In Foreign Lands: The Migration of Scientists for Political or Economic Reasons Maria Teresa Borgato, Christine Phili, 2022-04-13 This proceedings volume collects the stories of mathematicians and scientists who have spent and developed parts of their careers and life in countries other than those of their origin The reasons may have been different in different periods but were often driven by political or economic circumstances The lack of suitable employment opportunities in their home countries adverse political systems and wars have led to the emigration of scientists The volume shows that these movements have played an important role in spreading scientific knowledge and have often changed the scientific landscape tradition and future of studies and research fields The book analyses in particular aspects of Euler s Lagrange s and Boscovich s scientific biographies migrations of scientists from France Spain and Greece to Russia in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries and from Russia to France in the twentieth century exiles from Italy before the Italian Risorgimento migrations inside Europe and the escape of mathematicians from Nazi fascist Europe between the two World Wars as well as the mobility of experts around the world It includes selected contributions from the symposium In Foreign Lands The Migration of Scientists for Political or Economic Reasons held at the Conference of the International Academy of the History of Science in Athens September 2019

Imagining the Past Colleen Manassa, 2013-10-25 Five hundred years before Homer immortalized the Trojan Horse the ancient Egyptians had already composed a tale of soldiers hiding Ali Baba like in baskets to capture a besieged city Shortly after the rise to power of the warrior pharaoh Ramesses II Egyptian authors began to write stories about battles and conquest However these stories were not set in the present but in the past they were the world's first works of historical fiction These literary recreations of past events which preserve fascinating mixtures of fact and fiction provide unparalleled information about topics as diverse as ancient Egyptian historiography religion and notions of humor and wit Imagining the Past is the first volume to provide complete translations and commentary for the historical fiction composed during Egypt's New Kingdom The four works include The Quarrel of Apepi and Seqenenre The Capture of Joppa Thutmose III in Asia The Libyan Battle Story An introduction explores Egyptian conceptions of the past the universe of historical and literary texts in New Kingdom Egypt and the definition of a new genre of Egyptian literature Extensive commentary and new translations appear within each chapter and a concluding analysis summarizes the audience and function of historical fiction as well as theology and historiography within the tales Despite the fragmentary nature of the papyrus copies the thorough research into the literary political and social context of each tale allows a modern reader to explore this forgotten literary subfield and appreciate the stories as works of historical fiction

The Poetics and Politics of the Desert Catrin Gersdorf, 2009 This study explores the ways in which the desert as topographical space and cultural presence shaped and reshaped concepts and images of America Once a territory outside the geopolitical and cultural borders of the United States the deserts of the West and Southwest have since emerged as canonical American landscapes Drawing on the critical concepts of American studies and on questions and problems raised in recent debates on ecocriticism The Poetics and Politics of the Desert investigates the spatial rhetoric of America as it developed in view of arid landscapes since the mid nineteenth century Gersdorf argues that the integration of the desert into America catered to the entire spectrum of ideological and political responses to the history and culture of the US maintaining that the Americanization of this landscape was and continues to be staged within the idiomatic parameters and in reaction to the discursive authority of four spatial metaphors garden wilderness Orient and heterotopia

Hydrographic Office, 1894 Return to Kahiki Kealani Cook, 2018-01-25 An important new analysis of Native Hawaiian efforts to construct relationships with other Oceanic peoples as missionaries diplomats and tourists Empire of the Air Jenifer Van Vleck, 2013-11-01 Jenifer Van Vleck's Empire of the Air reveals the central role commercial aviation played in the US ascent to global preeminence in the twentieth century as the federal government partnered with the aviation industry to deliver American power across the globe and sell the idea of the American Century to the public at home and abroad The Lost Land of Lemuria Sumathi Ramaswamy, 2004-09-27 During the nineteenth century Lemuria was imagined as a land that once bridged India and Africa but disappeared into the ocean millennia ago much like Atlantis A sustained meditation on a lost place from a lost time this elegantly written book is the first to explore Lemuria's incarnations across cultures from Victorian era science to Euro American occultism to colonial and postcolonial India The Lost Land of Lemuria widens into a provocative exploration of the poetics and politics of loss to consider how this sentiment manifests itself in a fascination with vanished homelands hidden civilizations and forgotten peoples More than a consideration of nostalgia it shows how ideas once entertained but later discarded in the metropole can travel to the periphery and can be appropriated by those seeking to construct a meaningful world within the disenchantment of modernity Sumathi Ramaswamy ultimately reveals how loss itself has become a condition of modernity compelling us to rethink the politics of imagination and creativity in our day All Things Ancient Egypt Lisa K.
