Nexica, Matt Wray, 2001-09-07 Bringing together new articles and essays from the controversial Berkeley conference of the same name The Making and Unmaking of Whiteness presents a fascinating range of inquiry into the nature of whiteness Representing academics independent scholars community organizers and antiracist activists the contributors are all leaders in the second wave of whiteness studies who collectively aim to combat the historical legacies of white supremacy and to inform those who seek to understand the changing nature of white identity both in the United States and abroad With essays devoted to theories of racial domination comparative global racisms and transnational white identity the geographical reach of the volume is significant and broad Dalton Conley writes on How I Learned to Be White Allan B rub discusses the intersection of gay identity and whiteness and Mab Segrest describes the spiritual price white people pay for living in a system of white supremacy Other pieces examine the utility of whiteness as a critical term for social analysis and contextualize different attempts at antiracist activism In a razor sharp introduction the editors not only raise provocative questions about the intellectual social and political goals of those interested in the study of whiteness but assess several of the topic s major recurrent themes the visibility of whiteness or the lack thereof the emptiness of whiteness as a category of identification and conceptions of whiteness as a structural privilege a harbinger of violence or an institutionalization of European imperialism Contributors William Aal Allan B rub Birgit Brander Rasmussen Dalton Conley Troy Duster Ruth Frankenberg John Hartigan Jr Eric Klinenberg Eric Lott Irene J Nexica Michael Omi Jasbir Kaur Puar Mab Segrest Vron Ware Howard Winant Matt Wray

American Liberalism Carol A. Horton,2005-09-08 Race and the Making of American Liberalism traces the roots of the contemporary crisis of progressive liberalism deep into the nation s racial past Horton argues that the contemporary conservative claim that the American liberal tradition has been rooted in a color blind conception of individual rights is inaccurate and misleading In contrast American liberalism has alternatively served both to support and oppose racial hierarchy as well as socioeconomic inequality more broadly Racial politics in the United States have repeatedly made it exceedingly difficult to establish powerful constituencies that understand socioeconomic equity as vital to American democracy and aspire to limit gross disparities of wealth power and status Revitalizing such equalitarian conceptions of American liberalism Horton suggests will require developing new forms of racial and class identity that support rather than sabotage this fundamental political commitment Stuck In The Sixties George Rising,2010-11-08 The 1960s were a colorful tumultuous age that transformed American society Ever since the decade ended Americans have debated the changes that it unleashed While most liberals argue that the era s effects were mainly positive and long overdue conservatives perceive the 1960s as a disastrous time that has left ruinous legacies for us Stuck in the Sixties analyzes conservative views about the 1960s era and its legacies by examining their discourse about such sixties figures and movements as John F Kennedy Martin Luther King Jr the civil rights movement the Warren Court the Great Society the Vietnam War the anti war movement the New Left and the counterculture The book reveals that for a generation a focus on attacking and reversing the legacies of the 1960s has been essential to the conservative Republican agenda The Old Left and the Rise of the
