Smith, 2013-06-28 The word Mississauga is the name British Canadian settlers used for the Ojibwe on the north of Lake Ontario now the most urbanized region in what is now Canada The Ojibwe of this area in the early and mid nineteenth century lived through a time of considerable threat to the survival of the First Nations as they lost much of their autonomy and almost all of their traditional territory Donald B Smith s Mississauga Portraits recreates the lives of eight Ojibwe who lived during this period all of whom are historically important and interesting figures and seven of whom have never before received full biographical treatment Each portrait is based on research drawn from an extensive collection of writings and recorded speeches by southern Ontario Ojibwe themselves along with secondary sources These documents uncovered over the 40 years that Smith has spent researching and writing about the Ojibwe represent the richest source of personal First Nations writing in Canada from the mid nineteenth century Mississauga Portraits is a sequel to Smith s immensely popular Sacred Feathers which provided a detailed biography of Mississauga chief and Methodist minister Peter Jones 1802 1856 The first chapter in Mississauga Portraits on Jones tightly links the two books which together give readers a vivid composite picture of life in mid nineteenth century Aboriginal Canada Canadian Reference Sources Mary E. Bond, Martine M. Caron, 1996 This bibliography cites those Canadian and foreign reference sources that describe Canadian people institutions organizations publications art literature languages and history It lists books of a general nature as well as works in the disciplines of history and the humanities These large divisions are then broken down by subject genre type of document and province or territory Titles of national provincial territorial or regional interest are included in every subject area when available The contents of the book are indexed four ways by name title French subject and English subject And to facilitate browsing the major reference books those dealing with more than one subject or a large geographical region are also cross referenced Two entries have been created for each bilingual document in order to provide access and bibliographical descriptions in both of Canada's official languages Entries for unilingual works include a citation in the language of the publication and a bilingual annotation The annotations are descriptive and provide information on the content arrangements and indexing of works the availability of non print formats previous editions and title changes and related works Canadian Reference Sources will be an invaluable reference tool for future scholars and researchers Hospital-- a Portrait of Calgary General D. Scollard, Calgary General Hospital, 1981 Encyclopedia of the Great Plains David J. Wishart, 2004-01-01 Wishart and the staff of the Center for Great Plains Studies have compiled a wide ranging pun intended encyclopedia of this important region Their objective was to give definition to a region that has traditionally been poorly defined and they have Popular Photography - ND, 1951-07 Annual Report of the Board of Trustees National Gallery of Canada, 1924 Artists of Alberta Suzanne Devonshire Baker, 1980 Onoto Watanna Diana Birchall, 2001 In 1901 Winnifred Eaton arrived in New York City with literary ambitions journalism experience and the manuscript for A Japanese Nightingale the novel that would make her famous Her writing and gift for reinvention would set her apart from other women authors of her time and make her a fascinating early figure in Asian American literature Diana Birchall Eaton's granddaughter tells the Horatio Alger story of the woman who became Onoto Watanna Born to a British father and a Chinese mother Winnifred capitalized on her exotic appearance and protected herself from Americans' scorn of the Chinese by becoming Japanese Her popular Japanese themed romance novels thrust her into the glittering world of New York's literati From there she leapt to Hollywood to become a scriptwriting protégée of Carl Laemmle at Universal Studios Yet her boldness and talent masked a sometimes desperate personal life that included a troubled first marriage and the sudden end of her Hollywood career A compelling saga of the shifting boundary between life and art Onoto Watanna reveals the conflicting stories personal tempests and remarkable accomplishments of a woman whose career was sensational in every sense Prairie Gothic, 2013-01-01 George Webber's poignant black and white photographs transport us into the forgotten unknowable communities of the Canadian prairies

Throughout the journey we are confronted by the mysterious particulars of life death landscape and faith Intimate portraits and the hard facts of the place are woven together to create a body of work that is by turns inspiring consoling and sometimes achingly sad Individually these works startle and challenge As a collection they represent a photographer's decades long meditation on the ever changing face of the Canadian West

The Diva & the Rancher Jennifer Hamblin, David Finch, 2006 Big dreams dashed hopes and romance are at the heart of this biography of Norma and George Pocatererra The story begins in 1903 when George Pocatererra left Italy and came to the Canadian Rockies with hopes of striking it rich George is best known for establishing the Buffalo Head Ranch in the foothills of Alberta He developed a close friendship with members of the Stoney Indians and was one of the first non Natives to explore much of what is now called Kananaskis Country In 1933 he returned to Italy where he met and fell in love with Norma Piper a young Calgary singer who had moved to Italy to study opera They eventually married and George took over the management of Norma's rising operatic career World War II forced a return to Canada in 1939 In Calgary Norma became part of the local music scene giving concerts and teaching singing at Mount Royal College In 1955 she started her own studio and over the next 25 years became one of Calgary's most loved music teachers George meanwhile continued with his coal mining ventures although he suffered bitter disappointments Drawing on personal diaries and correspondence the authors have created an intimate portrait of these remarkable Albertans who became each in their own way legends in their lifetimes
