Goodbye Shanghai - a Memoir Sam Moshinsky, 2014-01-16 During his seventeen years in Shanghai Sam experienced wars changing regimes different currencies and a variety of schools that reflected the evolving political landscape In a world obsessed with conflicting nationalism his family survived as stateless residents neither beholden to nor the responsibility of any country They were instead sustained by their Russian Jewish culture and community Through Sam's memories of early life and his love of history we learn of Shanghai's uniqueness as a home and haven to thousands of Jews over many centuries

The Lives Before Us Juliet Conlin, 2019-03-28 I wasn't sure I liked the sound of it Even my vivid imagination could hardly fathom a place as tight or dense or narrow as Shanghai It's April 1939 and with their lives in Berlin and Vienna under threat Esther and Kitty two very different women are forced to make the same brutal choice Flee Europe or face the ghetto incarceration death Shanghai they've heard Shanghai is a haven and so they secure passage to the other side of the world What they find is a city of extremes wealth poverty decadence and disease and of deep political instability Kitty has been lured there with promises of luxury love marriage but when her Russian fiancé reveals his hand she's left to scratch a vulnerable living in Shanghai's nightclubs and dark corners Meanwhile Esther and her little girl take shelter in a house of widows until the protection of Aaron Esther's hot-headed former lover offers new hope of survival Then the Japanese military enters the fray and violence mounts As Kitty's dreams of escape are dashed and Esther's relationship becomes tainted the two women are thrown together in the city's most desperate times Together they must fight for a future for the lives that will follow theirs A sweeping story of survival community and friendship in defiance of the worst threat to humanity the world has ever faced From the author of the extraordinary The Uncommon Life of Alfred Warner in Six Days The Lives Before Us will particularly resonate with readers of Jeremy Dronfield The Boy Who Followed His Father into Auschwitz Anthony Doerr All the Light We Cannot See Heather Morris The Tattooist of Auschwitz and Costa winner Bart van Es The Cut Out Girl PRAISE FOR THE LIVES BEFORE US Juliet Conlin vividly recreates the lost world of wartime Shanghai's Jewish ghetto a place of hope and despair in equal measure a city of temporary refuge yet continuing daily struggle I was absorbed PAUL FRENCH Shanghai's champion storyteller and author of City of Devils The Lives Before Us opens up a captivating new world in a war I thought I knew about a raucous Casablanca transposed to the East filled with the intrigues of outcasts and determined survivors ALEX CHRISTOFI author of Glass Juliet Conlin brings wartime Shanghai to vividly to life with a wealth of fascinating detail SARA SHERIDAN author of The Ice Maiden Chronicles the courage and endurance of two women in wartime Shanghai separated then reunited in a dangerous and desperate place Strongly drawn characters quickly demand attention and empathy and their compelling story charts a little known aspect of the Second World War and of a persecution felt far beyond Europe SARAH MAINE author of The House Between Tides Chinese Cultural Diplomacy in the 21st Century Minglei Wang, 2025-09-23 This book examines the China Cultural Centre CCC project's establishment, operation and programming through the lens of cultural diplomacy. The work illuminates the main structural and operational characteristics of the CCC project by highlighting their similarities and differences compared to other cultural diplomacy initiatives, especially the Confucius Institutes (CIs). It also provides insights on its working modes and associated activities, primarily based on the case of the CCC in Australia, supplemented by information from other CCCs. Furthermore, it sheds light on the implications for the CCC project, expanding current discussions about Chinese cultural diplomacy. The book holds that the operation and programming of CCCs reflect common views of Chinese cultural diplomacy: strategically orientated, state-led and quantity-driven, while also highlighting the inclusion of foreign collaborators and a bottom-up strategy for facilitating engagement and understanding. This book will be of much interest to students of diplomacy studies, public diplomacy, foreign policy, Chinese politics and international relations.

The Habitable City in China Toby Lincoln, Xu Tao, 2016-11-21 This book offers a new perspective on Chinese urban history by exploring cities as habitable spaces. China, the world's most populous nation, is now its newest urban society, and the pace of this unprecedented historical transformation has increased in recent decades. The contributors to this book conceptualise cities as first providing the necessities of life and then becoming places in which the quality of life can be improved. They focus on how cities have been made secure during times of instability, how their inhabitants have consumed everything from the simplest of foods to the most expensive luxuries, and how they have been planned as ideal spaces. Drawing examples from across the country, this book offers comparisons between different cities, highlights continuities across time and space, and in doing so, may provide solutions to some of the problems that continue to affect Chinese cities today.

Frontiers of Memory in the Asia-Pacific Shu-Mei Huang, Hyun Kyung Lee, Edward Vickers, 2022-08-01 Frontiers of Memory in the Asia Pacific explores the making and consumption of conflict-related heritage throughout the Asia Pacific region. Contributing to a growing literature on difficult heritage, this collection advances our understanding of how places of pain, shame, oppression and trauma have been appropriated and refashioned as heritage in a number of societies in contemporary East and Southeast Asia and Oceania. The authors analyse how the repackaging of difficult pasts as heritage can serve either to reinforce borders, transcend them or even achieve both simultaneously, depending on the political agendas that inform the heritage-making process. They also examine the ways in which these processes respond to colonialism, decolonization and nationalism. The volume shows how efforts to preserve various sites of difficult heritage can involve the construction of new borders in the mind between what is commemorated and what is often deliberately obscured or forgotten. Taken together, the studies presented here suggest new directions for comparative research into difficult heritage across Asia and beyond, applying an interdisciplinary and critical perspective that spans history, heritage studies, memory studies, urban studies, architecture and international relations. Bringing together an excellent range of cases from diverse locations across the Asia Pacific this book is an important contribution not only to this part of the world but to understandings of heritage struggles especially in relation to colonial histories more widely Sharon Macdonald Humboldt University zu Berlin This collection is an important contribution to our understanding of the place of Asia within global memory culture Going beyond the tunnel vision of national memories it provides us with a sophisticated examination of the ways the difficult heritage of colonialism revolution and war intersects with contemporary politics to produce an Asia Pacific memory sphere Ran Zwigenberg Pennsylvania State University From Things Lost Shirli Gilbert, 2017-05-15 An intimate history of the Holocaust that casts new light on our understanding of victimhood and survival In May 1933 a young man named Rudolf Schwab fled Nazi Germany His departure allegedly came at the insistence of a close friend who later joined the Party Schwab eventually arrived in South Africa one of the few countries left where Jews could seek refuge and years later resumed a relationship in letters with the Nazi who in many ways saved his life From Things Lost Forgotten Letters and the Legacy of the Holocaust is a story of displacement survival and an unlikely friendship in the wake of the Holocaust via an extraordinary collection of letters discovered in a forgotten trunk Only a handful of extended Schwab family members were alive in the war's aftermath Dispersed across five continents their lives mirrored those of countless refugees who landed in the most unlikely places Over years in exile a web of communication became an alternative world for these refugees a place where they could remember what they had lost and rebuild their identities anew Among the cast of characters that historian Shirli Gilbert came to know through the letters one name that appeared again and again was Karl Kipfer He was someone with whom Rudolf clearly got on exceedingly well there was lots of joking familiarity and sentimental reminiscing That was Grandpa's best friend growing up Rudolf's grandson explained to Gilbert He was a Nazi and was the one who encouraged Rudolf to leave Germany He also later helped him to recover the family's property Gilbert takes readers on a journey through a family's personal history wherein we learn about a cynical Karl who attempts to make amends for his undemocratic past and a version of Rudolf who spends hours aloof at his Johannesburg writing desk dressed in his Sunday finest holding together the fragile threads of his existence The Schwab family's story brings us closer to grasping the complex choices and motivations that even in extreme situations or perhaps because of them make us human In a world of devastation the letters in From Things Lost act as a surrogate for the gravestones that did not exist and funerals that were never held Readers of personal accounts of the Holocaust will be swept away by this intimate story The New Expatriates Anne-Meike Fechter, Katie Walsh, 2013-09-13 While scholarship on migration has been thriving for decades little attention has been paid to professionals from Europe and America who move temporarily to destinations beyond the West Such migrants are marginalised and depoliticised by debates on immigration policy and thus there is an urgent need to develop nuanced understanding of these more privileged movements In many ways these are the modern day equivalents of colonial settlers and expatriates yet the continuities in their migration practices have rarely been considered The New Expatriates advances

our understanding of contemporary mobile professionals by engaging with postcolonial theories of race culture and identity The volume brings together authors and research from across a wide range of disciplines seeking to evaluate the significance of the past in shaping contemporary expatriate mobilities and highlighting postcolonial continuities in relation to people practices and imaginations Acknowledging the resonances across a range of geographical sites in Asia Africa and the Middle East the chapters consider the particularity of postcolonial contexts while enabling comparative perspectives A focus on race and culture is often obscured by assumptions about class occupation and skill but this volume explicitly examines the way in which whiteness and imperial relationships continue to shape the migration experiences of Euro American skilled migrants as they seek out new places to live and work This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies Japan, the Jews, and Israel Meron Medzini, 2024-09-02 Although an ally of Nazi Germany during World War II Japan adamantly refused to accede to German demands to deal harshly with the some 40 000 Jews living under its control While there was anti-Semitism in Japan since the early 1920s there was also philo-Semitism and great admiration for Jewish power influence and achievements Japan Israel relations were very strained and tense from 1952 to the early 1990s due to Japan's dependence on Arab oil But since 1990 the policy of Japan has changed radically and the country is now a close friend of Israel in East Asia Meron Medzini compares and contrasts Israeli and Japanese society foreign policy and above all economic and technological ties He analyzes the presence of Jews in Japan since the 1860s and the absence of any Jewish influence power and involvement in Japanese arts media academia politics labor unions and industry

Statelessness after Arendt Kolleen Guy, Jay Winter, 2025-05-27 This book is a study of statelessness in the period of the Second World War It breaks new ground by focusing not on Europe but on the Asian and Pacific theatres of the conflict This perspective enables us to go beyond Hannah Arendt s classic account of statelessness in her Origins of Totalitarianism To her statelessness was the product of a failed European nation state system We find a very different story when we examine the history of stateless people many of them Jews fleeing to Asia from Europe In Asia we see that being stateless was not a uniform experience but a variety of possibilities reflecting the political structure of the states and cities in which refugees found shelter We find too that stateless people managed to enter the political realm
