

Of all the children in my school,

I may not be the tallest.

Of all the voices in the world,

Mine may be the smallest.

But I can almost touch the stars,

If I stand on my toes.

And soon my words might change the world,

So you'd better listen close.

Making A Poem:

Making Poems Todd F. Davis, Erin Murphy, 2010-02-02 This diverse collection of poems and companion essays by forty nationally and internationally known poets allows readers to experience the creative process through the eyes and voice of each poet No matter how often we are told that revision is an essential component of poetic composition it can be difficult to resist the temptation to think of the poem as having sprung spontaneously Athena like from the writer s head By exposing readers to the finished product as well as the poet s own account of the poem s creation Making Poems offers a behind the scenes perspective on the poetic process that will fascinate both beginning and established writers The book also affords poetry instructors an opportunity to demonstrate to their students the ways in which poems can originate from seemingly mundane and unlikely sources

To Make a Poem Alberta Turner, 1992-04 A poem comes from the same human need as a prayer a curse a lullaby and a keen How can emotion use language to satisfy its most urgent need and how can it share and prolong that satisfaction by putting it into poems that will satisfy the same need in others The answer can be learned and the skill taught Unlike many other textbooks this one has no teaching manual and Alberta Turner does not expect those who use it to agree with her interpretations Each principle is illustrated with detailed analysis of several poems but it is up to the teachers and students to decide whether it has succeeded or failed Poetic tastes can t be legislated they have to creep by underground runners Although a poem never illustrates only one poetic principle at a time this book has focused on each separately Since the book is intended to be used by beginning poets the principles are sequenced from simpler to more complex As courses in writing poetry range from two week enrichment programs to full semester college workshops the book is arranged so that the course can be shortened or lengthened This book will work best for flexible imaginative teachers of flexible imaginative students A Collegiate Press book

Poem-making Myra Cohn Livingston, 1991 Introduces the different kinds of poetry and the mechanics of writing poetry providing an opportunity for the reader to experience the joy of making a poem

Poem Central Shirley McPhillips, 2023-10-10 In everything we have to understand poetry can help Tony Hoagland Harper s April 2013 In Poem Central Word Journeys with Readers and Writers Shirley McPhillips helps us better understand the central role poetry can play in our personal lives and in the life of our classrooms She introduces us to professional poets teachers and students people of different ages and walks of life who are actively engaged in reading and making poems Their stories and their work show us the power of poems to illuminate the ordinary to nurture inspire and stand alongside us for the journey Poem Central is divided into three main parts weaving poetry into our lives and our classrooms reading poems and writing poems McPhillips has structured the book in short sections that are easy to read and dip into Each section has a specific focus provides background knowledge shows poets at work highlights information on crafting defines poetic terms features finished work includes classroom examples and lists additional resources In Poem Central a place where people and poems meet teachers and students will discover how to find their way into a poem have conversations around poems and learn fresh and exciting ways to make poems Readers will enjoy the dozens of poems throughout the book that serve to instruct to inspire and to send us on unique word journeys of the mind and heart

The Making of Literature Rolfe Arnold Scott-James,1928 Explorations In Creative Writing Kevin Brophy,2016-02-16 This set of reflective essays about the writing life examines the poetics and politics of reading as a writer teaching and learning about writing in an academic or informal setting and pacing oneself through writing projects Academic investigations about the medieval concept of the writer and the novelization of the poem accompany more practical discussions about keeping a writer's sketchbook and conducting research The growth of creative writing programs and the particular role of the artist in Australian society is explored

Shakespeare's Sisters Sandra M. Gilbert,Susan Gubar,1979 Best of Prairie Schooner Hilda Raz,Kate Flaherty,2000-01-01 Gathers notable essays by sixteen poets novelists and critics of Prairie Schooner who explore personal memories of planting season fishing homecoming death and homosexuality

One Poem in Search of a Translator Eugenia Loffredo,Manuela Perteghella,2009 Translation is a journey a journey undertaken by the text hopping around the world and mischievously border crossing from one language to another from one culture to another For a translator this journey can become a truly creative engagement with the otherness of the source text an experience of self discovery leading to understanding and enrichment and ultimately towards a new text This singular literary experiment intends to magnify the idiosyncrasy of this translational journey In the process translation reveals itself as an increasingly creative activity rather than simply a linguistic transfer This volume consists of twelve translations of one poem Les Fen tres by the French poet Apollinaire The translators embarking on this project all from different backgrounds and working contexts poets professional translators academics visual artists were asked to engage with the inherent multimodality of this poem inspired by Robert Delaunay's Les Fen tres series of paintings The result is a kaleidoscopic diversity of approaches and final products Each translation is accompanied by self reflective commentary which provides insight into the complex process and experience of translation enticing the reader to join this journey too process that involves more than intellect alone Writers make use of everything their sensibilities history culture knowledge experience education and even their biology These essays seek out and gather into a discussion what writers have said about their own experiences in writing Although the writers are from around the world and of very different backgrounds the commonality of their remarks brings home the realization that writers everywhere are grappling with similar problems with the seemingly simple problems of when where why and what to write but also larger questions such as the relationship between writer and society or issues of privacy appropriation or homelessness While none of these questions can be definitively answered they can be fruitfully discussed Originating as questions posed in creative writing seminars these essays have grown into companion texts for both writers and readers who want to participate in a conversation about what writers do
