Massimo Livi-Bacci

Population Challenges And Development Goals:

Population Challenges and Development Goals United Nations. Department of Economic and Social Affairs. Population Division, 2005 Part one of this report provides a global overview of demographic trends for major areas and selected countries It reviews trends relating to population size and growth urbanization and city growth population ageing fertility and contraception mortality including HIV AIDS and international migration In addition a section on population policies has been included World population reached 6.5 billion in 2005 But considerable diversity in population size and growth lies behind this number The population of many countries particularly those in Africa and Asia will increase greatly in the coming decades In contrast owing to below replacement fertility levels some developed countries are expected to experience significant population decline Half the world's population is expected to live in urban areas by 2007 and the world population is also becoming older The second part of the report considers the relationship of these population trends and the implementation of the ICPD Programme of Action to fulfilling the development goals agreed to by the international community The report concludes that implementing the ICPD Programme of Action including action on child mortality the improvement of maternal health and the universal access to primary education will contribute significantly to the achievement of these goals including the goals contained in the Millennium Declaration

Leadership 2030 Georg Vielmetter, Yvonne Sell, 2014-02-06 Tomorrow's changes are coming With guidance from this invaluable resource you can prepare for them today The tumultuous changes in the business world during the last decade have forced too many to focus on the short term rushing to figure out how to produce quarterly profits in chaotic conditions As a result the longer view is often obscured leaving businesses so busy fighting today's battles that they are completely unprepared for tomorrow's war The next cataclysmic wave is surging relentlessly ahead demanding leaders who can steer their companies through complexity and change In Leadership 2030 six megatrends are uncovered for the forward thinking leader that will dramatically impact organizations markets cultures systems and processes

- 1 Globalization
- 2 0 Asia dominates the global economy
- 2 Climate change Sustainability becomes imperative
- 3 Individualism Freedom of choice erodes loyalty
- 4 Digitization Boundaries blur between private and working lives
- 5 Demographic changes Aging populations intensify the talent war
- 6 Converging technologies The sharpest tech shift in history is around the corner

Research findings and case studies drawn from original research conducted jointly with foresight company Z Punkt and further analyzed by Hay Group provide compelling evidence of each megatrend and highlight the skills capabilities and attitudes leaders must cultivate in order to maneuver through it all
