The Big Society Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Public Administration Select Committee,2011-12-14 This report which builds on previous reports by PASC warns that the Big Society project is hampered by the lack of a clear implementation plan leading to public confusion about the policy agenda eighteen months into this administration PASC has yet to see how the government will engage these charities and voluntary groups who wish to do so to deliver public services the little society rather than big business and Tesco charities Government must address the barriers such bodies experience in the contracting and commissioning system which means developing a plan to address roles tasks responsibilities and skills in Whitehall departments PASC concludes there are two major practical steps Government must take Firstly they must create a single Big Society Minister who has a cross cutting brief to help other Ministers to drive through this agenda once they begin reporting progress against the aims of Open Public Services White Paper from April 2012 Secondly they need to implement an impact assessment to be applied to every Government policy statutory instrument and new Bill which answers the simple question what substantively will this do to build social capital people power and social entrepreneurs PASC says early examples in practice like the Work Programme have left service providers such as the charitable sector who would play a major role in the Big Society with serious reservations The danger is that big contractors and the largest charities continue to dominate at the expense of small and local providers EU contracting rules need to be revised and smaller providers should be consulted on the legislative and bureaucratic barriers There needs to be a cultural shift in Whitehall departments

Pollinators and Pesticides Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Environmental Audit Committee,2013-04-05 If farmers had to pollinate fruit and vegetables without the help of insects it would cost hundreds of millions of pounds and we would all be stung by rising food prices Defra Ministers however have refused to back EU efforts to protect pollinators Disease habitat loss and climate change can all affect insect populations but a growing body of research suggests that neonicotinoids are having an especially damaging impact on pollinators The weight of scientific evidence now warrants precautionary action so the Committee is calling for a moratorium on pesticides linked to bee decline to be introduced by 1 January next year An EU wide moratorium on the use of imidacloprid clothianidin and TMX on crops attractive to bees following a recent risk warning from the European Food Safety Authority has also been proposed Many of the UK s largest garden retailers have voluntarily withdrawn non professional plant protection products that contain neonicotinoids A full ban on the sale of neonicotinoids for public domestic use which could create an urban safe haven for pollinators is recommended The pesticide industry must open itself to greater academic scrutiny if it wants to justify its continued opposition to the precautionary protection of pollinators The Government s National Action Plan for the Sustainable Use of Pesticides published earlier this year was a missed opportunity according to the Committee Clearer targets are needed to reduce reliance on pesticides as far as possible And Integrated Pest Management which emphasises alternatives to pesticides but does not preclude their use should be made the central principle of the plan
