

The Raven

Edgar Allan Poe - January 18, 1809-October 6, 1849

Once upon a midnight dreary, while I pondered, weak and weary,
Over many a quaint and curious volume of forgotten lore—
While I nodded, nearly napping, suddenly there came a tapping,
As of some one gently rapping, rapping at my chamber door—
"Tis some visitor," I muttered, "tapping at my chamber door—
Only this and nothing more."

And, distinctly I remember it was in the bleak December;
And each separate dying ember wrought its ghost upon the floor.
Eagerly I wished the morrow;—vainly I had sought to borrow
From my books surcease of sorrow—sorrow for the lost Lenore—
For the rare and radiant maiden whom the angels name Lenore—
Nameless here for evermore.

and regulation 2 Scale and Territory structuring collective interests identities and resources and 3 Networks connecting actors and resources across space It concludes by suggesting that different spatialities place scale networks interlink within one another in particular instances of collective action playing distinctive yet complementary roles in shaping how these actions unfold in the political arena By mapping state of the art conceptual and empirical terrain across Geography Sociology and Political Science Spaces of Contention provides readers with a much needed guide to innovative research on the spatial constitution of social movements and how social movements tactically and strategically approach and produce space

Circulating Communities The Tactics and Strategies of Community Publishing edited by Paula Mathieu Steve Parks and Tiffany Rousculp represents the first attempt to gather the myriad of community and college publishing projects providing not only history and analysis but extended samples of the community writing produced. Rather than feature only the voices of academic scholars, this collection features also the words of writing group participants, community organizers, literacy instructors, librarians, and stay-at-home parents as well. In libraries, community centers, prisons, and homeless shelters across the US and around the world, people not traditionally understood as writers regularly come together to write, offer feedback, revise, publish, and most importantly, circulate their words. The vast amount of literature that these community publishing projects create has historically been overlooked by scholars of literature, journalism, and literacy. Over the past decade, however, higher education has moved outward, off campus and into the streets. Many of these efforts build from writing and publication projects that extend back over decades, are grassroots in nature, and are independent of college efforts. Circulating Communities offers a unique glimpse into how neighbor and scholar, teacher and activist are using writing and publishing to improve the daily lives on the streets they call home.
