The Handbook of

Cross-Border Ethnic and Religious Affinities Charity Butcher, 2019-04-16 Increasingly ethnic and religious variables are taken into account to explain conflict and relations between nations However ethnic and religious groups exist beyond the confines of frontiers In Africa for example hundreds of ethnic groups were divided by colonial borders and many retained kinship connections to their brethren in other countries thus creating cross border ethnic religious affinity Such cross border connections affect a variety of foreign policy from diplomacy to the use of force An internal problem can spread to other states or external actors can become involved in domestic disputes due to such factors Therefore data on cross border connections are essential to measure and assess their actual or potential effects on foreign policy or conflict This unique resource serves both qualitative and quantitative researchers For ease of use it is divided in sections for each region of world with the entries organized by pairs of contiguous countries Each entry for a pair of countries briefly discusses the ethnic and religious groups that are common to both countries and the historical and current connections between these groups The entries are organized based on the Correlates of War country codes which are widely used by researchers and allow for country pairs to be organized geographically within each section to facilitate easy use of the data      Official Report of Debates, House of Commons Canada.
