Population Growth Income Distribution And Economic Development Theory Methodology And Empirical Results

Population Economics:

Population Growth, Income Distribution, and Economic Development Nico Heerink, 2012-12-06 In this book a model of long term interrelationships between income distribution population growth and economic development is developed and estimated from data for 54 countries The results indicate that a reduction of income inequality leads to lower fertility and mortality to improved basic needs satisfaction and to lower labour force participation of young and old males and of females in Asia and Africa The effect of income distribution on saving and consumption is found to be negligible These outcomes suggest that family planning and health policies in LDCs will show better results when they are supplemented with policies aimed at making the poor benefit from economic growth As regards development policy the results indicate that a reduction of income inequality does not impair the formation of physical capital but enhances the formation of human capital and lowers the growth rate of the labour force

Population Growth, Income Distribution, and Economic Development Nico Heerink, 1993-12-21 Wages, Employment, Distribution and Growth E. Hein, A. Heise, A. Truger, 2006-02-07 This volume challenges the view that unemployment is exclusively determined by structural characteristics of the labour market and the social benefit system Macroeconomic policies and investment in capital stock are included in the analysis and are shown to have a major role to play

China's Rural Economy after WTO Aimin Chen, 2019-05-23 China's Rural Economy after WTO discusses and analyses China's rural sector problems in detail including the areas of poverty income inequality the gender gap barriers of rural urban migration discrimination against rural workers poor rural governance and the impact of WTO membership It also tackles the important subjects of inadequate infrastructure and discriminatory credit services Strategies to modernize China's rural economy are proposed and the relevant experiences and lessons of other countries are analyzed

Economic Policy and Sustainable Land Use Nico Heerink, H. van Keulen, Marijke Kuiper, 2001 This book provides an overview of quantitative approaches to analyse the effects of economic policy reforms on sustainable land use in less developed countries LDCs Its purpose is to assess recent advances in modelling approaches to identify key issues in quantifying the relationships and to formulate recommendations on future research directions that may add to further improve our understanding of the potential effects of economic policy instruments on soil quality changes in LDCs Special attention is paid to modelling the responses of farm households to policy incentives

Inequality and Growth in Modern China Guanghua Wan, 2008-04-03 This volume provides comprehensive updated coverage of inequality and poverty issues in China Some of the methodologies developed herein are published for the first time and may be used in other contexts and for other countries The use of different data sources and state of art research techniques ensures that the findings and conclusions can be substantiated and that the policy recommendations are reliable and robust Contributors to this volume are renowned experts in their respective areas including notably Justin Lin Xing Meng

Kai yuen Tsui and Guanghua Wan For these reasons those with an interest in income distribution in general and China's development in particular will find this volume essential reading Rapidly rising inequality in China has contributed to the sluggishness of domestic demand and emerging poverty It has thus exerted considerable pressure for commodity exports and represents a root cause of increased trade disputes These have profound ramifications for the US EU and other economies and the international business community Consequently economists and sociologists among others are increasingly focused upon inequality and poverty issues in China and relevant policy implications This volume arising from a two year UNU WIDER project addresses issues that include the inequality growth relationship regional personal variation in incomes and human well being such as education the determinants of inequality and poverty or their changes gaps in innovation capability and the role played by China's development strategies in affecting inequality Asian Bibliography ,1995
