organization that worked closely with the US State Department in an effort to expand the American film industry's dominance worldwide. This book offers insight into and analysis of European efforts to overcome the American film industry's pre-eminence. It focuses particularly on Britain, Hollywood's largest overseas market of the interwar years; France, a nation with an alternative vision of cinema; and Belgium, which was entrusted by the Vatican with coordination of the international movement against depravity in films. In contributing to the understanding of American popular culture at home and abroad, this study demonstrates Hollywood's role in orchestrating the American Century.

Arguing about Art Alex Neill, Aaron Ridley, 2002. Within this edition, five new sections have been added on interpretation, objectivity, gardening, horror, and morality, and many of the introductions have been updated. The book should appeal to students of art history, literature, and cultural studies, as well as philosophy.

Revenge of the Movie Monster Models Mark C. Glassy, 2024-05-29. Science fiction and fantasy movies of the 20th century feature many iconic figures and monsters, and the ability to create and own many of them in the form of models provides fans with an opportunity to mingle amongst the greats and not-so-greats. This book is a collection of figures and dioramas of monsters from both science fiction and fantasy films. Models are presented in chronological order, decade by decade, starting with films in the silent era and running through the end of the century. The building and painting of the figures and dioramas of various scenes from these films, some more accurately than others, provides an opportunity to preserve key moments in these movies.

Movie Monsters of the Deep Faith Roswell, 2024-07-30. Is there a shark movie that is scarier than Jaws? What is the sneaky secret hidden in the Loch Ness monster's name? How did the Gill man in Creature from the Black Lagoon become a romantic hero? Do mermaids count as sea monsters? What terrifying sea creature was discovered to really exist, and just what on earth is a globster? From Kraken to kaiju, Open Water to The Shallows, monsters of the deep have fascinated and horrified us for centuries. There's even a name for the fear of deep bodies of water: thalassophobia. Humans have a natural fear of predators in the water, and yet we just can't stop thinking about them. There are a lot of deep water monster movies out there: good, bad, strange, and so bad it's good. This book has collected some of the best, worst, and most interesting out there to tell you about. If you ever wanted to know your crocodile from your Cthulhu and find out how they make the monsters come alive, whether you like your monsters in the ocean or in lakes based on real animals or totally made up with fins or tentacles, one head or five, if you love your movie monsters of the deep, then this book was written for you.

Science Fiction Film Directors, 1895-1998 Dennis Fischer, 2011-12-14. This enormous and exhaustive reference book has entries on every major and minor director of science fiction films from the inception of cinema circa 1895 through 1998. For each director, there is a complete filmography including television work, a career summary, a critical assessment, and behind-the-scenes production information. Seventy-nine directors are covered in especially lengthy entries, and a short history of the science fiction film genre is also included.

Atomic Bomb Cinema Jerome F. Shapiro, 2013-05-13.

Unfathomably merciless and powerful the atomic bomb has left its indelible mark on film In Atomic Bomb Cinema Jerome F Shapiro unearths the unspoken legacy of the bombing of Nagasaki and Hiroshima and its complex aftermath in American and Japanese cinema According to Shapiro a Bomb film is never simply an exercise in ideology or paranoia He examines hundreds of films like Godzilla Dr Strangelove and The Terminator as a body of work held together by ancient narrative and symbolic traditions that extol survival under devastating conditions Drawing extensively on both English language and Japanese language sources Shapiro argues that such films not only grapple with our nuclear anxieties but also offer signs of hope that humanity is capable of repairing a damaged and divided world www atomicbombcinema com Keep Watching the Skies! Bill Warren,2017-01-12 Bill Warren s Keep Watching the Skies was originally published in two volumes in 1982 and 1986 It was then greatly expanded in what we called the 21st Century Edition with new entries on several films and revisions and expansions of the commentary on every film In addition to a detailed plot synopsis full cast and credit listings and an overview of the critical reception of each film Warren delivers richly informative assessments of the films and a wealth of insights and anecdotes about their making The book contains 273 photographs many rare 35 in color has seven useful appendices and concludes with an enormous index This book is also available in hardcover format ISBN 978 0 7864 4230 0 The Philosophy of Horror Noel Carroll,2003-09-02 Noel Carroll film scholar and philosopher offers the first serious look at the aesthetics of horror In this book he discusses the nature and narrative structures of the genre dealing with horror as a transmedia phenomenon A fan and serious student of the horror genre Carroll brings to bear his comprehensive knowledge of obscure and forgotten works as well as of the horror masterpieces Working from a philosophical perspective he tries to account for how people can find pleasure in having their wits scared out of them What after all are those paradoxes of the heart that make us want to be horrified Cheap Tricks and Class Acts John "J.J." Johnson,2009-02-13 In the 1950s Hollywood unleashed a wave of monsters everything from demon aliens and dinosaurs to blobs and bloated bugs infested theaters and drive ins Lost worlds were discovered unnatural terrors shook the screen gigantism ran rampant Moviegoers were left with one question How did they do that This work uncovers the cheap and challenging behind the scenes production secrets of the fantastic films of the 1950s Special technical effects visual effects menacing makeup stunts fantastic sets and film locations are all covered in detail along with the many men and women who shared in these occasionally brilliant and usually outrageous efforts Also included is a lengthy checklist of the prominent makeup stunt prop and effects artists of the era with a listing of their fantastic film credits Prehistoric Humans in Film and Television Michael Klossner,2015-01-09 From the early days of the movies cavemen have been a popular subject for filmmakers not surprisingly since the birth of cinema occurred only a few decades after the earliest scientific studies of prehistoric man Filmmakers however were not constrained by the emerging science instead they most often took a comedic look at prehistory a trend that continued throughout the 20th century Prehistoric humans also populated adventure fantasy films with the original One Million B C 1940 leading the charge Documentaries were also made but it was not until the 1970s that accurate film accounts of prehistoric humans finally emerged This exhaustive work provides detailed accounts of 581 film and television productions that feature depictions of human prehistory Included are dramas and comedies set in human prehistory documentaries and films and television shows in which prehistoric people somehow exist in historical periods from the advent of civilization up to the present or in extraterrestrial settings Each entry includes full filmographic data including year of release running time production personnel cast information and format A description of each film provides background on the prehistoric elements Contemporary critical commentary is included for many of the works

Horror at the Drive-In Gary D. Rhodes, 2015-09-03 Drive in movie theaters and the horror films shown at them during the 1950s 60s and early 70s may be somewhat outdated but they continue to enthrall movie buffs today More than just fodder for the satirical cannons of Joe Bob Briggs and Mystery Science Theatre 3000 they appeal to knowledgeable fans and film scholars who understand their influence on American popular culture This book is a collection of eighteen essays by various scholars on the classic drive in horror film experience Those in Section One emphasize the roles of the drive in theater in the United States and its cultural cousin Australia Section Two examines how horror operated at the drive in the rhetoric used in coming attraction trailers horror film premieres at drive ins double features and the preproduction production and marketing of Last House on the Left Section Three addresses the effects of the Vietnam War and counter culture on The Texas Chainsaw Massacre and the Cold War on Cat Women of the Moon Section Four explores gender issues and sexuality two of the most common and most important subjects of horror film analysis Section Five covers drive in culture via Hush Hush Sweet Charlotte 2000 Maniacs and the films of Mario Bava Section Six investigates a variety of issues such as the drive in horror film s embrace of DNA the use of cinematic form to create a non Hollywood look in Wizard of Gore and the many different prints and running times of I Drink Your Blood
