Inshore Craft of Britain in the Days of Sail and Oar Edgar J. March,2005 In the days of sail and oar before the arrival of marine engines any number of picturesquely named craft built to suit the local conditions worked and fished out of small harbors and off beaches around the coasts of Britain The first volume of Edgar March s classic two volume work first published in 1970 describes all the craft originating from the north of Scotland down the East Coast to the Thames Estuary and explains their methods of construction their rigs and their handling qualities along with details of the fishing gear and explanations of how fish were caught and marketed The conditions under which fishermen worked and lived are also described and a way of life now gone forever is brought vividly to life Few written records were kept and the author used many first hand accounts told to him by the old men who had experienced the arduous way of life of eighty and more years ago Volume One includes all the craft originating from the north of Scotland down the East Coast to the Thames Estuary Volume two covers the coastline from Kent to Cornwall and up the west coast of England to Scotland Illustrated with over 120 evocative black and white photographs and more than 150 line drawings and plans the new edition of this wonderful work will be welcomed by ship modellers traditional boat enthusiasts and those with an interest in the arcane world of the fisherman now lost forever Inshore Craft of Great Britain Edgar J.
