

A young girl with pigtails, wearing a light blue jacket and a red skirt, is running away from the camera through a field of tall, dry grass. She is kicking up a cloud of dust or dirt from the ground. In the background, there are rolling hills or mountains under a soft, hazy sky. The overall mood is joyful and carefree.

Joy does not simply happen to us. We have to choose joy and keep choosing it every day.

Orcutt, 2024-08-06 The first comprehensive treatment in seventy years of the American Art Union's remarkable rise and fall For over a decade the New York based American Art Union shaped art creation display and patronage nationwide Boasting as many as 19 000 members from almost every state its meteoric rise and its sudden and spectacular collapse still raise a crucial question Why did such a successful and influential institution fail The American Art Union reveals a sprawling and fascinating account of the country's first nationwide artistic phenomenon creating a shared experience of visual culture art news and criticism and a direct experience with original works For an annual fee of five dollars members of the American Art Union received an engraving after a painting by a notable US artist and the annual publication Transactions 1839 49 and later the monthly Bulletin 1848 53 Most importantly members names were entered in a drawing for hundreds of original paintings and sculptures by most of the era's best known artists Those artworks were displayed in its immensely popular Free Gallery Unfortunately the experiment was short lived Opposition grew and a cascade of events led to an 1852 court case that proved to be the Art Union's downfall Illuminating the workings of the American art market this study fills a gaping lacuna in the history of nineteenth century US art Kimberly A Orcutt draws from the American Art Union's records as well as in depth contextual research to track the organization's decisive impact that set the direction of the country's paintings sculpture and engravings for well over a decade Forged in cultural crosscurrents of utopianism and skepticism the American Art Union's demise can be traced to its nature as an attempt to create and control the complex system that the early nineteenth century art world represented This study breaks the organization's activities into their major components to offer a structural rather than chronological narrative that follows mounting tensions to their inevitable end The institution was undone not by dramatic outward events or the character of its leadership but by the character of its utopianist plan     Los Angeles Saturday Night, 1927     Normal Instructor and Teachers World, 1924     The Literary World Evert Augustus Duykinck, Charles Fenno Hoffman, George Long Duykinck, 1847     Social Progress, 1920     The Nation, 1874     Country Life in America Liberty Hyde Bailey, Henry Hodgman Saylor, 1912     Photoplay, 1914     Comfort, 1901     TV Cops Jonathan Nichols-Pethick, 2012 The police drama has been one of the longest running and most popular genres in American television In TV Cops Jonathan Nichols Pethick argues that perhaps more than any other genre the police series in all its manifestations from Hill Street Blues to Miami Vice to The Wire embodies the full range of the cultural dynamics of television Exploring the textual industrial and social contexts of police shows on American television this book demonstrates how police drama play a vital role in the way we understand and engage issues of social order that most of us otherwise experience only in such abstractions as laws and crime statistics And given the current diffusion and popularity of the form we might ask a number of questions that deserve serious critical attention Under what circumstances have stories about the police proliferated in popular culture What function do these stories serve for both the television industry and its audiences Why have these stories become so commercially viable for the television industry in particular How do stories about the police help us understand current social and political debates about crime about the communities we live in and about our identities as citizens
