Population in Asia Warren C. Sanderson, Jee-Peng Tan, 1995-01-01 Published for the World Bank by Oxford University Press Presents a critical appraisal of adjustment programs and draws on case studies of successes and failures with quantitative appraisals of conditionality compliance and country performance

Higher Education in the Developing World David W. Chapman, Ann E. Austin, 2002-04-30 Identifies five critical issues with which higher education institutions in the developing world must grapple as they respond to changing external contexts offers examples of institutional responses to these issues and considers these within a systems perspective which recognizes that each response impacts how institutions handle other critical issues Half of the students enrolled in higher education worldwide live in developing countries Yet in many developing countries government and education leaders express serious concerns about the ability of their colleges and universities to effectively respond to the pressures posed by changing demographics new communication technologies shifts in national political environments and the increasing interconnectedness of national economies This book identifies five critical issues with which higher education institutions in the developing world must grapple as they respond to these changing contexts seeking a new balance in government university relationships coping with autonomy managing expansion while preserving equity raising quality and controlling costs addressing new pressures for accountability and supporting academic staff in new roles These papers offer examples of institutional responses and consider these within a systems perspective that recognizes that each response has a rippling effect impacting institutions responses to other critical issues Only as government and education leaders understand the interwoven nature of the problems now facing colleges and universities and the interconnections among the intended solutions they seek to implement can they offer effective leadership that strengthens the quality and improves the relevance of higher education in their countries

Labor Markets in Asia Jesus Felipe, Rana Hasan, 2006-07-03 This volume argues that while labour market reforms may be necessary in some specific cases by no means are labour market policies the main explanation for the widespread increase in unemployment and underemployment across Asia and country specific studies undermine the case for across the board labour market reforms

Education in Asia Jee-Peng Tan, Alain Mingat, 1992-01-01 Data analyzed in this study are drawn from varied sources including documents provided by governments in the context of the World Bank's operational activity The data on a basic set of indicators were assembled for a core of 11 Asian countries Bangladesh China India Indonesia Korea Malaysia Nepal Papua New Guinea the Philippines Sri Lanka and Thailand Data for other Asian countries are also presented when available After an overview chapter 2 highlights the main features of education in Asia in an international and regional perspective Chapter 3 provides more detailed documentation of education costs and financing arrangements in Asian countries focusing on such items as the pattern and level of unit costs across levels of education the distribution of public spending and the contribution of private financing Efficiency and equity are addressed in chapters 4 and 5 Chapter 6 offers conclusions based on the cross sectional analysis and makes suggestions for future work The study concludes that the two most essential components of an effective education policy are greater attention to primary education and reduced public financing of higher education Interspersed within the text are 49 tables and 36 figures The appendices contain an additional 32 tables and the following 1 a succinct description and comparative evaluation of the current status of education in individual Asian countries 2 details on data sources and the corresponding core educational statistics and 3 figures and miscellaneous data referred to in the text Contains 137 references MLF

Asian and Pacific Cities Ian Shirley, Carol Neill, 2013-03-12 The cities of Asia and the Pacific are at the epicentre of development in what is arguably the most populous culturally distinctive and economically powerful region in the world 16 major cities such as Tokyo Shanghai Manila Jakarta Bangkok Singapore Auckland Kuala Lumpur and Santiago located in countries as diverse as Mexico and Vietnam Samoa and India China and Australia exemplify the changing patterns of development across this vast region of the world By tracking economic and social trends the contributors to this collection reveal how a wide range of political and cultural factors have interacted over time to provide a powerful explanation for the shape and characteristics of the city today Based on a collaborative research programme and drawing on the work of local researchers this book examines the realities of city development characterised by domestic migration spatial and social fragmentation squatter settlements and gated communities economic experiments and the emergence of the Asian Tigers The collection as a whole records the way in which countries in this region have moved from underdevelopment to become global economic and political powers This book provides a fascinating journey through Asia and the Pacific by generating an insiders view of each city and an insight into national development As such it will be of great interest to students and scholars interested in the Asian and Pacific region in disciplines such as economics politics geography and sociology and in policy domains such as urban planning and economic development

Analyzing the Distributional Impact of Reforms, 2 Aline Coudouel, Stefano Paternostro, 2005 The analysis of the distributional impact of policy reforms on the well being or welfare of different stakeholder groups particularly on the poor and vulnerable has an important role in the elaboration and implementation of poverty reduction strategies in developing countries In recent years this type of work has been labeled as Poverty and Social Impact Analysis PSIA and is increasingly implemented to promote evidence based policy choices and foster debate on policy reform options While information is available on the general approach techniques and tools for distributional analysis each sector displays a series of specific characteristics These have implications for the analysis of distributional impacts including the types of impacts and transmission channels that warrant particular attention the tools and techniques most appropriate the data source typically utilized and the range of political economy factors most likely to affect the reform process This volume provides an overview of the specific issues arising in the analysis of the distributional impacts of policy and institutional reforms in selected sectors Each chapter offers guidance on the selection of tools and techniques most adapted to the reforms under scrutiny and offers examples of applications of these approaches This is a companion to the first volume which offers guidance on trade monetary and exchange rate policy utility provision agricultural markets land policy and education The World Bank Research Program 2004 World Bank,2005 The World Bank s research is intended to address critical issues and problems facing member governments in developing and transition economies How can the governments of the poorest countries generate enough revenue to provide the education and health services essential to reducing poverty and promoting growth and development How can poor countries attract investors to build the infrastructure their economies need How can they develop systems to bring clean water to the 2 billion people without it today How can they train teachers and bring to class the 115 million children who have not yet received any education And how can rich countries be persuaded to lower market barriers helping to reverse the decline in export prices for poor countries that has left them earning less from trade today than in the 1970s These are the types of questions that are addressed in this edition of The World Bank Research Program Abstracts from Current Studies This volume reports on research projects initiated under way or completed from July 2003 through June 2004 It covers 151 research projects on several broad development related issues including agriculture health education environment infrastructure investment climate and more The abstract for each project describes the questions addressed the analytic methods used the findings to date and policy implications The Palgrave Handbook of Africa's Economic Sectors Evelyn F. Wamboye,Bichaka Fayissa,2022-05-27 This handbook provides a reference resource to showcase insightful and nuanced perspectives on Africa s agriculture industry services and manufacturing sectors factors affecting the sectors competitiveness and the sectors contribution to employment economic growth and sustainable development It also addresses the potential benefits that the sectors could harness from the planned Continental Free Trade Area CFTA and in particular how CFTA could increase the efficiency and competitiveness of these sectors This book provides evidence based holistic analyses of the past and current state of Africa s economic sectors with a strong emphasis on tangible and specific policy recommendations for the purpose of enhancing future economic growth employment and sustainable development of the continent It also assesses the impact of the first ever Continental Free Trade Area in Africa and its potential implications for Africa s integration into regional and global economy and competitiveness relative to other fast developing economies such as those in Asia This handbook gives an in depth analysis of fundamental domestic factors that have relevance on the sectors expansion and growth and their contributions to employment economic growth and sustainable development in Africa with differential effects across the continent World Development Report 1996 ,1996 Almost one third of the world s population has embarked on a transition from planned to market economies Like economic reforms elsewhere the long term goal of this transition is to build a thriving market economy capable of delivering long term growth in living standards Now in its 19th annual edition the World Development Report 1996 takes an in depth look at these transition countries focusing on the key lessons that have taken place thus far The introduction to the Report poses a number of key questions that are addressed in later chapters including questions relating to initial challenges and how countries have tackled them from very different starting points and political conditions The Report also focuses on the additional challenges these transition countries face with a final chapter that summarizes the main conclusion of the Report creating a text that will no doubt become the definitive source for students studying international economics and politics

Globalization and Policy Challenges for Economies in Transition Rob Vos, Malinka Koparanova, 2011-01-01 The countries in Central and Eastern Europe and the Commonwealth of Independent States have opened up their economies to the world economy as a step towards a profound transformation from plan to market Some have fully integrated into the European market while others have not This book focuses on the challenges economies face when in transition

Globalization and Economic Diversification United Nations, 2011-11-01 This book is available as open access through the Bloomsbury Open Access programme and is available on bloomsburycollections.com This volume brings together new contributions from renowned academic scholars from experts on economies in transition and from the United Nations the European Union the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development as well as other international agencies It aims to answer fundamental questions and spell out policy options to address the challenges for economies in transition The volume includes comparative studies focusing on all transition economies including Central and Eastern Europe as well as regions such as Western Balkans and the Commonwealth of Independent States

Agricultural Outlook, 2002 Risks and Returns David Michael Gould, Martin Melecky, 2017-01-27 During the 1990s Emerging Europe and Central Asia ECA chose a model of rapid financial development emphasizing bank credit expansion often funded by foreign capital Although boosting financial inclusion of firms and households the model was accompanied by lower efficiency and increased financial vulnerability After two waves of crises in the late 1990s and after 2008 ECA's banking systems again face major stress The crises and stresses have eroded trust in banks and job creation in credit dependent firms ECA's shallow and illiquid capital markets offer no additional support Stagnating income growth particularly of middle to lower income earners has led to increasing dissatisfaction with low productivity growth and limited opportunities This frustration provides the impetus for reshaping financial policies A healthy and balanced financial sector could strengthen structural adjustment in ECA's eastern oil dependent economies and innovation in its western countries

Risks and Returns Managing Financial Trade Offs for Inclusive Growth in Europe and Central Asia argues for reaching beyond increasing access to credit ECA countries must build integrated financial systems enabling prudent financial inclusion in a region significantly lagging in the use of saving products Striking the right balance across all dimensions of financial development stability efficiency inclusion and overall depth is crucial for achieving and sustaining inclusive growth Redesigning financial policy involves addressing trade offs often overlooked in the past Too much credit and imprudent financial inclusion have led to banking crises Overly stringent regulation to foster financial stability has hindered inclusion and efficiency gains Both shortfalls have had negative consequences for shared prosperity Risks and Returns discusses tools and approaches to help policy makers achieve balanced financial development Sustainability of Healthcare Financing in the Western Balkans: an Overview of Progress and Challenges Caryn Bredenkamp, Michele Gragnolati, World Bank. Europe and Central Asia Region. Human Development Department, The Oxford Handbook of Higher Education in the Asia-Pacific Region Devesh Kapur, Lily Kong, Florence Lo, David M. Malone, 2023-01-20 Since the turn of the millennium it has become clear that the Asia Pacific Region is economically the fastest growing continent in the world and is likely to remain so for some time despite the setbacks of the COVID 19 pandemic Asia Pacific's share of the world's Gross Domestic Product GDP doubled from 15 per cent to 30 per cent between 1970 and 2017 and is projected to account for half of global GDP by 2050 With South East and South Asia also growing rapidly with over half the world's population and three of the world's five largest economies Asia is soon poised to home half of the world's middle class a class that is both the driver and the product of higher education The quality of a country's system of higher education may be seen both as a gauge of its current level of national development as well as of its future economic prospects It is therefore natural that the putative Asian Century should generate interest in the region's higher education systems which on the one hand share common characteristics a fixation with credentials and engineering high technology especially among male students and business degrees while at the same time are also highly differentiated not only across countries but also within As such a better understanding of higher education achievements failings potential and structural limitations in the Asia Pacific Region is imperative This handbook presents a number of significant country case studies and documents cross cutting trends relating to among other things the trilemma faced by governments juggling competing claims of access accessible cost and quality the balance between teaching and research the links between labour markets demand and higher education supply preferred fields of study and their consequences the rise of the research university in Asia the lure of institutions of international reputation within the region new education technologies and their effects and trends in government policy within the wider region and sub regions

Shelter, Settlement & Development Lloyd Rodwin, 2022-03-29 First published in 1987 Shelter Settlement what ideas are in currency what policy choices lie ahead and most important of all what further changes are needed to achieve feasible and effective solutions not quick fixes or one shot remedies There is a special focus on the necessary learning processes so that whatever action is taken is likely to be self correcting in the light of subsequent experience reflection and changing circumstances This book is an essential read for scholars and researchers of development studies urban studies and planning and public policy Reproductive Health, Economic Growth and Poverty Reduction in Africa Olu Ajakaiye, Germano Mwabu, 2010-12-29 This volume contains framework papers prepared for a collaborative research project on Reproductive Health Economic Growth and Poverty Reduction in Africa an initiative of the African Economic Research Consortium AERC Taken together the chapters in this book make a compelling argument that improvement in reproductive health is key to raising household incomes and to reducing poverty the book reveals that the triple phenomena of better reproductive health economic growth and declining poverty are likely to be found in an environment in which labour and product markets function Further a macroeconomic framework that encourages domestic and foreign investments and promotes social protection for current and future generations is essential

Vietnamese Health Care System in Change Kerstin Priwitzer, 2003-08-01 Within the last twenty years a large scale bottom up privatization has taken place in Vietnam changing and dismantling the public health care system This process has led to severe tensions inherent in the transitional society of Vietnam between equity and access to health care support especially for the poor elderly migrants and ethnic minorities on the one hand and its efficiency on the other hand The book traces the reform efforts to modernize the health care system by the Communist Party of Vietnam and the Vietnamese government The author bases her findings on little known primary literature and interviews with key stakeholders of the policy network involved in the reform of the health care system thereby painting an authentic atmospheric picture of the profound changes in the health care system in Vietnam

East Asia , 2000 Following the disastrous economic downturn of some years ago the economies of East Asia have struggled to regain stability and equilibrium As the sequel to East Asia The Road to Recovery this book offers both an examination of the state of the East Asian economy and analysis of opportunities in the future With the crisis stage passed where does East Asia truly stand and can one be optimistic about its future prospects East Asia Recovery and Beyond offers answers to anyone concerned with the East Asian economies

Social Protection Sector Strategy , 2001-01-01 This book presents recent World Bank analytical work on the causes of violence and conflict in Columbia and the pilot lending programmes which have been designed to promote peace and help development It is divided into three sections The first sets the framework for the history of violence and the mechanisms of its propagation looks at its costs and also at current policy initiatives to reduce it The second part looks at the social economic causes of conflict and the costs of achieving peace The last part reviews the recent experience of the World Bank in assisting countries that are experiencing or have overcome domestic armed conflict
