The Sahel Facing the Future Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, Permanent Inter-State Committee for Drought Control in the Sahel, Sahel Club, 1988      Sahel Facing the Future - Increasing Dependence Or Structural Transformation Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, Permanent Inter-State Committee for Drought Control in the Sahel, 1988      International Relations in Contemporary Africa Michael O. Anda, 2000

Although developing countries far outnumber fully industrialized states they are often neglected in the study of international relations especially with respect to the development of foreign policy theory International Relations in Contemporary Africa attempts to fill this void in the literature on comparative international relations while at the same time providing a detailed analysis of the economic development and integration of West African countries Michael Anda specifically focuses on the members of the Economic Community of West African States ECOWAS and their policies which encourage coordination on issues ranging from science and technology to diplomacy and mutual defense Tracing the diplomatic history of West Africa from independence to the present he assesses the various dimensions of cooperation among the smaller and less developed states of West Africa while revealing the precarious nature of the economy and security in the region Both detailed and comprehensive International Relations in Contemporary Africa represents a significant contribution to African studies that appeal to those with an interest in the foreign policy of smaller states      World and Its Peoples Marshall Cavendish, 2006-09 Describes the geography people culture and politics of the countries of the Middle East Central Asia and North Africa

1978-1989 Heinz-Dietrich Fischer, 2020-01-20 No detailed description available for 1978 1989      Agroforestry - The Future of Global Land Use P.K. Ramachandran Nair, Dennis Garrity, 2012-08-22 This volume contains a solid body of the current state of knowledge on the various themes and activities in agroforestry worldwide It is organized into three sections the Introduction section consists of the summaries of six keynote speeches at the 2nd World Congress of Agroforestry held in Nairobi Kenya in 2009 that is followed by two sections of peer reviewed thematic chapters grouped as Global Perspectives seven chapters and Regional Perspectives eleven chapters authored by professional leaders in their respective agroforestry related fields worldwide A total of 130 professionals from institutions in 33 countries in both developing and the industrialized temperate regions of the world contributed to the book as chapter authors and or reviewers Thus the book presents a comprehensive and authoritative account of the global picture of agroforestry today      Roots in the African Dust Michael Mortimore, 1998-09-17 The image of Africa in the modern world has come to be shaped by perceptions of the drylands and their problems of poverty drought degradation and famine Michael Mortimore offers an alternative and revisionist thesis dismissing on theoretical and empirical grounds the conventional view of runaway desertification driven by population growth and inappropriate land use In its place he suggests a more optimistic model of sustainable land use based on researched case studies from East and West Africa where indigenous technological adaptation has put population growth and market opportunities to advantage He also proposes a more appropriate set of policy priorities to support dryland peoples in their efforts to sustain land and livelihoods The result is a remarkably clear synthesis of much of the best work that has emerged over past years      Beyond Territory and Scarcity Quentin Gausset, Michael Anthony Whyte, Torben Birch-Thomsen, 2005 In this volume ten anthropologists and geographers critically address traditional Malthusian discourses in essays that attempt to move beyond territory and scarcity      When the Bough Breaks... Laura Thomas, 2013-11-05 TO ACCOMPANY A MAJOR ITV DOCUMENTARY We are poisoning our planet and destroying the lives of our children In the west arguments rage over how much nuclear radiation and toxic dumping is safe while children continue to breath filthy air and eat food full of pesticides In the third World over four million children die each year from drinking unclean water Adults make the decisions but children pay the highest price They are physically vulnerable and politically powerless When the Bough Breaks is about the world we are creating for our children For too long we have used what we want from our planet now refusing to think about the future But it may still not be too late The book sets out what must be done and describes how people throughout the world are uniting to clean up the mess we have made      The Revolution in Development Economics James A. Dorn, Steve H. Hanke, Alan Arthur Walters, 1998 The collapse of communism and the statist model of development planning has led to a revolution in development economics      Current Bibliographical Information Dag Hammarskjöld Library, 1990      Senegal Robin Sharp, 1994 Up to date view of Senegal from the perspective of the poor      The Source Directory of Predicasts, Inc , 1992      Facing the Future Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, 1979 This report discusses the findings of the three year Interfutures Project which studied the future development of advanced industrial societies and the relations between these countries and the developing countries The major emphasis of the project was to analyze economic problems However political and social elements were also studied The purpose of the report is to incite awareness and action There are five parts and a conclusion to the report Part I analyzes the political limits to population growth Part II examines past trends and future dimensions How the industrial societies cope with change is the topic of Part III Part IV discusses the advanced industrial societies and the third world Problems of the third world countries interdependence between developed and developing nations and developed countries strategies in regard to the third world are examined Part V looks at the growth of world interdependence Recommendations discussed in the conclusion include the following Everything must be done to improve the knowledge of other cultures More travel abroad by young people especially to developing countries translation of writing from different cultural areas and distribution of cinema and television features made or filmed in these areas would help create a greater awareness of the world outside Third world countries should have improved access to medium and long term loans International foundations to sponsor third world centers of applied research in different sectors of technology should be set up Author RM      Bibliographic Guide to Business and Economics New York Public Library. Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, 2002      Africa: Facing Human Security Challenges in the 21st Century Tatah Mentan, 2014-05-12 Africa's dynamic security environment is characterized by great diversity from conventional challenges such as insurgencies, resource and identity conflicts and post conflict stabilization to growing threats from piracy, narcotics trafficking, violent extremism and organized crime taking root in urban slums among others. This precarious environment jeopardizes security at the societal, community and individual levels. In a globalized and interconnected world, millions of people worldwide are affected by some form of human insecurity. Infectious and parasitic diseases annually kill millions. Internally displaced persons number millions, including 5 million in Sudan alone. In Zambia, 1 million people in a population of 11 million are reported to be HIV positive, a situation much worse than in other countries. Potable water crisis looms almost everywhere. In this book, Tatah Mentan points out the need to shift the focus away from a state-centric and military strategic emphasis on security to an interdisciplinary and people-centric approach that embraces notions like global citizenship, empowerment and participation. The primary elements of economic, food, health, environment, personal, community and political security all comprise the broader understanding of human security in an intricately interconnected world.

Tunisia Faces the Future, 1956      The Future of African Peace Operations Cedric De Coning, Linnéa Gelot, John Karlsrud, 2016-03-15 Facing threats ranging from Islamist insurgencies to the Ebola pandemic, African regional actors are playing an increasingly vital role in safeguarding peace and stability across the continent. But while the African Union has demonstrated its ability to deploy forces on short notice and in difficult circumstances, the challenges posed by increasingly complex conflict zones have revealed a widening divide between the theory and practice of peacekeeping. With the AU's African Standby Force becoming fully operational in 2016, this timely and much-needed work argues that responding to these challenges will require a new and distinctively African model of peacekeeping as well as a radical revision of the current African security framework. The first book to provide a comprehensive overview and analysis of African peace operations, The Future of African Peace Operations gives a long overdue assessment of the ways in which peacekeeping on the continent has evolved over the past decade. It will be a vital resource for policy makers, researchers and all those seeking solutions and insights into the immense security challenges which Africa is facing today.

The Future of Arid Lands-Revisited Charles F. Hutchinson, Stefanie M. Herrmann, 2007-12-07 UNESCO commemorated its sixtieth anniversary in 2005. It was a year for reflection, a time to look back on the progress made and the achievements accomplished over the last 60 years. To celebrate the importance and relevance of science at UNESCO, a publication entitled Sixty Years of Science at UNESCO 1945-2005 was launched in 2006, which offers an insight into the organization's commitment towards and endeavors in science from the past through to the present day. Within the United Nations System, UNESCO has one of the longest traditions in addressing dryland problems from a scientific point of view. As it happened, arid zones were precisely at the centre of UNESCO's earliest efforts at international scientific collaboration in the study of natural resources. The first international research program dealing with these zones was launched back in 1951 under the direction of an International Advisory Committee. It was continued until 1964 after being raised to the status of a Major Project of the Organization in 1957. This Major Project was a pioneer program in many respects. One of its merits and not the least was that it blazed a trail in its interdisciplinary approach to the study of natural resources and its holistic view of the problems of arid and semiarid zones.
