Making A Killing The Business Of War:

Transnational Actors in War and Peace David Malet, Miriam J. Anderson, 2017-06-01 Transnational Actors in War and Peace provides a comparative examination of a range of transnational actors who have been key to the conduct of war and peace promotion and of how they interact with states and each other It explores the identities organization strategies and influence of transnational actors involved in contentious politics armed conflict and peacemaking While the study of transnational politics has been a rapidly growing field to date the disparate actors have not been analyzed alongside each other making it difficult to develop a common theoretical framework or determine their influence on international security This book brings together a diverse set of scholars focused on a range of transnational actors such as foreign fighters terrorists private military security companies religious groups diasporas NGOs and women's peace groups Malet and Anderson provide the standard for future study of transnational actors in this work intended for those interested in security studies international relations conflict resolution and global governance

The Business of War James McCarty, Matthew Tapie, Justin Bronson Barringer, 2020-10-01 The Business of War incisively interrogates the development and contemporary implications of the military industrial complex It exposes the moral dangers of life in neoliberal economies dependent upon war making for their growth and brings the Christian tradition's abundance of resources into conversation with this phenomenon In doing so the authors invite us to rethink the moral possibilities of Christian life in the present day with an eye toward faithful resistance to the business of war and its influence in every aspect of our lives In combining biblical historical theological and ethical analyses of the business of war the authors invite us to better understand it as a new moral problem that demands a new faithful response With contributions from Pamela Brubaker Stan Goff Christina McRorie Logan Mehl Laituri Kara Slade Won Chul Shin David Swartz Jonathan Tran Myles Werntz Matthew Whelan Tobia Winright

The Art of Business Warfare David W. Leppanen, 2000-12 Business and warfare have more in common than most people think The Art of Business Warfare applies military techniques to the business world It outlines how businesses can use the military principles preemption dislocation and disruption to outmaneuver their competition In addition before conducting an operation the military has four primary areas it must address personnel intelligence operations and logistics Companies must also manage these four areas While The Art of Business Warfare won't show you how to call in artillery fire on your competition it will show you how to coordinate your business departments and improve your business operations

The Business of Killing Indians William S. Kiser, 2025-03-18 How colonial conquest was driven by state sponsored profit driven campaigns to murder and mutilate Indian peoples in North America From the mid 1600s through the late 1800s states sponsored scalp bounties and volunteer campaigns to murder and mutilate thousands of Indians throughout North America Since central governments in Amsterdam Paris London Mexico City and Washington DC failed to provide adequate military support and financial resources for colonial frontier defense administrators in regional capitals such as New York Quebec City New Orleans Boston Ciudad Chihuahua Austin and Sacramento took matters into their own hands At different times and in almost every part of the continent they paid citizens for killing Indians taking Indians captive scalping or beheading Indians and undertaking other forms of performative violence As militant operatives and civilians alike struggled to prevail over Indigenous forces they considered barbaric and savage they engaged in not just plundering slaving and killing but also dismembering corpses for symbolic purposes and for profit Although these tactics mostly failed in their intent to exterminate populations state sponsorship of indiscriminate violence took a significant demographic toll by flooding frontier zones with murderous units whose campaigns diminished Indigenous power reduced tribal populations and forced weakened survivors away from traditional homelands High wages for volunteer campaigning along with cash bounties for Indian body parts and the ability to take captives and keep valuable plunder promoted a state
