Making and Selling Culture Richard Ohmann, 1996-11-25 An inside look at cultural industries featuring interviews with key players from such companies as Twentieth Century Fox National Public Radio and Coca Cola To what extent do moviemakers television and radio producers advertising executives and marketers merely reflect trends beliefs and desires that already exist in our culture and to what extent do they consciously shape our culture to their own ends In depth interviews with ten executives from the culture industry and five scholarly analyses examine that question and address the issues of power and authority meaning and identity that arise when cultural producers define and react to audiences In their own words leaders from companies like Twentieth Century Fox National Public Radio and Warner Bros Television describe their perception of the sometimes paradoxical relationship between culture and what influences it For example while the former president of Coca Cola North America claims the company has never tried to create a trend he notes that we market in more countries than belong to the United Nations a product that has insinuated itself into the lives of the people to a point where it has become you know it s there These reflections by key players provide an unprecedented view as editor Richard Ohmann writes into the ways cultural producers imagine or know markets and how such knowledge figures in their decisions about what events experiences and products to make

Advertising at War Inger L Stole, 2012-11-16 Advertising at War challenges the notion that advertising disappeared as a political issue in the United States in 1938 with the passage of the Wheeler Lea Amendment to the Federal Trade Commission Act the result of more than a decade of campaigning to regulate the advertising industry Inger L Stole suggests that the war experience even more than the legislative battles of the 1930s defined the role of advertising in U S postwar political economy and the nation s cultural firmament She argues that

Washington and Madison Avenue were soon working in tandem with the creation of the Advertising Council in 1942 a joint effort established by the Office of War Information the Association of National Advertisers and the American Association of Advertising Agencies Using archival sources newspapers accounts and trade publications Stole demonstrates that the war elevated and magnified the seeming contradictions of advertising and allowed critics of these practices one final opportunity to corral and regulate the institution of advertising Exploring how New Dealers and consumer advocates such as the Consumers Union battled the advertising industry Advertising at War traces the debate over two basic policy questions whether advertising should continue to be a tax deductible business expense during the war and whether the government should require effective standards and labeling for consumer products which would render most advertising irrelevant Ultimately the postwar climate of political intolerance and reverence for free enterprise quashed critical investigations into the advertising industry While advertising could be criticized or lampooned the institution itself became inviolable

Commercial Intimacy Richard Popp, Brenton Malin, Wendy A. Woloson, 2025-06-03 Explores how marketers have leveraged feelings of personal familiarity in modern consumer capitalism Our wired world connects us with corporations in ways that just a generation ago would have been hard to imagine Marketers track users habits down to the swipe and scroll brand influencers reach out to followers in ever more personal ways Yet however much we may feel individually recognized or targeted by today s marketers the connections they make are in truth fleeting and tactical They are also nothing new Marketplace transactions have long been mediated by interactions that blur the line between the putatively public and rational world of commerce and the supposedly private and emotional realm of personal relations That there is an affective tenor to every sales scenario has never been a secret to talented marketers How exactly marketers have tried to set those moods by endowing commercial relationships with an aura of personal affinity is the subject of Commercial Intimacy Its chapters explore the broad theme of commercial intimacy that is market based feelings of spatial and emotional closeness in US consumer culture from the mid nineteenth century to the late twentieth century They show how experiences of intimacy have been orchestrated by marketers operating at a variety of distances from the face to face solicitations made by retail clerks and direct sales agents to the long distance appeals made by mail order merchants print and TV advertisers telemarketers and e commerce platforms The volume pays especially close attention to how these revenue minded acts of ingratiation worked how they were shaped by the technologies behind them and how they capitalized on contemporary dynamics of gender and sexuality At the heart of this volume then is the question of how our understanding of business history changes when we take the emotional sensational and affective dynamics of intimacy to be foundational elements of commercial persuasion Contributors Samuel Backer Jennifer M Black Donna J Drucker Isabelle Marina Held Julie A Johnson Lindsay Mitchell Keiter Stephanie Kolberg Brenton J Malin Cynthia B Meyers Richard K Popp Nicole E Weber Wendy A Woloson Advertising and Consumer Society Nicholas Holm,2023-04-03 This critical introductory text explores the role of advertising in contemporary culture and its connections to larger economic social and political forces Written in an engaging and accessible style and incorporating a wide range of examples from around the world the chapters introduce the key concepts methods and debates needed to analyse and understand advertising From an investigation of advertising s crucial function in media economics and our wider capitalist system to a consideration of the people who both make and watch advertising this insightful text enables students to make sense of advertising s powerful influence as both an economic force and an artistic form assess the various claims of these two perspectives on advertising and understand how they challenge and complicate one another This revised second edition includes a new chapter on branding and promotional culture and substantially updated content on topics like digital and online advertising surveillance and empowerment as well as brand new topics like self branding influencers and using technology to evade advertising Equipping students with the skills needed to partake in this lively discourse the text is an invaluable resource for studying advertising critically It is essential reading for students of advertising media studies and communication studies Bernard Shaw and Modern Advertising Christopher Wixson,2018-06-13 This book charts how promotional campaigns in which Bernard Shaw participated were key crucibles within which agency and personality could re negotiate their relationship to one another and to the consuming public Concurrent with the rise of modern advertising the creation of Shaw s G B S public persona was achieved through masterful imitation of patent medicine marketing strategies and a shrewd understanding of the relationship between product and spokesman Helping to enhance the visibility of his literary writing and dovetailing with his Fabian political activities G B S also became a key figure in the evolution of testimonial endorsement and the professionalizing of modern advertising The study analyzes multiple ad series in which Shaw was prominently featured that were occasions for self promotion for both Shaw and the agencies and presage the iconoclastic style of contemporary public personality and techniques of celebrity marketing Buyways Catherine Gudis,2004-05-15 The highway has become the buyway Along the millions of miles the public travels advertisers spend billions on images of cola cars vodka fast food and swimming pools that blur past us catching our fleeting attention and turning the landscape into a corridor of commerce A smart succinct and visually compelling history of the billboard in America Buyways traces how the outdoor advertising industry changed the face of American commercialism Taking us from itinerant bill stickers of circus posters in the 19th century to the blinking beeping 3 D eyesores of today Gudis argues that roadside advertising has turned the landscape itself into a commodity to be bought and sold as advertising space Buyways vividly chronicles the battles between environmentalists and businessmen as well as the response of artists from New Deal photographers who satirized the billboard infested landscape to commercial artists who embraced the kitsch of it all It also shows how advertisers tapped into the American mythology of the open road promoting mobile consumption as the American Dream on four wheels Entertaining and brilliantly illustrated Buyways is a vibrant road map of the new geography of consumption Also includes an eight page color insert Reader's Guide to American History Peter J. Parish,1997 First Published in 1998 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Culture Works ,2001 Encyclopedia of American Journalism Stephen L. Vaughn,2007-12-11 The Encyclopedia of American Journalism explores the distinctions found in print media radio television and the internet This work seeks to document the role of these different forms of journalism in the formation of America s understanding and reaction to political campaigns war peace protest slavery consumer rights civil rights immigration unionism feminism environmentalism globalization and more This work also explores the intersections between journalism and other phenomena in American Society such as law crime business and consumption The evolution of journalism s ethical standards is discussed as well as the important libel and defamation trials that have influenced journalistic practice its legal protection and legal responsibilities Topics covered include Associations and Organizations Historical Overview and Practice Individuals Journalism in American History Laws Acts and Legislation Print Broadcast Newsgroups and Corporations Technologies Selling the American People Lee Mcguigan,2023-07-18 How marketers learned to dream of optimization and speak in the idiom of management science well before the widespread use of the Internet Algorithms data extraction digital marketers monetizing eyeballs these all seem like such recent features of our lives And yet Lee McGuigan tells us in this eye opening book digital advertising was well underway before the widespread use of the Internet Explaining how marketers have brandished the tools of automation and management science to exploit new profit opportunities Selling the American People traces data driven surveillance all the way back to the 1950s when the computerization of the advertising business began to blend science technology and calculative cultures in an ideology of optimization With that ideology came adtech a major infrastructure of digital capitalism To help make sense of today s attention merchants and choice architects McGuigan explores a few key questions How did technical experts working at the intersection of data processing and management sciences come to command the center of gravity in the advertising and media industries How did their ambition to remake marketing through mathematical optimization shape and reflect developments in digital technology In short where did adtech come from and how did data driven marketing come to mediate the daily encounters of people products and public spheres His answers show how the advertising industry s efforts to bend information technologies toward its dream of efficiency and rational management helped to make surveillance capitalism one of the defining experiences of public life Sold American Charles F. McGovern, 2009-01-06 At the turn of the twentieth century an emerging consumer culture in the United States promoted constant spending to meet material needs and develop social identity and self cultivation In Sold American Charles F. McGovern examines the key players active in shaping this cultural evolution advertisers and consumer advocates McGovern argues that even though these two professional groups invented radically different models for proper spending both groups propagated mass consumption as a specifically American social practice and an important element of nationality and citizenship Advertisers McGovern shows used nationalist ideals icons and political language to define consumption as the foundation of the pursuit of happiness Consumer advocates on the other hand viewed the market with a republican inspired skepticism and fought commercial incursions on consumer independence The result says McGovern was a redefinition of the citizen as consumer The articulation of an American Way of Life in the Depression and World War II ratified consumer abundance as the basis of a distinct American culture and history The Progress of Experiment Harry M. Marks, 1997 How do we evaluate the safety and benefit of new drugs What tasks do we hold the government responsible for and which ones do we leave to the medical profession Harry Marks explores the origins of our contemporary system of drug regulation and the modern clinical trial He shows that the story of modern drug regulation is synonymous with the history of therapeutic reform Accompanying this history of public policy is a detailed account of changing experimental ideal and practices Marks follows the history of therapeutic experimentation from the collective investigations of the last century to the controlled clinical trial which emerged after 1950 as the paradigm of scientific experimentation The result is the first general history of clinical research in the United States a book which examines therapeutic experiments in a wide range of diseases from syphilis and pneumonia to heart disease and diabetes Darwin Day in America John G. West, 2014-04-22 At the dawn of the last century leading scientists and politicians giddily predicted that science especially Darwinian biology would supply solutions to all the intractable problems of American society from crime to poverty to sexual maladjustment Instead politics and culture were dehumanized as scientific experts began treating human beings as little more than animals or machines In criminal justice these experts denied the existence of free will and proposed replacing punishment with invasive cures such as the lobotomy In welfare they proposed eliminating the poor by sterilizing those deemed biologically unfit In business they urged the selection of workers based on racist theories of human evolution and the development of advertising methods to more effectively manipulate consumer behavior In sex education they advocated creating a new sexual morality based on normal mammalian behavior without regard to longstanding ethical and religious imperatives Based on extensive research with primary sources and archival materials John G West s captivating Darwin Day in America tells the story of how American public policy has been corrupted by scientific ideology Marshaling fascinating anecdotes and damning quotations West s narrative explores the far reaching consequences for society when scientists and politicians deny the essential differences between human beings and the rest of nature. It also exposes the disastrous results that ensue when experts claiming to speak for science turn out to be wrong. West concludes with a powerful plea for the restoration of democratic accountability in an age of experts.
