Social Ecology and Education David Wright, Stuart B. Hill, 2020-09-01 Social Ecology and Education addresses ecological understanding as a transformative educational issue a learning response to emerging insights into social ecological relationships and the future of life on our planet In the face of the existential threats posed by climate change loss of biodiversity pandemics and the associated ecological and social challenges there is a need to extend our responses beyond scientific inquiry and technological initiatives This book seeks to move the dialogue towards a deeper and broader understanding of the complexities of the issues involved To achieve this the book discusses issues rarely addressed through programs in Education for Sustainability and Environmental Education such as student defined knowledge systems deep engagement with the implications of indigenous understandings climate change as symptomatic of broad epistemological problems social disengagement and differentiated barriers to meaningful change This work is enriched by its focus on the learning and the learning systems that have led to our current predicament This book seeks to initiate considerations of this kind to invigorate education for sustainable equitable healthy and meaningful futures As such this book will be of great interest to undergraduate and postgraduate students in a range of education and environmental courses Finance for a Better World F. Lépineux, 2009-04-14 What has prompted the shift toward sustainability in numerous financial areas Can investors mindsets be changed to embrace a long term view Can shareholders and activists play a greater role in encouraging financial actors to behave more responsibly These are some of the relevant topics that are explored in this forward looking set of essays Social Ecology Helmut Haberl, Marina Fischer-Kowalski, Fridolin Krausmann, Verena Winiwarter, 2016-07-01 This book presents the current state of the art in Social Ecology as practiced by the Vienna School of Social Ecology globally one of the main research groups in this field As a significant contribution to the growing literature on interdisciplinary sustainability studies the book introduces the purpose and nature of Social Ecology and then places the Vienna School within the broader context of socioecological and other interdisciplinary environmental approaches The conceptual and methodological foundations of Social Ecology are discussed in detail allowing the reader to obtain a broad overview of current socioecological thinking Issues covered include socio metabolic transitions socioecological approaches to land use the relation between actor centered and system approaches a socioecological theory of labor and the importance of legacies as conceived in Environmental History and in Long Term Socio Ecological Research To underpin this overview empirically the strengths of socioecological research are elucidated in cases of cutting edge research introducing a variety of themes the Vienna School has been tackling empirically over the past years Given how the field is presented reflecting research carried out on different scales reaching from local to global as well as from past to present and future and due to the way the book is structured it is suitable for classroom use as a primer and also as an overview of how Social Ecology evolved right up to its current research frontiers Realizing an Alternative Political Economy of Sustainability Arturo

Hermann, 2025-07-25 Engagement with and between a plurality of progressive non neoclassical traditions is an important step in fostering a more capacious understanding of sustainability both as a concept and as a political objective To that end this book provides a critical overview of the development of alternative perspectives on the economics of sustainability highlighting the presence of various strands of heterodox economics and radical ecology and arguing that greater engagement between these schools of thought is required to help formulate viable alternatives to the prevailing neoliberal ideology The chapters in Part I of this volume Ecofeminism Social Ecological Economics Bioeconomics Steady State present a series of concrete policy proposals for building socially just sustainable socio economic processes Each chapter utilizes the acumen of a given heterodox tradition to formulate policy reforms to secure this objective In Part II Heterodox Macroeconomics and Sustainability the contributors make the case for more radical forms of socio economic transformation particularly emphasizing community local and regional level initiatives for change The final part Circular Economy Civil Economy and Other Heterodox Contributions reflects on the potential strategic political economic contribution of heterodox economics to building more sustainable and just socio economic practices in a broader sense These chapters demonstrate that heterodox economics and radical ecology can productively contribute to realizing sustainability in areas such as economic pedagogy through working in conjunction with other social justice movements and by challenging extant neoliberal ideologies of sustainability They also deliberate on some of the institutional and epistemological challenges that confront heterodox practitioners seeking to make such an impact This volume is essential reading for anyone concerned with a viable alternative conception of the economy and sustainability including readers from all schools of heterodox economics and radical ecology and people and organizations involved in various ways in building an alternative political economy of sustainability

Tourism Resilience and Adaptation to Environmental Change Alan A. Lew, Joseph M.

Cheer, 2017-07-31 In recent years resilience theory has come to occupy the core of our understanding and management of the adaptive capacity of people and places in complex social and environmental systems Despite this tourism scholars have been slow to adopt resilience concepts at a time when the emergence of new frameworks and applications is pressing Drawing on original empirical and theoretical insights in resilience thinking this book explores how tourism communities and economies respond to environmental changes both fast natural hazard disasters and slow incremental shifts It explores how tourism places adapt change and sometimes transform or not in relation to their environmental context with an awareness of intersection with societal dynamics and links to political economic and social drivers of change Contributions draw on empirical research conducted in a range of international settings including indigenous communities to explore the complexity and gradations of environmental change encounters and resilience planning responses in a range of tourism contexts As the first book to specifically focus on environmental change from a resilience perspective this timely and original work makes a critical contribution to tourism studies tourism management and environmental geography as well as environmental sciences
