Making A Middle Class Student Life In English Canada During The Thirties:

Making a Middle Class Paul Axelrod,1990-10-01 Using a rich array of archival and quantitative sources and oral testimony from ex students across Canada Axelrod explores the characteristics and significance of university life during a trying decade He describes who went to university what they were taught how they amused themselves how they responded to the pressing political issues of the day and what became of them after graduation Axelrod argues that these students shared the aspirations of middle class communities elsewhere Dreading the prospect of downward social mobility they craved the status a university degree and professional credentials might produce Accordingly they forged an associational life on campus that challenged the control of paternalistic authorities perpetuated the values of middle class culture and helped them cope with the stresses of the time Women composed almost one quarter of the student population and faced discrimination inside and outside the classroom How they coped with this how they adapted their own expectations and how they contributed to campus and community culture are extensively discussed Through the prism of the student experience Making a Middle Class furnishes fresh insights into the social history of higher education the history of youth the history of the middle class and the history of the Depression Making a Middle Class Paul Douglas Axelrod,2007 Varsity's

Canadian Intellectuals, the Tory Tradition, and the Challenge of Modernity, 1939-1970 Philip Massolin, 2015-05-27 In this well researched book Philip Massolin takes a fascinating look at the forces of modernization that swept through English Canada beginning at the turn of the twentieth century Victorian values agrarian religious and the adherence to a rigid set of philosophical and moral codes were being replaced with those intrinsic to the modern age industrial secular scientific and anti intellectual This work analyses the development of a modern consciousness through the eyes of the most fervent critics of modernity adherents to the moral and value systems associated with Canada's tory tradition The work and thought of social and moral critics Harold Innis Donald Creighton Vincent Massey Hilda Neatby George P Grant W L Morton Northrop Frye and Marshall McLuhan are considered for their views of modernization and for their strong opinions on the nature and implications of the modern age These scholars shared concerns over the dire effects of modernity and the need to attune Canadians to the realities of the modern age Whereas most Canadians were oblivious to the effects of modernization these critics perceived something ominous far from being a sign of true progress modernization was a blight on cultural development In spite of the efforts of these critics Canada emerged as a fully modern nation by the 1970s Because of the triumph of modernity the toryism that the critics advocated ceased to be a defining feature of the nation s life Modernization in short contributed to the passing of an intellectual tradition centuries in the making and rapidly led to the ideological underpinnings of today s modern Canada

University Women Sara Z. MacDonald,2021-11-15 Bessie Scott nearing the end of her first year at university in the spring of 1890 recorded in her diary Wore my gown for first time It didn t seem at all strange to do so Often deemed a cumbersome tradition by men the cap and gown were dearly prized by women as an outward sign of their hard won admission to the rank of undergraduates For the first generations of university women higher education was an exhilarating and transformative experience but these opportunities would narrow in the decades that followed In University Women Sara MacDonald explores the processes of integration and separation that marked women s contested entrance into higher education Examining the period between 1870 and 1930 this book is the first to provide a comparative study of women at universities across Canada MacDonald concludes that women s higher education cannot be seen as a progressive narrative a triumphant story of trailblazers and firsts of doors being thrown open and staying open The early promise of equal education was not fulfilled in the longer term as a backlash against the growing presence of women on campuses resulted in separate academic programs closer moral regulation and barriers that restricted their admission into the burgeoning fields of science technology engineering and mathematics The modernization of higher education ultimately marginalized women students researchers and faculty within the diversified universities of the twentieth century University Women uncovers the systemic inequalities based on gender race and class that have shaped Canadian higher education It is indispensable reading for those concerned with the underrepresentation of girls and women in STEM and current initiatives to address issues of access and equity within our academic institutions
