant playwrights of her time A Bold Stroke for a Wife is perhaps the finest example of Centlivre's masterful plotting of comic intrigue The soldier Fainwell and Anne Lovely are in love but their path to the altar is blocked by her guardians each of whom has a different view of what sort of husband would make the right match Fainwell resorts to disguises of social types The play thus provides a wide range of opportunity for Centlivre to satirize Tory respectability religious propriety and capitalist speculative greed and to give voice to tolerance's liberty of choice that sweetens life Yet in the end it is Centlivre's comic muse that gives enduring life to the play as one of the most entertaining of eighteenth century comedies Classic Plays by Women Hrotswitha, Elizabeth Cary, Aphra Behn, Susanna Centlivre, Joanna Baillie, Githa Sowerby, Enid Bagnold, Caryl Churchill, Marie Jones, 2019-04-02 Classic Plays by Women an anthology of the best plays by female dramatists from 1600 2000 Staged in theatres by successive generations and proving relevant to contemporary audiences the plays demonstrate the wit theatrical skill and innovation of their creators in exploring timeless topics from marriage morality and money to class conflict rage and sexual desire An essential resource for students playwrights colleges universities and libraries this collection also provides theatres with the opportunity to programme a range of theatrical classics by women Plays from Hrotswitha's Paphnutius extract Elizabeth Cary's The Tragedy of Mariam extract Aphra Behn's The Rover Susanna Centlivre's A Bold Stroke For A Wife Joanna Baillie's De Montfort Githa Sowerby's Rutherford and Son Enid Bagnold's The Chalk Garden Caryl Churchill's Top Girls extract Marie Jones Stones in his Pockets playwright and novelist His keen observations of societal trends and character psychology illuminate the motivations of his protagonists and reveal the underlying tensions of his time As a contemporary to Edgar Allan Poe and Nathaniel Hawthorne Bird shares the literary stage with these giants contributing a distinctive voice that resonates through his exploration of transformation and personal agency I highly recommend Sheppard Lee Written by Himself to readers interested in a profound examination of identity within the context of American society Bird s masterful prose and incisive wit invite readers to reflect on their own lives while navigating the challenges of authenticity and self reinvention This novel is not only a delightful literary journey but also a vital piece of American literature that warrants a place in any serious reader s collection
