Making Patriots:

Making Patriots Walter Berns, 2002-09-15 Although Samuel Johnson once remarked that patriotism is the last refuge of scoundrels over the course of the history of the United States we have seen our share of heroes patriots who have willingly put their lives at risk for this country and especially its principles And this is even more remarkable given that the United States is a country founded on the principles of equality and democracy that encourage individuality and autonomy far more readily than public spiritedness and self sacrifice Walter Berns's Making Patriots is a pithy and provocative essay on precisely this paradox How is patriotism inculcated in a system that some argue is founded on self interest Expertly and intelligibly guiding the reader through the history and philosophy of patriotism in a republic from the ancient Greeks through contemporary life Berns considers the unique nature of patriotism in the United States and its precarious state And he argues that while both public education and the influence of religion once helped to foster a public minded citizenry the very idea of patriotism is currently under attack Berns finds the best answers to his questions in the thought and words of Abraham Lincoln who understood perhaps better than anyone what the principles of democracy meant and what price adhering to them may exact The graves at Arlington and Gettysburg and Omaha Beach in Normandy bear witness to the fact that self interested individuals can become patriots and Making Patriots is a compelling exploration of how this was done and how it might be again

The Making of a Patriot Sheila L. Skemp, 2013-06-15 On January 29 1774 Benjamin Franklin was called to appear before the Privy Council a select group of the king's advisors in an octagonal shaped room in Whitehall Palace known as the Cockpit Spurred by jeers and applause from the audience in the Cockpit Solicitor General Alexander Wedderburn unleashed a withering tirade against Franklin Though Franklin entered the room as a dutiful servant of the British crown he left as a budding American revolutionary In The Making of a Patriot renowned Franklin historian Sheila L. Skemp presents an insightful lively narrative that goes beyond the traditional Franklin biography and behind the common myths to demonstrate how Franklin's ultimate decision to support the colonists was by no means a foregone conclusion In fact up until the Cockpit ordeal he was steadfastly committed to achieving an accommodation of our differences The Making of a Patriot sheds light on the conspiratorial framework within which actors on both sides of the Atlantic moved toward revolution It highlights how this event ultimately pitted Franklin against his son suggesting that the Revolution was in no small part also a civil war modern critics believe that the work cannot be considered a proper biography James Boswell 1740 1795 was a lawyer diarist and author born in Edinburgh Scotland He is best known for the biography he wrote of one of his contemporaries the English literary figure Samuel Johnson which the modern Johnsonian critic Harold Bloom has claimed is the greatest biography written in the English language

Making History in Mugabe's Zimbabwe Blessing-Miles Tendi, 2010 The crisis that has engulfed Zimbabwe since 2000 is not simply a struggle against dictatorship It is also a struggle over ideas and deep seated historical issues still unresolved from the independence process that both Robert Mugabe's ZANU PF regime and Morgan Tsvangirai's MDC are vying first to define and then to address This book traces the role of politicians and public intellectuals in media civil society and the academy in producing and disseminating a politically usable historical narrative concerning ideas about patriotism race land human rights and sovereignty It raises pressing questions about the role of contemporary African intellectuals in the making of democratic societies In so doing the book adds a new and rich dimension to the study of African politics which is often diluted by the neglect of ideas
