Making a Difference Dean Gualco, 2013-11-11 Changing an organization company culture or mind set depends on knowing what to change how to change and most importantly why to change Author Dean Gualco public speaker and the owner of Torgun Consulting explores how organizations and individuals can initiate manage and capitalize on change in this instructive guidebook He explains ways to recognize when it makes sense to change create a framework to manage change effectively harness imagination and originality to outpace competitors and encourage colleagues to embrace necessary change Too often change is viewed through a prism of conflict and negativity Millions of people have lost their jobs because of changing technology and others have lost their health and retirement benefits as organizations have cut costs We find ourselves in a world where older people can't retire and younger people can't find jobs But avoiding or hindering change won't solve anything instead it's important to tackle it head on In Making a Difference you can discover how pursuing the right dreams at the right time and for the right reasons can change your life Making a Difference? Townsley, Ruth, Abbott, David, Debby Watson, 2004-02-18 Many health education and social service initiatives aim to implement better multi agency working between agencies and professionals But what difference does this sort of change make to those on the receiving end This book explores the impact of multi agency working on disabled children and the families and professionals who support them Making a Difference by Being Yourself Gregory E. Huszycz, 2010-07-16 What does making a difference mean to you How do you find your true purpose in life There are hundreds of ways to make a difference in the world and we are all hard wired to seek purpose and happiness The expression of that purpose however differs from person to person Whereas one person may find fulfillment in volunteering another may create an impact by being an authentic leader The question is what works for you Making a Difference by Being Yourself deconstructs the puzzle by homing in on how your unique personality type frames the actions you take to impact others Building on the powerful fundamentals of the Myers Briggs Type Indicator assessment Greg Huszycz's dynamic framework identifies four types of individuals Stabilizers Harmonizers Catalysts and Visionaries and combines research and stories from more than 500 people to chart a journey of self discovery and beyond With dozens of exercises assessment tools and examples Making a Difference by Being Yourself delivers a complete toolkit to take personal insight and awareness to the next level to live life consciously and to use your strengths and talents in ways that make a meaningful difference at work and in your relationships How Do You Know If You Are Making a Difference? Sarah Morton, Ailsa Cook, 2022-11-02 This book sets out practical and theoretically robust approaches for understanding and tracking change that any organisation can use to evaluate their contribution to social change and become more efficient and effective Making a Difference in Patients' Lives Sandra Buechler, 2008-04-24 Winner of the 2009 Grady Award for Outstanding Psychoanalytic Publication Within the title of her book Making a Difference in Patients' Lives Sandra Buechler echoes the hope of all clinicians But she counters experience soon convinces most of us that insight on its own is often not powerful enough to have a significant impact on how a life is actually lived Many clinicians and therapists have turned toward emotional experience within and outside the treatment setting as a resource How can the immense power of lived emotional experience be harnessed in the service of helping patients live richer more satisfying lives Most patients come into treatment because they are too anxious or depressed or don't seem to feel alive enough Something is wrong with what they feel or don't feel Given that the emotions operate as a system with the intensity of each affecting the level of all the others it makes sense that it would be an emotional experience that would have enough power to change what we feel But ironically the wider culture and even psychoanalysts seem to favor solutions that aim to mute emotionality rather than relying on one emotion to modify another We turn to pharmaceutical cognitive or behavioral change to make a difference in how life feels Because we are afraid of emotional intensity we cut off our most powerful source of regulation In clear jargon free prose that utilizes both clinical vignettes and excerpts from poetry art and literature Buechler explores how the power to feel can become the power to change Through an active empathic engagement with the patient and an awareness of the healing potential inherent in each of our fundamental emotions the clinician can make a substantial difference in the patient's capacity to embrace life Making a Difference Through Marketing Carolin Plewa, Jodie Conduit, 2016-05-04 This book honours the contribution Professor Pascale Quester has made to academia and higher education through her research teaching and leadership It provides readers with a comprehensive contemporary perspective on marketing practice with an emphasis on the role of marketing in making a difference Organisations are interwoven with the society in which they operate and are thus commonly expected to shoulder some responsibility in advancing that society While there has been significant academic and practitioner focus on corporate social responsibility CSR research is often limited to the organisational benefits and implementation of CSR initiatives this book presents a broader perspective It highlights a variety of players and approaches that are making a difference to their various stakeholder groups specifically in the areas of sponsorship consumer behaviour education health and innovation 101
