Myth Of The Electronic Library Librarianship And Social Change In America:

The Myth of the Electronic Library William F. Birdsall, 1994-07-30 Librarians develop myths to explain themselves to society and to generate support for their profession Since the last quarter of the 19th century the prevailing myth has been the myth of the library as place Confronted with social change librarians are searching for a new myth They are abandoning the myth of the library as place and are adopting uncritically the assumptions and values of the myth of the electronic library with profound consequences for the future of librarianship This book examines the assumptions and values of the myth of the electronic library compares them with the myth of the library as place and explores the meaning of the library as a place alternatives to the information society the role of the librarian in a therapeutic society and the politics of librarianship It concludes with a set of propositions with the objective of encouraging librarians to assess critically the role of libraries and librarianship in the context of social change and especially to debate more fully the implications of the myth of the electronic library for librarians and the users of the library

After the Book George Stachokas, 2014-09-04 Libraries and librarians have been defined by the book throughout modern history What happens when society increasingly lets print go in favour of storing retrieving and manipulating electronic information What happens after the book After the Book explores how the academic library of the 21st Century is first and foremost a provider of electronic information services Contemporary users expect today's library to provide information as quickly and efficiently as other online information resources The book argues that librarians need to change what they know how they work and how they are perceived in order to succeed according to the terms of this new paradigm This title is structured into eight chapters An introduction defines the challenge of electronic resources and makes the case for finding solutions and following chapters cover diversions and half measures and the problem for libraries in the 21st century Later chapters discuss solving problems through professional identity and preparation before final chapters cover reorganizing libraries to serve users adapting to scarcity and the digital divide Describes how electronic resources constitute both a challenge and an opportunity for libraries Argues that librarians can re define themselves Puts the case that libraries can be reorganized to optimize electronic resource management and information services based on contemporary technology and user needs Libr@ries Cushla Kapitzke, Bertram C. Bruce, 2013-02-01 This volume is the first to examine the social cultural and political implications of the shift from the traditional forms and functions of print based libraries to the delivery of online information in educational contexts Libr@ries are conceptualized as physical places virtual spaces communities of literate practice and discourses of information work Despite the centrality of libraries in literacy and learning the study of libraries has remained isolated within the disciplinary boundaries of information and library science since its inception in the early twentieth century The aim of this book is to problematize and thereby mainstream this field of intellectual endeavor and inquiry Collectively the contributors interrogate the presuppositions of current library practice seek to understand how library as place and library as space blend together in ways that may be both contradictory and complementary and envision new modes of information access and new multimodal literacies enabled by online environments Libr@ries Changing Information Space and Practice is intended for advanced undergraduate and graduate students researchers and educators in the fields of literacy and multiliteracies education communication technologies in education library sciences information and communication studies media and cultural studies and the sociology of computer mediated space The Library of the 21st Century Jianzhong Wu, 2005 This work is divided into two parts The first is based on the author's New Perspectives on the Library of the 21st Century The second consists of three articles on library development in China and Shanghai specifically

Exploring Education for Digital Librarians Sue Myburgh, Anna Maria Tammara, 2013-04-17 Exploring Education for Digital Librarians provides a refreshing perspective on the discipline and profession of Library and Information Science LIS with a focus on preparing students for careers as librarians who can deal with present and future digital information environments A re examination of the knowledge base of the field combined with a proposed theoretical structure for LIS provide the basis for this work which also examines competencies for practice as well as some of the international changes in the nature of higher education The authors finally suggest a model that could be used internationally to educate librarians for their new roles and social responsibilities in a digitised networked world The twelve chapters of this book cover key issues in education for digital librarians including the necessity of regenerating the profession current contexts previous research on education for digital librarians understanding the dimensions of the discipline and profession of librarianship and the distinctions between them the social purpose of librarianship as a profession and the theoretical framework which supports the practice of the profession a brief analysis of curriculum design pedagogies and teaching methods and a glimpse of the proactive and important future role of librarianship in society Considers the ubiquitous misunderstanding that technology can replace libraries and librarians Provides a theoretical view of the field which can contribute awareness of dimensions of the dilemmas which the discipline profession currently faces Presents a broad international perspective which provides a basis for a new model for LIS education Advances in Library Administration and Organization Delmus E. Williams, Janine Golden, 2014-02-21 Volume 32 of Advances in Library Administration and Organization brings together a collection of studies which highlight up and coming issues that today's library managers and researchers face Serials to the Tenth Power Mary Ann Sheble, Beth Holley, 2019-12-06 This book first published in 1996 provides readers with practical ideas on managing the challenges of the electronic information environment The proceedings of the tenth anniversary conference of the North American Serials Interest Group NASIG the book covers how electronic publishing impacts the dissemination of knowledge in general and specific related issues Contributors include librarians publishers vendors and editors of electronic journals They offer readers diverse perspectives about copyright law in the digital world the future of information dissemination challenges of innovative approaches to providing information in electronic format standards for identifying and citing electronic resources bibliographic control of Internet resources and organization of service delivery to meet the challenges of evolving technology Scholarly Book Reviewing in the Social Sciences and Humanities Ylva Lindholm-Romantschuk, 1998-01-26 This study explores the flow of information within and among academic disciplines in the social sciences and humanities through analyses of the patterns of scholarly book reviewing An elite sample of scholarly monographs published by university presses between 1971 and 1990 was used Beginning with Derek de Solla Price the measurement of communication within the disciplines of science has been ongoing In the present book that field of inquiry is summarized and provides a basis for examining the flow of information in the social sciences and humanities

Development of Digital Libraries Deanna B. Marcum, 2001-10-30 Every year leading librarians scholars and administrators from the United States are invited to give papers on important library related topics at the Kanazawa Institute of Technology's Roundtable From 1995 to 1999 some aspect of digital library development was the theme of the symposium and the essays in this collection are all devoted to that topic In these essays some of the most innovative thinkers and practitioners discuss how digital libraries have been conceived and implemented in the United States Insight into the policy legal and technical frameworks of digital libraries is given while honest views of problems encountered in trying to integrate digital and traditional libraries are given Finally some of the essays explore how users are affected by digital library services

The New Media Theory Reader Hassan, Robert, Thomas, Julian, 2006-09-01 The study of new media opens up some of the most fascinating issues in contemporary culture bringing together key readings on new media what it is where it came from how it affects our lives and how it is managed It encourages readers to pay attention to the new in new media as well as consider it as a historical phenomenon Sociology of Information Management Girja Kumar, 1998 Study to Identify Measures Necessary for a Successful Transition to a More Electronic Federal Depository Library Program, 1996 Challenging the "Jacks of All Trades but Masters of None" Librarian Syndrome George J. Fowler, Samantha Schmehl Hines, 2018-09-17 This volume will explore the current purpose of librarianship and libraries how we become

Masters of our Domains develop expertise in various elements of the profession and how we extend outward into our communities

The New Information Professional Sue Myburgh, 2014-01-23 This book looks at the role of the information professional in the changing environment in which they now work Information professionals find themselves in a paradoxical situation there is increased interest in information and its management stimulated by the Internet and simultaneously diminished recognition by employers and the public at large of the theory and practice of library and information science This has resulted in the invasion of traditional library and information science territory by rival groups such as information technologists system analysts business consultants and even accountants while information professionals with appropriate skills are ignored or even unemployed This book provides clarification of the many issues facing both practicing information managers and library and information science students as well as providing a guide to the new and diverse career pathways available in the field These tools assist individuals in achieving greater success in their careers as well as leading to greater recognition of the contribution of library and information services in organisations and society Assists practitioners plan progressive career paths and increase their status within organisations Describes a practical and practicable approach to the management of information knowledge and documents which will clarify issues for both information managers and their employers The only book of its type written by an author with wide international experience in practice and academia which distils a diverse range of points of view into one easily accessible and useful source

Brief Tests of Collection Strength Howard D. White, 1995-09-26 For purposes of accreditation resource sharing and institutional mission librarians need to assess the strengths of their collections in particular subject areas This book describes and illustrates a brief test for determining a library's collection strength Though such tests are most often employed in academic libraries the methodology outlined by the author should be useful to all types of libraries in assessing the strength of their holdings In a time of increasing material and limited resources libraries need to be particularly judicious in deciding which works to acquire Oftentimes a library seeks to develop strong holdings in one or more subject areas Such an approach is especially useful for libraries that share their resources with other institutions To plan their acquisitions carefully and to be of greatest use to other consortia members a library needs to gauge the strength of its holdings accurately This volume describes and illustrates a relatively brief test to assign libraries a score for existing collection strength in a subject area Drawing upon expert human judgment and holdings data available from OCLC the test can assist librarians in setting and verifying collection levels on the RLG or WLN Conspectus scales Collection strength is often verified in a labor intensive fashion The brief test presented by the author is an economical alternative to the more typical labor intensive approach to collection analysis

Books, Bricks and Bytes Stephen Richards Graubard, Paul Omer Leclerc, Librarianship and the Information Paradigm Richard A. Apostle, Boris Raymond, 1997 Assesses the extent to which work settings skills and experiences of librarians have been transformed by new information economies and technologies

Library Journal , 1999-04

Electronic Documents and Information Patricia Battin, 1996 The emphasis of this symposium was to examine national and international ways to preserve access and digitize human heritage and culture Many internationally recognized librarians shared their experiences and ideas on that topic The 19 papers presented at the symposium dealt with issues such as the impact of new technologies on information access and delivery the impact of the electronic frontier on relationships between academic programs and research libraries the economics of electronic or virtual libraries electronic acquisitions policy the challenges of preserving the information content while adapting to a new medium document delivery in the 1990s librarian education in the 21st century fair use issues in electronic publishing the possibility of a German national archive for electronic media the effects of electronic publishing on library services paradigm shifts in library automation caused by access to a global market resources for an electronic library national self sufficiency in the electronic age cooperative projects aiming for electronic libraries and aesthetic issues in format conversion The symposium agenda a list of participants and a list of participating vendors are provided Many papers contain author abstracts and references BEW
