Rethinking Bakhtin:

Rethinking Bakhtin Gary Saul Morson, Caryl Emerson, 1989 The essays in Rethinking Bakhtin Extensions and Challenges extend Bakhtin's concepts in important new directions and challenge Bakhtin's own use of his most cherished ideas Four sets of paired essays explore the theory of parody the relation of de Man's poetics to Bakhtin's dialogics Bakhtin's approach to Tolstoy and ideological literature generally and the dangers of dialogue not only in practice but also as an ideal Bakhtin in Contexts Amy Mandelker, 1995-11-22 The Russian critic M M Bakhtin has recently become a major figure in contemporary theory beyond his traditional influence in Slavic literary studies Bakhtin in Contexts explores the revolutionary impact Bakhtin's ideas have carried in contemporary discussion of language art culture and social science in recent years The contributors represent a broad range of disciplines in the humanities and social sciences epitomizing the views of Russian and American specialists in those fields Bakhtin often referred to as the human sciences The diversity of perspective and flexibility of approach make this a unique contribution to Bakhtin studies and to the ongoing dialogue between Western and Russian theorists Christianity in Bakhtin Ruth Coates, 1999-02-13 The work of the great Russian theorist Mikhail Bakhtin has been examined from a wide variety of literary and theoretical perspectives None of the many studies of Bakhtin begins to do justice however to the Christian dimension of his work Christianity in Bakhtin for the first time fills this important gap Having established the strong presence of a Christian framework in his early philosophical essays Ruth Coates explores the way in which Christian motifs though suppressed continue to find expression in the work of Bakhtin's period of exile and re emerge in texts written during the time of his rehabilitation Particular attention is paid to the themes of Creation Fall Incarnation and Christian love operating within metaphors of silence and exile concepts which inform Bakhtin's world view as profoundly as they influence his biography Bakhtin and cultural theory Ken Hirschkop, David Shepherd, 2024-06-04 An important collection of essays which treats Bakhtin as a provocative theorist whose work must be tested explored and compared with the work of others Contributors assess Bakhtin's contribution to difficult issues of colonialism feminism reception theory and theories of the body amongst others New articles explore the origins previously unacknowledged of Bakhtin's theory of language and provide a vivid account of the dramatic scandal surrounding Bakhtin's thesis on Rabelais Contains dramatic new material drawn from post perestroika sources which demythologizes the image of this important writer A new bibliographical essay and introduction bring the English language reader up to date with the progress of Bakhtin studies in Russia Minds Wide Shut Gary Saul Morson, Morton Schapiro, 2023-01-31 A timely exploration of intellectual dogmatism in politics economics religion and literature and what can be done to fight it Polarization may be pushing democracy to the breaking point But few have explored the larger interconnected forces that have set the stage for this crisis namely a rise in styles of thought across a range of fields that literary scholar Gary Saul Morson and economist Morton Schapiro call fundamentalist In Minds Wide Shut Morson and Schapiro examine how rigid adherence to ideological thinking has altered politics economics religion and literature in ways that are mutually reinforcing and antithetical to the open mindedness and readiness to compromise that animate democracy In response they propose alternatives that would again make serious dialogue possible Fundamentalist thinking Morson and Schapiro argue is not limited to any one camp It flourishes across the political spectrum giving rise to dueling monologues of shouting and abuse between those who are certain that they can t be wrong that truth and justice are all on their side and that there is nothing to learn from their opponents who must be evil or deluded But things don t have to be this way Drawing on thinkers and writers from across the humanities and social sciences Morson and Schapiro show how we might begin to return to meaningful dialogue through case based reasoning objective analyses lessons drawn from literature and more The result is a powerful invitation to leave behind simplification rigidity and extremism and to move toward a future of greater open mindedness moderation and perhaps even wisdom

The Unknowable in Literature and Material Culture Margot Irvine, Jeremy Worth, 2019-10-08

Literature strives to interpret and explain the unknown and to propose ways in which to engage with it even if at least initially these keys exist only in the realm of the imagination. This is one of the many important qualities that draw us to study literature and to marvel at the creative understandings that it offers. However many questions call for further exploration: how does something unknowable, unspeakable become a subject that can be examined and debated? How have literary and scientific communities entered into the dialogue and exchange that are crucial to the consolidation of knowledge? By what processes can we come to know and understand that which remains hidden, undocumented, unspoken, poorly understood, the memories, secrets, unknowable and unspeakable truths of public and private human lives? Inspired by questions such as these, the contributors to this volume reflect on fin de siècle discourses around homosexuality and sexual inversion, on Zola as seeker of concealed truths and figure of scandal, on the modes and crises of representing human experience in literary and visual forms, and on the dialogic space between self and other.

To Make the Hands Impure Adam Zachary Newton, 2016-01-01

How can cradling, handling, or rubbing a text be said ethically to have made something happen? What as readers or interpreters may come off in our hands in as we maculate or mark the books we read? For Adam Zachary Newton, reading is an embodied practice wherein ethics becomes a matter of tact in the doubled sense of touch and regard. With the image of the book lying in the hands of its readers as insistent refrain, To Make the Hands Impure cuts a provocative, cross-disciplinary swath through classical Jewish texts, modern Jewish philosophy, film, and performance, literature, translation, and the material text. Newton explores the ethics of reading through a range of texts from the Talmud and Midrash to Conrad's Nostromo and Pascal's Le Mémorial, from works by Henry Darger and Martin Scorsese to the National September 11 Memorial and a synagogue in Havana, Cuba. In separate chapters, he conducts masterly treatments of Emmanuel Levinas, Mikhail Bakhtin, and Stanley Cavell by emphasizing their performances as readers, a trebled orientation to Talmud, novel, and theater, film. To Make the Hands Impure stages the encounter of literary experience and scriptural traditions the difficult and the holy through an ambitious singular and innovative approach marked in equal measure by erudition and imaginative daring

Novel horizons Gerd Bayer,2016-07-15 Novel horizons analyses how narrative prose fiction developed during the English Restoration It argues that after 1660 generic changes within dramatic texts occasioned an intense debate within prologues and introductions This discussion about the poetics of a genre was echoed in the paratextual material of prose fictions In the absence of an official poetics that defined prose fiction paratexts fulfilled this function and informed readers about the budding genre This study traces the piecemeal development of these boundaries and describes the generic competence of readers through the analysis of paratexts and prose fictions Novel horizons covers the surviving textual material widely focusing on narrative prose fictions published between 1660 and 1710 In addition to tracing the paratextual poetics of Restoration fiction this book also covers the state of the art of fiction writing during the period discussing character development narrative point of view and questions of fictionality and realism

Mark at the Threshold Geoff R. Webb,2008-07-31 The discussion concerning Markan characterisation and Markan genre can be helpfully informed by Bakhtinian categories This book uses the twin foci of chronotope and carnival to examine specific characters in terms of different levels of dialogue Various passages in Mark are examined and thresholds are noted between interindividual character zones and between the hearing reader and text voices Several generic contacts are shown to have shaped the text s genre memory in particular the Graeco Roman popular literature of the ancient world The resultant picture is of an earthy populist Gospel whose voices resonate with the vulgar classes and whose spirituality is refreshingly relevant
