of mythical variants and constantly negotiate their adventure and erotic plot with that of traditional myths becoming thus part of the imperial mythical revision to which they add the prospect of a happy ending A Companion to Gottfried Von Strassburg's "Tristan" Will Hasty, 2003 The legend of Tristan and Isolde the archetypal narrative about the turbulent effects of all consuming passionate love achieved its most complete and profound rendering in the German poet Gottfried von Strassburg's verse romance Tristan ca 1200 1210 Along with his great literary rival Wolfram von Eschenbach and his versatile predecessor Hartmann von Aue Gottfried is considered one of three greatest poets produced by medieval Germany and over the centuries his Tristan has lost none of its ability to attract with the beauty of its poetry and to challenge if not provoke with its sympathetic depiction of adulterous love The essays written by a dozen leading Gottfried specialists in Europe and North America provide definitive treatments of significant aspects of this most important and challenging high medieval version of the Tristan legend They examine aspects of Gottfried's unparalleled narrative artistry the important connections between Gottfried's Tristan and the socio cultural situation in which it was composed and the reception of Gottfried's challenging romance both by later poets in the Middle Ages and by nineteenth and twentieth century authors composers and artists particularly Richard Wagner The volume also contains new interpretations of significant figures episodes and elements Riwalin and Blanscheflur Isolde of the White Hands the Love Potion the performance of love the female figures in Gottfried's revolutionary romance which provocatively elevates a sexual human love to a summum bonum Will Hasty is Professor of German at the University of Florida He is the editor of Companion to Wolfram's Parzival Camden House 1999 The Cicerone: or, Art guide to painting in Italy, ed. by A. von Zahn, tr. by Mrs. A.H. Clough Jacob Christoph Burckhardt, 1879 The Cicerone J. Burckhardt, Depicting the Dead Stine Birk, 2013-02-04 The present monograph takes its place in a now well established tradition of seeing sarcophagi as visual statements of deceased individuals that used allegories to plot lives and personal memories against mythological and other idealised narratives It focuses on Roman sarcophagi often referred to as stadtrömisch which reflects the fact that the field has traditionally been dominated by German scholars The aim of the book is twofold Firstly it is an exploration of how to read Roman sarcophagi which starts from those with portraits but which can contribute more broadly to the study of sarcophagi in general Secondly this book investigates gender values as represented through images and how to locate the individual in standardised iconography Wooster Alumni Bulletin, 1888 Unbinding Medea Heike Bartel, 2017-07-05 Medea simply to mention her name conjures up echoes and cross connections from Antiquity to the present The vengeful wife the murderess of her own children the frail suicidal heroine the archetypal Bad Mother the smitten maiden the barbarian the sorceress the abused victim the case study for a pathology For more than two thousand years she has arrested the eye in paintings reverberated in opera called to us from the stage She demands the most interdisciplinary of study from ancient art to contemporary law and medicine she is no more to be bound by any single field of study than by any single take on her character The contributors to
