The Crusader States and their Neighbours Nicholas Morton,2020-04-24 The Crusader States and their Neighbours explores the military history of the Medieval Near East piecing together the fault lines of conflict which entangled this much contested region This was an area where ethnic religious dynastic and commercial interests collided and the causes of war could be numerous Conflicts persisted for decades and were fought out between many groups including Kurds Turks Armenians Arabs and the crusaders themselves Nicholas Morton recreates this world exploring how each faction sought to advance its own interests by any means possible adapting its warcraft to better respond to the threats posed by their rivals Strategies and tactics employed by the pastoral societies of the Central Asian Steppe were pitted against the armies of the agricultural societies of Western Christendom Byzantium and the Islamic World galvanising commanders to adapt their practices in response to their foes Today we are generally encouraged to think of this era as a time of religious conflict and yet this vastly over simplifies a complex region where violence could take place for many reasons and peoples of different faiths could easily find themselves fighting side by side

Unknown Crusader Castles Kristian Molin,2001-04-01 The capture of Jerusalem by the First Crusade in 1099 signalled the beginning of an armed struggle in Palestine and throughout the Eastern Mediterranean which lasted until the 15th century It was a war dominated by the building securing and besieging of castles rather than by pitched battles Kristian Molin covers the military history of the crusades on a wider geographical scale than previous historians taking in Armenia Cyprus and Greece as well as the Holy Land He also shows the role of castles as administrative judicial and social centres in times of peace as well as in war Unknown Crusader Castles provides a fresh perspective on the history of the crusades

Pilgrims' Castle ('Atlit), David's Tower (Jerusalem) and Qal'at ar-Rabad ('Ajlun) C.N. Johns, Denys Pringle, 2019-05-23 First published in 1997 this collection includes papers on Crusader era architecture in Palestine with a focus on Atlit the castle of Ajlun and on the Citadel of Jerusalem both the papers and sites of which have previously been difficult to access The volume is presented partly to repair the very real deficit in the literature on Crusader architecture and partly as a fitting memorial to the author who died in 1992 Atlit in particular held a special significance for C N Johns being the site of his first major project as a field archaeologist His Guide to Atlit a masterly summary of his findings remains the most complete and comprehensive account of the castle and its suburb The studies collected here pay tribute to their author's enduring contribution to the medieval archaeology of the Near East The first part of the book deals with the Pilgrim's Castle the great Templar fortress and town at Atlit The significance of Johns excavations at this site has been relatively neglected because it remains in a military area inaccessible to visitors and because almost the entire stock of his major publication was lost in 1947 This Guide to Atlit a synthesis of historical archaeological and architectural research on the monument is reprinted here together with all the interim reports relating to the medieval period Also included are Johns studies on the Citadel of Jerusalem the Tower of David and on the Islamic castle of Ajlun Together they represent a fundamental contribution to the study of the period of the Crusades and to the military architecture of the Middle Ages The notes by Denys Pringle bring the accounts up to date in the light of recent research
