only makes us realize that traditional wisdom and jungles need to be preserved but also warms the heart Mari Pangestu Indonesias Minister of Tourism The Jungle School puts a human face on the results of logging and deforestation practices that directly threaten the existence of the Orang Rimba Although the rights of the often forgotten Rimba people are protected by our laws their aspirations are sometimes ignored in the management of rainforests and their resources Education for the Rimba is truly a gift for life Butets story will change the hearts and minds of those who think otherwise Agus Purnomo Special Staff to the President of the Republic of Indonesia for Climate Change The Jungle School comes at a critical moment in the development of the present civilization It combats all the theoretical complexity of educational developments to smooth the process from literate society to knowledge society welfare society to cultured and civilized society Butet Manurung shows that the impossible is possible by touching the hearts and minds of the Orang Rimba by reaching the unreachable soul of an indigenous community by helping us to understand what it means to be human She inspires readers and takes them on a journey of educational adventure that highlights best practices which can also be applied in any metropolitan jungle that needs intellectual perseverance Butet shows her intellectual courage integrity and her sacrifices to become a hero of education She exercises the intellectual virtues that we all need today to have a healthy mind set in the pursuit of human rights and dignity It is in the minds of men that the defense of peace must be constructed UNESCO Constitution Arief Rachman Professor Planet Paradise and the Law of the Jungle Morris Haimowitz,2012

Memories from the Jungle Tristan Garcia,2025-05 Memories from the Jungle is set in an unspecified future in which Earth has been rendered uninhabitable by pollution and war Most humans live in orbital stations surrounding the globe while only animals still survive on the African continent along with a few scientists who study them in a kind of zoo and experimental laboratory Doogie a chimpanzee has been raised as a human by a zoological researcher Gardner Evans and his daughter Janet Doogie is no ordinary chimpanzee gifted with an exceptional intelligence perhaps the result of a scientific experiment he has been taught a fairly sophisticated version of the human language is capable of human emotions such as love and jealousy and has a highly developed understanding of human behavior After an accident to the spacecraft that was bringing him back to Earth from an orbital station Doogie finds himself alone in the jungle In order to survive he must rediscover the very animal nature he has been trained to reject A Jungle Named Academia Yukiko Inoue-Smith, 2015-11-03 Professional ethics require continuous self improvement of professors through writing reading and learning no less than for students Promoting excellence in scholarship mentoring students in their research and effectively teaching are vital elements in our professional and personal growth However any one of these could be a full time job in itself To excel in each role it is essential for faculty members to reflect daily on our work What is the role of comparisons in this reflection Though our colleagues successes may suggest to us possibilities in our own work that we didn't know existed there is a danger that our neighbor's flowers will always seem more beautiful than our own We should let comparisons with others suggest new approaches to our goals but never focus on comparing our outcomes successes and failures with those of other people Instead we should focus on steadily improving our own levels of mastery of skills in scholarship and in work with students In American academia where both faculty members and students are ethnically and culturally diverse such that we will often find our assumptions challenged reflective thinking is even more essential than in a culturally homogeneous environment Hence reflective systematic approaches to daily practice in reading teaching and writing are powerful survival tactics and are likely to sustain one's vitality and productivity as a member of the academy Jungle Life in India Valentine Ball, 1880 Travels by member of Indian Geological Survey 1864-1878 chiefly in Bengal also in Madhya Pradesh Orissa Andaman Nicobar Islands It's a Jungle Up There Margaret D. M. Tomlinson, 2022-07-31 In The Sea and the Jungle H M Tomlinson masterfully weaves a narrative that blends personal reflection with vivid exploration of the untamed world Set against the backdrop of the Amazon and the sea the book epitomizes early 20th century literary modernism through its intricate prose and impressionistic style Tomlinson's keen observations illuminate the interplay between civilization and nature while his lyrical language evokes both the beauty and the peril inherent in the wilderness challenging readers to ponder humanity's relationship with the natural world H M Tomlinson was a British writer journalist and adventurer whose extensive travels and experiences informed much of his work enriching his vivid portrayal of exotic locales His encounters with diverse cultures and natural landscapes fostered a deep appreciation for the complex dynamics of life leading him to pen this reflective travel narrative Tomlinson s belief in the transformative power of exploration resonates throughout the text as he seeks to convey not just the physical journey but a profound introspection borne from it This book is highly recommended for those interested in adventure literature environmental philosophy or the early modernist movement With its rich imagery and thought provoking themes The Sea and the Jungle invites readers to embark on a journey that transcends mere travel ultimately exploring the wild terrains of both the earth and the human spirit
