137: Jung, Pauli, and the Pursuit of a Scientific Obsession Arthur I. Miller, 2010-05-17 The history is fascinating as are the insights into the personalities of these great thinkers. New Scientist Is there a number at the root of the universe? A primal number that everything in the world hinges on. This question exercised many great minds of the twentieth century among them the groundbreaking physicist Wolfgang Pauli and the famous psychoanalyst Carl Jung. Their obsession with the power of certain numbers including 137 which describes the atom's fine structure constant and has great Kabbalistic significance led them to develop an unlikely friendship and to embark on a joint mystical quest reaching deep into medieval alchemy, dream interpretation and the Chinese Book of Changes. 137 explores the profound intersection of modern science with the occult but above all it is the tale of an extraordinary fruitful friendship between two of the greatest thinkers of our times. Originally published in hardcover as Deciphering the Cosmic Number Dim Wit Rosemarie Jarski, 2008-12-05 They underestimated me. George W. Bush. Einstein said only two things are infinite: the universe and human stupidity. So in deference to the dumbing down of our culture comes Dim Wit, a collection of the most jaw-droppingly stupid things ever said. The cast includes every famous fool in mouth from George W. Bush to Prince Philip, Paris Hilton to Jade Goody, not to mention hundreds of unsung idiots plucked from villages the world over. The result is a confederacy of dunces more pro fun than profound. A clever witticism may coax an inward smile but it takes a really stupid remark to deliver a belly laugh. So pick up Dim Wit and prepare to embrace your inner moron; it may be the smartest thing you do. My grandma overheard two women talking in a doctor's surgery. After a while one said to the other: 'Do you know, Mary, I don't feel too well. I think I'll go home.' Robyn Jankel: 'I don't think anyone should write his autobiography until after he's dead.' Samuel Goldwyn: 'Winston Churchill wasn't the first black President of America. There's a statue of him near me that's black.' Danielle Lloyd The Living Church, 1994-07 Semper Fi J.W. MINTON, 2013-07-08 Families are like snowflakes in that no two are exactly alike. Each individual has a part to play on the stage of family drama and those characters can be so different and yet so much alike as they share that clan identity. An individual can change the name or wear a mask and move away to seek obscurity or fashion some other identity on near or distant frontiers or foreign shores to dwell among strangers. Fame and fortune are calling and for some a hermit's life is more attractive. The American traditions of love and romance, marriage and creation of another family institution have conventional conservative designs but occasionally there is the unorthodox merger of opposites or the union of similar spirits in a compatible but unconventional connubial design. Children are born and grow up in these milieus to inaugurate their own family dramas taking with them into those relationships all the features that genetics, nature and nurture have provided to equip them for assuming their place to play their part in the drama of human life in the American family tradition. This story is about one of those resulting families of unconventional design. Pocket Rough Guide London: Travel Guide eBook Rough Guides, 2024-10-14 This compact pocket-sized London travel guidebook is ideal
