New Worlds from Old Texts Elton Barker, Stefan Bouzarovski, Christopher Pelling, Leif Isaksen, 2015-12-03 Maps dominate the modern sense of place and geography Yet so far as we can tell maps were rare in the Greco Roman world and when mentioned in sources are mistrusted and criticized Today technological advances have brought to the fore an entirely new set of methods for representing and interacting with space In contrast to traditional topographic perspectives the territorial extent of economic and political realms is increasingly conceived though a topological lens in which the nature and frequency of links among different sites matter more than the physical distances between them New Worlds from Old Texts focuses on the ancient Greek experience of space conceived of in terms of both its literature and material culture remains and uses this to reflect on modern thinking Comprising twelve chapters written by a highly interdisciplinary range of contributors this edited collection explores the rich array of representational devices employed by ancient authors whose narrative depictions of spatial relations defy the logic of images and surfaces that dominates contemporary cartographic thought The volume focuses on Herodotus Histories a text that is increasingly cited by Classicists as an example of how ancient perceptions of space may have been rather different to the modern cartographic view but also considers perceptions of space through the lens of other authors genres cultural contexts and disciplines In doing so it reveals how a study of the ancient world can be reinvigorated by and in turn help to shape modern technological innovation and methods

Agatha Christie M. Makinen, 2006-10-10 Christie s books depict women as adventurous independent figures who renegotiate sexual relationships along more equal lines Women are also allowed to disrupt society and yet the texts refuse to see them as double deviant because of their femininity This book demonstrates exactly how quietly innovatory Christie was in relation to gender

Agatha Christie J.C. Bernthal, 2022-08-25 The undisputed Queen of Crime Dame Agatha Christie 1890 1976 is the bestselling novelist of all time As the creator of immortal detectives Hercule Poirot and Jane Marple she continues to enthrall readers around the world and is drawing increasing attention from scholars historians and critics But Christie wrote far beyond Poirot and Marple A varied life including war work archaeology and two very different marriages provided the backdrop to a diverse body of work This encyclopedic companion summarizes and explores Christie s entire literary output including the detective fiction plays radio dramas adaptations and her little studied non crime writing It details all published works and key themes and characters as well as the people and places that inspired them and identifies a trove of uncollected interviews articles and unpublished material including details that have never appeared in print For the casual reader looking for background information on their favorite mystery to the dedicated scholar tracking down elusive new angles this companion will provide the most comprehensive and up to date information *The English Catalogue of Books ...: 1801-1836.
