A Tale of Two Passes William Lowell Putnam,2008-08-01 William Putnam s book chronicles the history of two important routes through the Alps which are devoted to treasuring the history of Mont Cenis and the Great Saint Bernard passages Both of these passes were prominently and frequently used by the Romans in establishing and maintaining their empire It is surmised that Hannibal and his troops found elephant friendly passages through the Mont Cenis corridor Both passes were adorned with hospices shelters near their crest and both now have been bypassed by modern tunnels Despite these similarities their historic prominence derives from distinctly different events and factors There is no passage of the Alps that affords to the traveler greater pleasure either in the enjoyment or the recollection of his journey to Italy than that by the Great Saint Bernard Beside the wildness of this alpine pass and the beauty of the valley of Aosta through which the road down to Turin continues after it leaves the mountains the kind reception that he experiences from the religious community at the hospice on the summit of the Saint Bernard is remembered as long as he can be grateful for the devotion that induces these excellent men to offer the traveler their welcome and spread for him their hospitality in the wilderness Herein lies the histories of these passes and stories of many travelers among the Alps told as much as possible in their own words

Kauffman,1993-09-01 The story of the 1939 American K2 expedition is well known among mountaineers world class German born climber Fritz Wiessner and Pasang Dawa Lama came within 800 feet of attaining the world's second highest unclimbed summit before turning back for more supplies Rejoining them on the descent was Dudley Wolfe who had stayed not far below Upon reaching the lower camps the party found them stripped of supplies and deserted Wiessner decided to descend further to investigate and left Wolfe behind alone Later unable to descend solo Wolfe had to be rescued but the attempt failed and Wolfe and Sherpas Pasang Kikuli Pasang Kitar and Phinsoo died Initially Wiessner was held responsible but in time the blame shifted to climber Jack Durrance and another Sherpa The disaster was considered one of the worst accidents in the climbing history of the Himalaya It was also the subject of much speculation for years afterward For some historians the speculation would not rest There were too many missing pieces inconsistencies and unanswered questions for a disaster of this scale Unfortunately reliable documentation was scarce So was the cooperation of the remaining expedition members who did not want to rekindle the controversy that arose from the expedition's failure They echoed the neutral statement issued by the investigating committee of the American Alpine Club in 1940 which said in effect let sleeping dogs lie When Andrew J Kauffman and William L Putnam later began work on Wiessner's biography they found discrepancies in the account of the K2 incident Intrigued they dug deeper and began to uncover a larger tangle of events than had been previously suspected The recent availability of Jack Durrance's own trip diary further enabled them to unravel the events of the ill-fated adventure on K2

K2 The 1939 Tragedy retraces the expedition's key elements the debilitating weather the personalities and weaknesses of party members Wiessner's romantic vision uncharacteristic of the climbing era and reveals the steps that led toward catastrophe

K2 The 1939 Tragedy attempts to balance the accounts of this fifty-year-old saga
